ARBITRATION OFF

RAILMEN CALLED TO WHITE HOUSE

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Secretary Tumulty tonight gave out the following message from President Wilson to the chairman of the conference committee of managers and to the heads of the four railway brotherhoods:

"I have learned with surprise and with keen disappointment that an agreement concerning the settlement of the matters in controversy between the railways and their employes has proved impossible.

"A general strike on the railways would at any time have a most far reaching and injurious effect on the country. At this time the effect might be disastrous.

"I feel that I have the right, therefore, to request, and I do hereby request, as the head of the government, that before any final decision is arrived at I may have a personal conference with you here. I shall hold myself ready to meet you at any time you may be able to reach Washington."

AUSTRIAN LINE CAVES IN; TRAP SET BY SLAVS

Von Bothmer in Full Retreat from Stripa Front as Russ Close In.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 13.—The Austrian lines along the Stripa, which they have held since early in September, have crumbled and Gen. von Bothmer is in full retreat along the whole front, according to the latest information received by the Russian general staff.

Gen. von Bothmer's position has been regarded as untenable for days. Gen. Letchitzky is advancing far in the rear of Von Bothmer's right flank, while Gen. Scherbatchoff is closing in on his left. The Austrian commander is apparently making an attempt to escape the Russian trap by taking up a position on a line running through Zlochoff, Pomorzany, Brzezany to Halicz, roughly twenty miles to the west of his old lines before Tarnopol and Buczacz.

HALICZ IN PERIL.

The Russians have successfully negotiated the last natural obstacle between them and Halicz, namely, the Bystritza river, which empties into the Dniester eight miles to the south.

Gen. Scherbatchoff has already thrown a large force across the Zlota Lipa, approaching Halicz from the southeast. The occupation of Yezerno on the Tarnopol-Lemberg railroad and a group of towns to the south of that point threatens Von Bothmer's communications with the Austro-German armies defending Lemberg on the Brody line, and appears to have been the last blow to the defense of the Stripa.

The capture of Nadvorna strengthens the left wing of Gen. Letchitzky, and completes the isolation of the Austrian army in southern Galicia. The Austrians were endeavoring to reorganize this army for the defense of the Pruth.

Since the first of August the Russian armies under Gen. Brussiloff have taken [illegible] prisoners.

RUSSIAN WAR REPORT.

The statement follows:

In the region of Novogrudok, Gorodische, and Stolbcy enemy aeroplanes flew over our positions. They dropped ten bombs on the dressing station hospital in the village of Adamov, to the west of the town of Mir. A German aeroplane which appeared over the town of Nesvij was attacked by our aviator, Staff Capt. Kruten, and brought down after a brief fight. We captured the machine and its occupants.

On the upper Sereth the troops of Gen. Sakharoff, developing their success, drove off the enemy from a series of fortified positions and reached the lines of the villages of Zvyjen, Oleuv, Bzovica, and Bialkovce. Our breaking through on the River Stripa forced the enemy to abandon strongly fortified positions.

ADVANCE ON LEMBERG KEY.

Pursuing the enemy the troops of Gen. Scherbatchoff captured the town of Ezerna, and, continuing to advance to the west along the whole front, reached the upper Sereth from the village of Plavucna Velska up to Plotyche, where they are crossing to the western bank.

To the south of Plotyche we reached the line of the villages of Loboda, Zlota and Uvse, and arrived before the town of Podgiacy and the Letter Carriers Hasten to Aid of "Fired" Soldiers

Order to Dismiss Mail Men on Border Rouses Ire in Chicago.

Chicago letter carriers, incensed at the notice by the postoffice department that it will strike the names of national guard members from the department payroll, yesterday took action to protect the members now on the border and their families.

Branch 11 of the Letter Carriers' association, which includes in its membership practically every man engaged in that work in Chicago, a total of more than 2,500, met at headquarters, 19 West Adams street. President J. J. Hoppe, Secretary J. W. Murray, and International Secretary Charles Duffy were among officials present.

Condemn Department's Action.

Resolutions were adopted condemning the proposed dismissal by the postmaster general of carriers serving under the colors on the border. With these was incorporated immediate action for relief of members and their families from the association treasury. It is expected similar action will be taken by branches in all parts of the country.

The Chicago association has nearly fifty members on the border. Since the militia was called out the organization has waived dues for guard members who asked it. This course was confirmed by the meeting and extended to include those who now find themselves without a job. Dues of each member amount to $6 a year.

Other expenses will be assumed by the association for such members, including premiums on life insurance carried in the association. One officer estimated last night that this will cost the association about $500 by Oct. 1.

Families to Get Aid.

Families of members in financial need will be cared for by the association under its rules for the handling of benefits. Four families are receiving such aid now. It will be necessary for each family to show the need of such aid before it is extended.

Some doubt as to the number of such families who will need aid exists, because the war department has apparently ruled that guard members with dependent families may return to their duties.

DR. GAIRDNER TO ARRIVE IN TOWN TODAY

Indisposed Pastor, Accompanied by Vestryman, Leaves Detroit.

BY THE REV. W. B. NORTON.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—"I am innocent," is what the Rev. R. H. Fortesque Gairdner gave as his message to the world just before he took the train for Chicago accompanied by Herbert P. Hand, one of his vestrymen. He made his statement in answer to the question, "Have you any message to the public you would like to have published as coming from you?"

The question was pressed further and he was asked if he meant by his declaration of innocence he had not been drinking or keeping company with women.

"That is what I mean," he replied. "The stories told about me are false."

NO CONFESSION EXPECTED.

Dr. Gairdner's declaration of innocence would seem to indicate there would be no confession of wrongdoing when he gets among his friends in Chicago.

Mr. Hand arrived in Detroit this morning and remained with his pastor all day. In order to avoid further publicity Mr. Hand took his pastor from the Stevenson hotel, where he had been staying since last evening, to the Clary hotel. The day was spent quietly. Dr. Gairdner reclined on his couch most of the time.

GOING HOME TO FRIENDS.

Dr. Gairdner was assured by Mr. Hand he was going home to friends who would receive him without criticism and would give him an opportunity to recover from what Mr. Hand and other members of the vestry believe was the result of a previous nervous breakdown, beginning at the period when the pastor first sought to help the young woman then known as Anna Stearns, later as Agnes Russell and now as Mrs. Anna McCarthy.

"What Dr. Gairdner needs is complete rest," said Mr. Hand. "He will not be asked to preach perhaps for a long time. We don't intend to put our pastor through any catechism before the vestry, at least for the present. We will call a meeting of the vestry tomorrow night and will prepare a statement which we will give to the press.

TO IGNORE DRINKING CHARGES.

"I have not asked Dr. Gairdner whether he has been guilty of the things with which he is charged. We prefer to take him on the record of his eight years as rector of St. Martin's church, in which he hitherto lived an exemplary life, and to overlook, at least for the present, any false steps he has made.

"Dr. Gairdner is a man who would help anybody who had need, even if he had to borrow the money to do so and whether the person was or was not worthy of help. He paid for the release of the Stearns girl in Chicago in just that way. The charges of drinking made against Dr. Gairdner will be ignored.

"If his relations with women have been wrong, that cannot be so easily overlooked, but for the present we will let these matters pass until he has fully recovered, mentally and physically, from the shock he has received. We do not regard him as wholly responsible for his conduct."

MR. SCHNEIDER EXPLAINS.

GREAT NORTH CAROLINA DAM BURSTS; WARNING OF FLOOD.

Giant Wall of Water from Lake Toxaway Rushes Down Valley Toward Chuga River.

Asheville, N. C., Aug. 13.—The great dam at Lake Toxaway, weakened by the recent floods, broke this evening, sending a great wall of water down the valley toward western South Carolina. No lives had been reported lost late tonight and warnings are believed to have enabled most persons in the path of the flood to reach safety.

The lake, an artificial body of water covering 550 acres and an average depth of thirty feet, was reported almost entirely drained. The dam, an eighth of a mile long and fifty feet high, was completely destroyed. The town of Lake Toxaway suffered only minor damage.

The released waters tonight were rushing through the Toxaway river valley, a comparatively uninhabited section, towards the Chuga river in South Carolina. Anderson, Walhalla, Pickens, and Seneca counties comprised the territory immediately threatened and warnings were telephoned to all places that could be reached.

It was estimated that the flood would not reach Seneca before early tomorrow and persons familiar with the territory believe the waters will spread out over the uninhabited country immediately south of Lake Toxaway and thus minimize the possibility of extensive damage.

The waters ultimately will flow into the Savannah river through its various tributaries in western South Carolina.

WIRE OFFICIAL'S WIFE LOSES LIFE

Mrs. Charles R. Putnam, wife of the superintendent of the American Steel and Wire company's plant at Waukegan, was almost instantly killed last evening when a Chicago and Milwaukee electric car struck an automobile in which she was driving with her husband.

Mr. Putnam, who is widely known in the steel industry, was badly injured, as was the owner of the car, H. H. Beach, a Waukegan garage proprietor.

At Grade Crossing.

The accident occurred shortly before 8 o clock at a grade crossing just south of the naval training station at Great Lakes. The Putnams, as was their custom, had started out for a Sunday evening drive and had been riding south along a road which parallels the tracks of the electric railway.

They had turned west to reach the Green Bay road and in doing so passed through a deep cut which obstructed their view of the tracks. As they reached the crossing a southbound car, speeding at fifty miles an hour struck the tonneau squarely and flung the machine to one side. Motorman E. Murphy said he did not see the Putnam automobile even in time to apply his brakes.

Surgeon Finds Her Dead.

Dr. Sullivan, staff physician at the training station, was summoned, but Mrs. Putnam was dead when he arrived. The injured men were taken to the Jane McAllister hospital in Waukegan.

HASN'T CHOSEN EASY PATH, ROCKEFELLER ASSERTS

Did What Was Right, Even When It Was Difficult, He Says After Hearing Sermon.

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—John D. Rockefeller does not always follow the easiest way. Often he chooses the more difficult of two paths because he believes the one he elects is in the line of duty, he said today, after listening to a sermon by Dr. Johnstone Myers at the Euclid Avenue Baptist church.

Talking on the subject "Why Men Fail," Dr. Myers said that Moses was offered riches and a life of ease, but decided that he would come closer to God by following a more difficult road. By doing so he eventually achieved success, the pastor declared.

"I have been confronted several times in my career with a similar situation," Mr. Rockefeller said after the service. "My decision has been based on what I thought was my duty. I think I have done right."

MEETING WITH WILSON LAST HOPE OF PEACE

Both Sides Agree to Enter Into Conference in Capital.

TODAY MAY SEE BREAK

New York, Aug. 13.—(Special.)—A general strike on virtually all the railroads of the nation, paralyzing commerce and throwing approximately 2,000,000 men out of employment, can be averted only through the good offices of President Wilson, as a result of today's developments in the dispute over the men's demands for an eight hour day and time and a half for overtime.

The controversy was laid before the president, at his invitation, after the workers had flatly rejected any form of arbitration. They refused mediation yesterday.

Both Sides Start Trip to Capital.

President Wilson invited both sides, first by telegram and then by letter, to appear at the White House tomorrow.

The telegram was delivered by the United States board of mediation and conciliation, and each side at once accepted the invitation.

Both parties departed at once for Washington. The chiefs of the four brotherhoods were accompanied by thirty subchiefs. They went on the same train as the nineteen representatives of the railroads. It will be possible to hold the conference early tomorrow.

Invitation Follows Arbitration Refusal.

The president's invitation followed a dispatch to him from the United States board of mediation, stating that both mediation and arbitration had been rejected by the brotherhoods' delegates and only presidential intercession would prevent an immediate order to strike.

The president was asked also by the mediation board to forward by Secretary Tumulty, who came to New York today, signed credentials for that body, showing they were authorized to act for the president in extending the invitation to a White House conference. This precaution was taken because the board had heard the men would question its authority. This they did not do, and a telegram was sent to Washington countermanding the credentials, but Mr. Tumulty had started. He will take the credentials back to Washington unused.

All Preparations For Strike Complete.

It was said at the brotherhood headquarters tonight that a general strike would not last long enough to cause a shortage in food and cash, and, anyway, the men are disposed to see to it that mail service is not interfered with.

As previously announced, all the strike preparations are complete, and meanwhile wait on the result of today's meeting at the White House. If that fails, the strike is scheduled to come by the end of this week.

An official of the United States board of mediation and concilia-

MEDIATORS TELL DEFEAT OF PLAN TO AVOID STRIKE

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The statement of the federal board of mediation explaining the failure to restore peace between the railroads and their employes, issued by Martin A. Knapp, chairman of the board, just before their departure for Washington, follows:

"After repeated efforts to bring about an arbitration of the pending controversy between the railroads and their employes in train and yard service the United States board of mediation and conciliation today was advised by the representatives of the employes that they would not submit the matters in dispute to arbitration in any form.

"The employes further stated to the board that they would not arbitrate their own demands, even if the contingent demands of the railroads were withdrawn, and also declined to suggest any other plan or method for a peaceful settlement of the controversy.

"They were informed that their decision would be at once made known to President Wilson and also that the president claimed the right to a personal interview with both parties before any drastic action was taken. This request was, of course, granted, and a large delegation of employes, with a number of railroad managers, will be in Washington Monday for a conference with the president.

"Early in the negotiations the railroads had informed the board of mediation and conciliation that they would accept arbitration."

WHITE HOUSE MEETING THE LAST HOPE OF RAIL PEACE

tion, who would not allow his name to be used, said tonight that if the trainmen refused mediation and arbitration at tomorrow's conference at the White House President Wilson may take drastic action to prevent a paralysis of traffic by a nation-wide strike, involving as it would a stoppage of the transportation of mails, milk, coal, and other necessities.

This official added that the president and the government have the power to do, and the president is disposed to do, what President Cleveland threatened to do in 1894—take temporary possession of the railroads and man enough trains to move the mails and food. At that time President Cleveland said:

"If it takes all the gold in the treasury and all the soldiers in the army to deliver a postcard in San Francisco, the postcard will be delivered."

In an emergency, the official said, the national guard and the federal troops could be used to operate trains, and any government employes could be required to do so.

BELIEVES PRESIDENT FAIR.

Grand Chief Garretson who will be the spokesman for the brotherhoods' committee at the White House said tonight:

"The rank and file of the four organizations are kindly disposed toward the president. There is no hostility toward him, and I feel sure that he, with his clean, clear, analytical mind, will get at the heart of this dispute in short order. We can well afford to lay our case before him.

"I will not bother the president with the technical details of the controversy. I will acquaint him with the protracted opportunity the railroads had to meet our proposals, and I will tell him that the roads, instead of so doing, lay back, apparently indifferent, unmindful of the fact that indifference breeds contempt.

SAYS ROADS MUST RECEDE.

"It will be my duty as spokesman for the four brotherhoods to say to President Wilson that the situation has now reached a point where the railroad managers will have to recede so that their offer of mediation will have some point.

"I will make it plain that, though the railroads are now seeking to mediate it is we who always have been calling for a conference to settle our grievances directly with the managers and never could get one."

WORKERS SPURN OFFER.

The final efforts at arbitration began at 10 o'clock this morning when the federal mediators, W. S. Chambers, Martin A. Knapp, and W. W. Hanger visited Webster hall in East Eleventh street and informed the brotherhoods' executives and delegates that the railroad managers, headed by Elisha Lee, had at last made what the mediators called a definite proposal for arbitration.

This proposal, including as it did the roads' own counter proposal eliminating "arbitration" and other forms of so-called double compensation for the same time and service, was at once rejected by the delegates.

PUT CASE UP TO WILSON.

The delegates also declined, according to the mediators, to arbitrate even if the counter proposal was withdrawn, holding that the demand for an eight hour day, with penalization of overtime, was a basic demand not amenable to arbitration.

The mediators then gave notice they would at once lay the situation before the president and would return to the meeting at 3 p. m. When they came back they presented the president's invitation.

RADICALS DEMAND STRIKE.

Though no criticism of the president was made, several of the leaders of the employés protested against further delay in ordering the strike. They asserted that all the president could do would be to urge arbitration, whereas the brotherhoods already were on record against arbitrating their present demands.

Grand Chiefs Garretson, Stone, W. G. Lee, and Carter said it was a courtesy due to the president to appear at the White House.

Then the radicals urged that arrangements for a strike be carried forward without regard to the White House conference. To this the answer was made that such arrangements already had gone forward to a point where there will be a minimum of delay in carrying a strike and tie up into full effect whenever they are ordered by the executives.

The strike, it was stated, would take effect at the same time in every part of the United States, probably without warning either to the railroads or the public.

EACH SIDE BLAMES OTHER.

Each side continues to blame the other for the crisis. The men assert they refused arbitration because the railroads insisted on arbitrating their "contingent proposition."

The chief objection of the men to arbitrating the railroads' contingent proposition lay in their contention that the proposal entailed the wiping out of double compensation features which the men have gained during thirty years of effort. The railroads have contended that double compensation, together with the demands of the men, if granted, would increase the wages of many of their employés more than 100 per cent.

Elisha Lee, chairman of the conference committee of railroad managers, declined to discuss the crisis other than to say that the railroads had proposed first, mediation, and then arbitration without success. He placed the responsibility for the failure of the mediators upon the men.

UNION VIEW OF SITUATION.

Grand Chief Garretson summarized the situation, as viewed by the employés, as follows:

"The federal mediators brought to us this forenoon a proposal from the national conference committee of the railways to arbitrate 'all pending differences,' which meant that they were willing to arbitrate only in case their so-called counter proposal eliminating 'arbitraries' was included with our demand for an eight hour day and time and a half for overtime.

"Our answer to that proposal was that inasmuch as our own demands had been before them for many months without their having made, directly or indirectly, a definite proposal of their own looking toward a settlement, even through the mediators whom they had invoked, we would not consent to arbitrate the railroad managers' proposal.

FEEL FREE TO STRIKE.

"We added that, unless the national conference committee of the railways was prepared to make some definite proposal, we should consider ourselves at liberty to proceed, in accordance with the methods of the brotherhoods, to effect a settlement of the points of contention between us.

"By that we mean that we would feel free, if need be, to withdraw our men from the service of the companies.

"Thereupon the mediators presented to us a request from the president of the United States, with a statement from the mediators that they were officially authorized to communicate to us the desire of the president for a conference with both sides before a final break should take place.

"We notified the mediators that the four executives of the brotherhoods, accompanied by a representative committee of the men, will be in Washington tomorrow, at the disposal of the president for the purpose needed."

W. G. Lee, chief of the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen, made public official figures of the strike vote polled on June 16. A total of 128,812 votes were cast for a strike and 4,350 against it.

WILSON CLOSE TO SITUATION.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Since the railroad strike situation became threatening, President Wilson has been in close touch with developments and has used every available agency of the federal government to bring the two factions together.

He has taken no stand on the merits of the controversy, however, and it is not expected that he will do so at the conference tomorrow. It is understood he will reiterate the arguments set forth in the communication delivered in New York tonight and will emphasize the far-reaching effect a strike would have on the whole country.

The president is said to feel that regardless of the points at issue, a way still can be found for settlement without a strike and the disturbance to other industries and inconveniece to the general public which would result. Whether he will suggest any new form of mediation, now that government agencies have been exhausted, was not known tonight, but it was said he was ready to go to great lengths in order to avert an actual break.

The possibility that the interstate commerce commission may grant a further increase in rates of the carriers in order to meet the heavy increase in operating expenses which would be entailed if the railroads should grant the demands of the brotherhoods is being discussed.

Found Dead in Bed.

Edward Behnke of 1223 West Van Buren street, a teamster, was found dead in bed yesterday. It is believed he died of an internal hemorrhage.

THE DEMANDS

OF THE MEN	OF THE RAILROADS
That 100 miles or less or eight hours or less shall constitute a day for all men in the freight service. That all overtime be paid for at the rate of one and a half times the regular rate. (At present ten hours constitutes a day and overtime is paid for at the regular rate.)	Abolition of all special rules by which the men are now paid for any work other than the specific running of a freight train. Reduction of wage scale to so many dollars for so many hours' work. Concede eight hour day but refuse time and a half for overtime.

The railroads argue that such a punitive wage scale as time and a half for overtime cannot be considered because of the limitations set upon railroad revenues by the interstate commerce rates on freight. The employes, on their side, admit that time and a half for overtime is punitive and is demanded so that they will not be worked over an eight hour day.

Press of New York City on the Outlook for a Railroad Strike

New York, Aug. 14, 3 a. m.—[Special.]—Following are extracts from articles on the likelihood of a general railroad strike, printed in various New York newspapers:

ALL TO BE CALLED OUT, SAYS TIMES.

The defiant conference committee of the railways and the defiant leaders of the four big railway brotherhoods left New York for Washington at midnight tonight in answer to a summons to the White House from President Wilson after the labor leaders had told the United States board of mediation and conciliation flatly that they would arbitrate nothing and were about to order a national strike to stop every train, passenger and freight, on the 225 railways systems of the United States.

While the demands for the eight hour day and time and a half for overtime are made only on behalf of the freight engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen, the brotherhoods, if a strike is declared, will call out both freight and passenger workers.

CONGRESS MAY ACT: HERALD.

The United States is on the verge of the greatest strike in its history.

The belief was expressed that President Wilson would utilize at the conference tomorrow every possible pressure to get the railroad employés to submit to some form of arbitration. It was even hinted that special legislation covering the particular phases of the questions at issue might be hastened through congress to fit the situation and bring about adjustment of the difficulties.

TRIBUNE SAYS WILSON IS READY.

The seriousness of the crisis that the whole country faces became more apparent than ever. It showed itself plainly in the worried faces of the mediators when their final pleas to the railroad men met grim, firm determination. It could be read between the lines of the statement that told of their failure.

It was evident in the whispered opinions of their managers, who frankly expect a strike. Most of all, it is spoken out clearly in the words of Austin B. Garretson, president of the Brotherhood of Railway Conductors and spokesman for the union:

"Unless the president of the United States is able to find a road out," said the middle western labor chief, who has taken a commanding position among the union leaders, "this means just what you said—strike."

"GLEAM OF HOPE," SAYS AMERICAN.

In spite of the unions' attitude, which met no indication of yielding by the railway managers, there was just a gleam of hope tonight of a way out without a nation wide strike. This came from the unions' side.

"They might be willing to arbitrate if they felt they would get a square deal," said one of the delegates. "For instance, if the president would fix up an arbitration board that would include our grand chiefs or some one who could understand our position and fight for it—but we don't want the kind of arbitration we got in the western railways dispute."

NO PREPARATION FOR STRIKE, RAIL PRESIDENT SAYS

Alton Head Asserts He Knows of No Steps for U. S. Receivership.

HOW CHICAGO WOULD SUFFER FROM STRIKE

CHICAGO, because of its commanding situation as the center of American industry, will be hardest hit of the cities in the event of a general railway strike. Here are some estimates:

Railroad men idle	100,000
Daily incoming freight cars	15,000
Chicago railroads	39
Chicago railway mileage	91,627
Rail yards idle	100
Freight stations	315
Belt lines (miles)	1,400
Milk stopped (quarts)	1,300,000

1894 Strike Figures.

Business loss	$28,000,000
Duration (days)	40

America is not prepared for the calamity of a general railroad strike, and, according to W. G. Bierd, president of the Chicago and Alton, no line in the United States has taken steps against such a contingency.

Mr. Bierd was asked if he knew of any movement on the part of the roads to ask for federal receivership and thus obtain the protection of the government.

"I have never heard of such a thing," he replied. "If there is such a project it never has reached me. Personally, I am certain nothing of the sort will even be contemplated.

None Prepared for Strike.

"I do not believe that any railway in the United States has prepared for a strike. I do not mean that there will be no strike. I am of the opinion there will be a settlement, but my opinion does not obviate the possibility of a tieup.

"It will rest largely with the president. The trainmen have agreed to hear Mr. Wilson and I believe his word will have great weight.

"There are so many things to consider in such a situation that there is little to do by way of preparation. None of the roads is prepared for a strike, for all of them are working to head off such a contingency."

Cities Hard Hit First.

A general railroad strike such as now threatens would produce a situation without a parallel in the history of the United States.

Residents of the big cities would suffer first and most. From the first day there would be hardships resulting from an almost complete cutting off of the fresh food supply. Within a short time almost every conceivable kind of industry would be paralyzed because coal could not be obtained to furnish power.

Less important, but even more baffling on the surface to a people that depends on its railroads for nearly everything, would be the thousand and one inconveniences that no one thinks of as possible until they appear. Mail service might be crippled and for the most part stopped.

Chicago Hard Hit.

Chicago, as the greatest railroad center of the continent, would feel the strike more keenly, perhaps, than any other city. More than 30,000 cars of freight pass through Chicago every day. The confusion, should these be left at a standstill for any considerable length of time, would be indescribable. The holding up of their contents would affect the entire nation.

Chicago is the terminal of thirty-nine railroads, having a total mileage of 91,627 miles, or more than 40 per cent of the entire mileage of the United States. Fourteen hundred miles of belt lines encircle the city—one-third of the belt line mileage of the country. There are more than 100 railway yards and 315 freight receiving stations.

The operation of all of these would be paralyzed.

500 Cars of Ice Daily.

Some 500 of the cars which enter the city each day are loaded with ice, which constitutes more than three-fourths of the total available supply. The artificial ice plants, it is said, cannot produce a quarter of the city's present daily consumption.

More than 90 per cent of the city's milk supply comes into the city on trains from stations with a 100 mile radius. Every day Chicago uses about 1,300,000 quarts of milk. With milk and ice cut off at the start, the hardships would strike the children first.

STRIKE OF '94 COST 12 LIVES; LOSS $7,000,000

Pullman Walkout and Later Violence Recalled by Present Peril.

Chicago's most vivid memory of a railroad strike is that of the spectacular affair of 1894, the worst in the history of the city.

This strike was not directed originally at the railroads, but at the Pullman company. With the close of the world's fair and the business depression that followed the big car building concern south of the city found itself compelled to reduce its working force from about 4,500 to less than 1,100.

Early in the winter of 1893-'94, however, a number of contracts were obtained and the force was enlarged again until nearly 4,000 men were on the payroll. The employés found, however, that wages had been reduced about 33 1-3 per cent.

On May 10 the men held a secret meeting and voted to strike on the 12th. Company officials heard of the meeting and arranged to close the works at noon on the 11th. The men in turn heard of this and walked out.

Debs Takes the Lead.

A month later the American Railway union held a national convention in Chicago, presided over by Eugene V. Debs. A special committee was appointed to confer with the Pullman officials about the strike, but was told the company had "nothing to arbitrate." Thereupon the union served notice of a boycott, to take effect June 26 and to be directed at all roads using Pullman cars.

The railroads promptly announced that they would resist the boycott.

Thus began the great strike that cost the lives of twelve men killed in riots, precipitated a controversy between Gov. Altgeld and President Cleveland as to the use of federal troops in Chicago and involved a loss to all concerned of more than $7,000,000.

Regulars Ordered Out.

On July 2 the problem was discussed at a special cabinet meeting in Washington, and the next day the regulars at Fort Sheridan were ordered to Chicago. Fighting with the mobs became general throughout that part of the city south of Forty-seventh street. The first blood was shed on the 5th.

It was on that day that Gov. Altgeld sent his first letter to the president protesting against the calling out of federal troops. President Cleveland replied that he was only doing what the situation demanded, and throughout the controversy he remained firm.

All the time the mobs were burning cars and destroying other railroad property. July 7 was the day of the memorable riot at Forty-ninth and Loomis streets, when the militia, which had been called out in the meantime, fired on the mob, killing two and fatally injuring several others. President Cleveland issued a proclamation the following day calling on the citizens of Chicago to keep the peace and warning them of the consequences should they disregarded his pronouncement.

The end of the strike was in sight nevertheless. The Pullman repair shops opened Aug. 2 and 300 men went back to work. On the railroads the situation rapidly returned to normal conditions and by the time Debs' trial was over, in September, the disturbance had passed.

FOUR FAT YEARS FOR "POOR KIN" OF DEMOCRATS

Republicans at Washington Amplify Hughes Attack on Nepotism Evil.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Mr. Hughes' criticism of the administration's raids on the civil service and upon the character of its appointments is to be amplified by other Republican orators during the next few weeks, when they take up or discussion the "poor relations" of the Democracy.

The Republican politicians allege that never in the history of this country has nepotism been so rampant as under the present administration. One senator, after making a hasty survey of the situation, tonight gave out a partial list of relatives of prominent Democrats who hold good appointive jobs. This senator contends that these were appointed, not on merit, but through "pull."

BRYAN APPOINTS SON.

His list begins with the cabinet. When William J. Bryan was secretary of state he had his son appointed to a position in the department of justice and his son-in-law to a position in the treasury deparment.

Secretary of the Treasury McAdoo, the president's son-in-law, on coming to Washington put two of his sons on the government pay roll at fat salaries, oe in the department of justice and the other in the department of commerce.

DANIELS' BROTHERLY ACT.

Secretary of the Navy Daniels turned to the department of justice for a place for his brother.

Daniel C. Roper, who resigned only two weeks ago as first assistant postmaster general, at one time had three members of his family on the pay roll.

U. Grant Smith was private secretary to William C. Redfield when Redfield was a congressman from New York. U. Grant Smith is now private secretary to Secretary of Commerce Redfield, which is considered reasonable. But Smith keeps his family well supplied with government jobs. He has one son on the house rolls as a page and a son-in-law as a special agent of the department of commerce. Until recently his brother-in-law had a position with the federal trade commission.

CLARK'S BOY IS "IN."

Turning to Democrats in congress, Speaker Clark's son, still in his twenties, holds the $4,000 position of parliamentarian. Young Clark obtained this position before he finished his law studies. He was elected by the Democratic majority, but the cynical Republicans believe he would not have been selected but for the fact his father is speaker and wanted him chosen.

Turning to the senate, Vice President Marshall escapes criticism, but numerous Democratic senators have taken care of their relatives. Senator Overman of North Carolina has a son in a $2,500 job and a daughter in a $1,440 job. A brother-in-law of Senator Kern of Indiana has a place in the senate document room.

GORE'S FAMILY FIXED.

The wife and brother of Senator Gore of Oklahoma are on the senate pay roll. A brother of Senator Martin of Virginia is assistant clerk to his committee. A son of Senator Vardaman of Mississippi is assistant clerk to his committee, while a son of Senator Chamberlain of Oregon is a messenger to his father's committee. The son-in-law of Senator Lane of Oregon is his private secretary.

Senator Thompson of Kansas has his son on the roll, and a brother of the late Senator Shively of Indiana only recently lost a position given him by the senator a number of years ago. A cousin of Senator Saulsbury of Delaware was given a political position on the trade commission and later covered into the civil service by the president. A son of Senator Tillman of South Carolina is on the Alaska railroad commission.

The fattest job held by a relative of a senator is that of collector of the port of New York. Dudley Field Malone, the collector, is a son-in-law of Senator O'Gorman of New York.

NEPOTISM IN THE HOUSE.

As there are more Democrats in the house than in the senate, there are more relatives of statesmen on the rolls there. Illinois has three Democratic congressmen who have provided places for members of their families. Tavenner employs his sister-in-law as a stenographer. Stone's brother is a clerk in the house document room, and Sabath's nephew has a similar position.

Indiana Democrats in the house have taken good care of their families. Gray employed his sister as his secretary; Cullop has his stepson as his secretary; Cox, the most outspoken of all northern anti-civil service Democrats, has a brother who is a doorkeeper of the house. Morrison's son is his secretary.

South Sets the Pace.

The real nepotists of the house, however, are to be found among the southern Democrats. For a time Representative Pou of North Carolina had his son on the pay roll as a clerk to the committee on claims, drawing a salary of $1,600 a year. At the time young Pou was a student in the University of North Carolina. This situation was finally relieved as a result of pressure. Representative Johnson of South Carolina, before he was made a United States District court judge by President Wilson, got most of his family on the pay roll. One of his sons was put in the postoffice department, another on the house rolls. A nephew was made clerk to a house committee, and his campaign manager was put on the capitol police force.

Representative Finley of South Carolina has a son who is his secretary and another who is a clerk on the house roll. A daughter is in the government printing office. Representative Aiken of South Carolina employs his son as his secretary, and has his nephew in the sergeant-at-arms' office.

Clark Gets Three Jobs.

Representative Clark of Florida, the leading advocate of public buildings pork, employs two relatives on his committee at Uncle Sam's expense, and obtained a doorkeeper's position for his brother.

Representative Padgett, chairman of the naval affairs committee, employs his son as assistant clerk of the committee.

The son of Representative Burnett of Alabama is clerk to the committee on immigration, of which Burnett is chairman.

The son of Representative Carlin of Virginia is a clerk in the house judiciary committee and a student in Georgetown university. A nephew of Representative Shackleford of Missouri is clerk to the committee on roads.

A brother of Representative Lloyd is clerk to Lloyd's committee on accounts, which controls the disbursements of the house. At one time this Missouri statesman had five members of his family on the pay roll. His brother-in-law is now an assistant doorkeeper of the house.

The son of Representative Watkins of Louisiana is clerk to his father's committee on the revision of the laws.

His Wife His Secretary.

The wife of Representative Dies of Texas is Dies' secretary.

The son-in-law of Representative Candler of Mississippi is his secretary and also has a salary from the house as page. The son of Representative Alexander of Missouri is his secretary, as is the son of Representative Hardy of Texas.

The son of Representative Sparkman of Florida is clerk to his father's committee on rivers and harbors. The brother of Representative Fields of Kentucky is his secretary, and the father of Representative Barkley of Kentucky is one of the doorkeepers of the house.

The list might be extended ad infinitum, according to the Republicans, if a little time were devoted to it.

Ollie James Gets Cut of Pie.

A brother of Senator James has been appointed United States marshal in Kentucky; a brother of Congressman Howard has been given a job in the census bureau; the managing editor of Senator Lea's paper down in Tennessee has been given a $3,000 job on one of the innumerable commissions; a brother of former Chairman Davies of the trade commission has been given a job in the department of justice, and the son of Commissioner Parry of the trade commission is his secretary. A nephew of Senator Robinson is on the senate roll as a doorkeeper.

Senator Fletcher of Florida is understood to have no relatives on the pay roll now, but some months ago when the rural credit commission went abroad it was reported he took several members of his family along with him on the junket at the government's expense, giving them clerkships and other minor jobs.

And so on, and so on. Pretty nearly every Democrat one runs across in Washington either has some relative on the pay roll or is working to get one there.

POSSE PURSUES SUSPECT DRESSED LIKE O'BRIEN.

Proves Not to Be Youth Who Shot Miss Ida Torkelson on Road Near Lee, Ill.

Aurora, Ill., Aug. 13.—A pair of striped overalls and a cap gave a young farmer near Lee, Ill., a bad hour yesterday. His apparel, like that Guy O'Brien is supposed to be wearing, led to his seizure. It was thought he was the young Kendall county farmer who is now believed to be fleeing across country to escape capture and punishment for shooting his sweetheart, Ida Torkelson, last Wednesday.

Andrew Knudson saw the suspect and notified the village mayor, F. M. Maakested, who grabbed a bunch of men and went tearing off in a pursuing automobile. Acquaintances of O'Brien could find only a slight resemblance to him in the suspect, however.

Miss Torkelson had a bad day in the hospital at Morris, Ill. The Rev. O. Shazland, pastor of a Lutheran church in her home town, Newark, Ill., spent several hours with her.

"I know that Guy did wrong," she said to her pastor. "But he was not in his right mind or he wouldn't have done it. But still, I hope no harm comes to him."

Albert Spina U.S.N.

Yesterday Maj. Gen. Mrs. Frederick D. Countiss visited the rookie camp at Lake Geneva for the last time in civilian silks and laces. Today the coloneleases and majoresses and matron and other leaders of the third National Service school will arrive at the Lake Geneva camp. Tomorrow the grounds will be brown with the khaki of 150 soldiers girls, and the great feminine venture into military mysteries will be on.

Only about twenty tents were up yesterday, and twice as many have yet to be pitched. Col. Davidson, U. S. N., is having his hands full with the preparations. There are two company streets, electric lighted, with administration row at one end to head off any truant rookie from the lake, and the matron's tent to guard the rear.

To the east is the Red Cross unit, where the khakied fems will learn first aid and bandage making and get other instructions in antiseptic arts, while beyond the matron's canvas home lies the general tent, for lectures and study and what you will. A good deal of the studying will be done under the trees, however.

Two reg'lar U. S. N. cooks were busying themselves with their kitchen, which is to be in the academy administration building. They are Peackey Swartz, formerly of the Maryland, and Albert Spina, who was lord of the galley of the torpedo boat Warrington.

G. O. P. CLAIMS 300 VOTES OUT OF 531 FOR HUGHES.

Manager Willcox Calls Twenty-five States, Including Illinois and New York, Certain for Hughes.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—In his first statement on the political situation throughout the country, William R. Willcox, manager of Mr. Hughes' campaign, tonight claimed 300 electoral votes for his candidate. In addition, Mr. Willcox said the total probably would mount to 325, while only 266 are needed to elect.

The states which are claimed as certain for Hughes and Fairbanks are:

California	11	North Dakota	5
Connecticut	7	Ohio	24
Idaho	4	Oregon	5
Illinois	29	Pennsylvania	38
Iowa	13	Rhode Island	5
Kansas	10	South Dakota	5
Maine	6	Utah	4
Massachusetts	18	Vermont	4
Michigan	15	Washington	7
Minnesota	12	West Virginia	8
Montana	4	Delaware	3
New Jersey	14
New Hampshire	4	Total	300
New York	45

States which are regarded as doubtful at this time by the Republican leaders, but in which they will do a great deal of work with the expectation of carrying a number of them, are:

Arizona	3	New Mexico	3
Colorado	6	Oklahoma	10
Kentucky	13	Indiana	15
Maryland	8	Wisconsin	13
Missouri	18	Wyoming	3
Nebraska	8

"These eleven states," said Mr. Willcox, "have a total of 100 votes and while none of them has been placed as reasonably certain, several of them might well have been so placed. At any rate, I feel that a guess on twenty-five votes out of the 100 is, to say the least, conservative, and unless I prove to be a very poor guesser Hughes and Fairbanks will poll upwards of 325 out of the total of 531 electoral votes in November next."

BOMB HURLED AT TAXI FROM AUTO "MISSES FIRE."

Pedestrian Picks Up Explosive Device Under Yellow Cab After It Fails to Go Off.

An attempt to blow up a taxicab of the Yellow Cab company at Division and Robey streets failed last night when a bomb thrown under it failed to explode.

Three men in a black touring car drove past the taxicab. One of them stood up and hurled the bomb toward the cab, the driver of which was in a near by store.

A pedestrian, after the bomb had failed to explode, picked it up and turned it over to the police.

It was made of a piece of heavy iron pipe filled with powder and nails, and had a fuse attached. It had been put in a pasteboard candy box, which was wrapped in paper.

HUGHES TO TALK SUFFRAGE WITH WOMEN TODAY

Addresses Fair Voters of Spokane—Winning Favor with the Progressives.

BY CHARLES N. WHEELER.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Equal suffrage advocates may expect an important declaration from Hughes as he begins the second week of his fast stump campaign here tomorrow.

The first distinctively woman suffrage meeting of the tour will be held in the Auditorium theater in the afternoon. It is understood to be the presidential candidate's present intention to amplify his brief pronouncement for suffrage by the cross lots method of amending the federal constitution with a detailed statement of why he is thoroughly in sympathy with the proposition.

The American home, the position the wife occupies in such home, and woman's invasion in the commercial field likely will be his topics. He may discuss municipal housekeeping and hold that women can vote as intelligently on all those questions which affect the home life of the nation as the men, and in some cases more so.

West Impresses Him.

Hughes has been impressed deeply with conditions, economic and politically, in Montana, which has full suffrage. In all his speeches through the state he briefly reiterated his position on suffrage. He was a persistent questioner and is known to be strongly of the opinion that there has been a general moral uplift in government wherever the women of the west have made themselves a formidable factor at the ballot box.

Mrs. Hughes fits into tomorrow's program nicely. The women of the west have taken her into their councils. She is just the kind they seem to like most. She doesn't go into society and has frowned on all "big functions" in her honor.

She wants all the honors possible shown her illustrious husband, but she is content to meet the women without frills or ostentatious displays on her part or on her behalf. She is attractive in her democratic attitude. She does not affect showy attire, but prefers a plain, though good dress.

She is like her husband, affable, plain-spoken, and sincere, and has fascinated her sisters out here.

Will State Cases Today.

Tomorrow he is prepared, unless the program is changed, to devote himself to an exhaustive address on the subject and some ringing epigrams are confidently expected.

He faces a bitter factional situation in both Washington and Oregon, but it is not a strife opposed to him.

Party leaders from all sections of the state came in today and they report that while they are in a bad muddle locally there is no party division as to Hughes.

The big fight is over Senator Poindexter's nomination and the proposed modification of the dry law.

The reports made to Hughes today indicate that between 60 and 75 per cent of the Progressive vote is back in the Republican fold, or rather the Republicans and that number of Progressives are behind Hughes.

It was the big Progressive vote of four years ago that carried the state of Washington for Roosevelt by a plurality over Wilson of more than 26,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Hughes have enjoyed the days here. They went to church this morning and this afternoon took a long ride through the great apple orchards of the valley and into the mountains. Throughout the tours he has reserved Sundays for rest and churchgoing.

Has a Busy Day.

But the high speed program is back on the schedule in the morning. Besides receptions and a formal speech in the stadium tomorrow night, he will make a flying automobile trip into Idaho for both a luncheon reception and a speech at Couer D'Alene. He will depart tomorrow night for Tacoma and Seattle.

G. O. P. CHIEFS CHANGE PLANS

Committee Decides to Make No Indorsements for Congressmen at Large.

MASON HIT BY RULING.

The Republican "regulars" will make no committee indorsement for congressmen at large, and each ward committeeman, for his organization, will be empowered to mark his sample ballots for the candidate or candidates whom he prefers to support.

This was determined yesterday by the managing committee and announced formally by Homer K. Galpin, chairman of the Republican county committee.

Decision of Committee.

"The executive committee decided that the ward committeemen shall have the same right of naming candidates for the two nominations for congressmen at large as they have in designating their candidates for congressmen in the several districts and for the legislature. Accordingly the central organization and the executive committee will make no recommendations for congressmen at large, and each ward will mark its sample ballots at its own discretion."

The effect of this is to cancel the tentative indorsement that had been given to the candidacies of Medill McCormick and William E. Mason, indicated in the county slate that was agreed to within the executive committee, but not voted upon by the entire committee on Thursday.

Chiperfield in Protest.

Friends of Congressman at Large B. M. Chiperfield, notably Congressman Madden and others, protested strongly against the slating of Mason and the elimination of Chiperfield, and the case was reopened yesterday.

Under the new arrangement it is considered highly probably that practically all of the "neutral" committeemen in the regular organization will be for McCormick and many of them for Chiperfield. There is a disposition in the city hall wards to be for Mason. The policy announced by Chairman Galpin is said to be satisfactory to everybody except former Senator Mason's close friends.

PASTOR DEFENDS LYLE FROM CITY HALL ATTACK.

The Rev. R. Keene Ryan at Union Meeting in Englewood Urges United Action of Churches.

At a union meeting of churches, held in the Boulevard Masonic temple at Fifty-fifth and South Halsted streets, last night, Attorney John H. Lyle of the Englewood Law and Order league was upheld against Mayor William Hale Thompson and the civil service commission in the fight on Sunday saloons.

The Rev. R. Keene Ryan, pastor of the Garfield Boulevard church, introduced Mr. Lyle, who gave his version of his ousting from the civil service rooms when he atempted to give evidence on a number of saloons violating the Sunday closing law.

"Mayor Thompson and his votaries should be given to understand that they are not dealing with John H. Lyle, the individual," the Rev. Mr. Ryan said, "but with seventy-two strong, powerful churches joined in the Englewood Law and Order league, which Mr. Lyle represents.

"When the mayor of Chicago calls him names, impugns his motives, maligns his reputation and holds him up to scorn and ridicule, let us give the mayor to understand that he is dealing not with Lyle but with us."

NUTSHELL POLITICS

Jottings on National, State, and City Candidates and Events.

Secretary William J. Norton of the Hughes Alliance of Illinois in his weekly bulletin yesterday named ten new branches of the alliance formed in Illinois recently through the agency of Dr. C. M. Service and M. S. McMullen, field secretaries. This includes branches in Springfield, Peoria, Jacksonville, Decatur, Bloomington, and Alton. Local secretaries have been supplied with literature, which includes Raymond Robins' letter indorsing Mr. Hughes and a statement of Mr. Hughes' activities on labor matters while governor of New York.

Hull meetings for today in Chicago are scheduled as follows: Thirty-fourth ward headquarters, 3510 Ogden avenue; Thirty-second ward headquarters, 6742 South Halsted street; Seventh ward women's meeting, 6423 Greenwood avenue. The first two meetings will be held at 8 p. m. and the last at 2:30 p. m.

Fayette S. Munro, candidate for Republican nomination for attorney general, who begins his state tour tomorrow launched an attack on "corruption and inefficiency" in the state government. He asserted corrupt politicians purchase immunity by the election of a complacent easy going attorney general or public prosecutor, and said: "In my state campaign I am going to try to show the enormity of state waste and outline remedies."

Senator Logan Hay of Springfield thinks Senator Morton D. Hull has a walkaway in central Illinois. Mr Hay was at the Hull headquarters yesterday.

"In my section of the state," said Senator Hay, "the Hull cause has been growing and the Lowden cause has been losing in the last two or three weeks. The people down there like Hull's record in the legislature and they are opposed to the Lorimer influence which is backing Lowden."

Women politicians got into the Hull campaign in earnest yesterday under the name of the Republican Woman's Central organization, with headquarters in the Hull suite at the Morrison. Their field is Cook county, and all wards and country towns have been organized. Mrs John W. Blacklidge is president of the organization.

Col. Frank O. Lowden's headquarters received word that the Champaign County Republican club had indorsed Col. Lowden and expected to roll up a big majority for him. The information came from A. C. Parris, a Champaign and Urbana publisher and president of the club, which has a membership of nearly 600.

John C. Ames and others interested in the campaign for Col. Frank L. Smith were considerably wrought up over the Anti-Saloon league's indorsement of Hull. They object to the statement of the dry forces that no other candidate than Hull has stated his position on the county option matter, and point out that Smith lives in a dry town.

ADMITS SLAYING SALESMAN IN EFFORT TO ROB STORE.

Former Employe of O'Donnell Furniture Establishment Said to Have Confessed Beating Hess.

"Guile has told everything; in fact, he has given us enough information to convict him."

Lieut. P. T. McCauley of the South Clark street station made this announcement yesterday after he had again questioned Charles Guile of St. Louis, Mo., who is alleged to have beaten Joseph Hess, a salesman in Timothy S. O'Donnell's furniture store, 56 East Thirteenth street, to death in the store basement on Saturday.

SPECIAL SESSION TO GIVE SOLDIERS VOTE PROBABLE

Dunne Favors Plan to Ballot in Field—McCormick Sends Out Appeal.

Illinois soldiers now in the service of the United States will not lose their votes either at the Sept. 13 primary or at the November election if Gov. Dunne and the Illinois legislature, pulling together, can protect them.

Business begins actively this morning to put into operation the machinery of a special session of the general assembly for the express purpose of passing an emergency law whereby men now on the border shall not be deprived of their franchise because they have answered the call to duty.

Gov. Dunne, accompanied by Adjt. Gen. Frank S. Dickson, departed for the border yesterday. He will visit the infantry and artillery at San Antonio and the cavalry at Brownsville.

Gov. Dunne's Stand.

Before he left Springfield the question was put to him by THE TRIBUNE:

"What is to be done about the soldier vote?"

"I think the state of Illinois ought to do everything possible to protect our troops in service," Gov. Dunne said. "It is my judgment a special session of the legislature would be necessary to pass a law to enable the men to cast ballots in the field.

"I shall consider the matter of summoning such a session seriously and will be prepared to act when I return from the south."

McCormick to Send Out Pleas.

From the office of Representative Medill McCormick a special delivery letter will go today to each member of the senate and house of representatives asking that the legislator express formally a willingness to push through such a bill and asking Gov. Dunne to issue the necessary special session call.

It is figured that the expense of an extra session will be less than $10,000, at the outside. If there is whole hearted coöperation between the two houses and a genuine desire to pass a bill to permit the soldiers to vote, necessary legislation can be put through in five days and the members of the legislature need not be in Springfield for the record vote on final passage of the bill more than two actual days.

Seeks Sentiment of Camps.

Gov. Dunne said that while he is at the army camps he will catch the sentiment of officers and men on the proposition. From what the executive said, there is no doubt he will call a special session of the legislature as soon as he gets back from the border if there is any indication on the part of the members of the senate and house that they desire such a session.

When this position of the governor was ascertained the matter of getting the sentiment of the members of the legislature was investigated. Conversation with a dozen members indicated clearly that all partisan lines will be wiped out and there will be a practically unanimous sentiment among legislators for an extra session and quick passage of an enabling act.

CAUCUS O. K. ON MUNITIONS TAX OF TEN PER CENT

Senate Democrats Encounter Cotton Belt Row, but Compromise on Bill.

[BY A STAFF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—The caucus of the senate Democrats on the administration's new revenue bill nearly broke up in a riot today when southern Democrats attempted to prevent a tax on munitions because they thought it would hit cotton, which enters into the manufacture of war materials. The Democrcats worked today in order to hasten the adjournment of congress.

After a bitter wrangle, which for a time looked hopeless, the senators agreed to compromise temporarily on a tax of 10 per cent on profits accruing from the straightaway manufacture of munitions, and a tax of 5 per cent on net profits on goods which enter into the manufacture of munitions.

Lewis Moves to Kill It.

During the mêlée Senator Lewis of Illinois offered a motion to reject the entire bill and issue Panama canal bonds in sufficient quantities to carry the country over until after the election. The senator frankly stated the revenue bill is loaded with dynamite for the Democratic party and it would be safer to pass up the entire question until after the election.

This proposal found much support. Senators Underwood, Martine, Taggart, Hardwick, and others declared in favor of it. Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, made an appeal to Senator Lewis to withdraw the proposition, saying that it would be construed as an act of cowardice on the part of the Democratic majority in face of an election. Senators Williams and Thomas talked in the same vein.

Seek to Exempt Cotton.

When the senators from the cotton states made the discovery that the tax on materials that enter into the manufacture of munitions would hit cotton, Senator Underwood moved to strike out the tax on the materials, leaving the 10 per cent on munitions. At one time it appeared this would certainly prevail, but after Senator Simmons had appealed to the conference and proposed a substitute cutting the tax to 5 per cent the Underwood motion was lost by a vote of 20 to 15 and the Simmons substitute adopted. This surrender by the committee cut the estimated revenues about $4,500,000.

Tax Corporation Licenses.

Before the row on cotton started the caucus adopted an amendment offered by Senator Simmons, chairman of the finance committee, imposing a license tax on corporations in the United States amounting to 50 cents upon each $1,000 of paid up capital, surplus, and undivided profits, but providing an exemption up to $100,000. The tax is a substitute for the tax on banks, which was levied at $1 per thousand on capital, surplus, and undivided profits. The Simmons amendment extends the tax to all corporations and reduces it one-half.

In perfecting the income tax section, the caucus agreed to an amendment adjusting the increased surtaxes on incomes in excess of $500,000 as follows: On net income exceeding $500,000 but not exceeding $1,000,000, a tax of 10 per cent; exceeding $1,000,000 but not exceeding $1,500,000, 11 per cent; exceeding $1,500,000 but not exceeding $2,000,000, 12 per cent; exceeding $2,000,000, 13 per cent.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 13.—Gov. Edward F. Dunne, accompanied by Mrs. Dunne, Adjt. Gen. and Mrs. Frank S. Dickson, Col. James K. Finn, Col. M. R. Kelly, and Lieut. Col. Dunne and party go direct to San Antonio, where they will make an inspection of Illinois troops at Fort Sam Houston. They will also visit Brownsville before their return.

Miss Manora Mewshaw wants an education in music. She is 11 years old. There are not many things that a girl 11 years old can do to earn such an education except perhaps to furnish ideas. Hence she has provided an idea.

A few days ago she wrote a letter to THE TRIBUNE asking if there might not be some good, kind, rich person who would "adopt her mamma." Her mamma doesn't know anything about Manora's scheme, but Manora is very intent upon her pursuit.

Where, then, is the kind, rich person who will adopt Mrs. Mewshaw?

BULGARIAN REPORT CLAIMS ATTACKS BY ALLIES FAILED.

Official Statement Terms the Fighting Near Doiran Station "Mock Engagements."

SOFIA, via London, Aug. 13.—An official Bulgarian statement regarding the fighting on the Balkan front in the neighborhood of Doiran says that all attacks by the entente allies were repulsed and terms the fighting "mock engagements." The text of the statement follows:

> After a day long bombardment of our positions south and southwest of Doiran lake on Aug. 10 the enemy, under the protection of a similar bombardment, attacked our positions on the morning of the 11th. Our artillery dispersed the attacking parties, inflicting considerable loss by a curtain fire. Our guns then directed their fire against the enemy artillery, which was silenced.
> At 4 in the afternoon the enemy renewed the bombardment, but there was no infantry attack. All these actions were p[illegible] mock engagements. An enemy detachment attempted to capture a height northwest of the village of Panovo, but was repulsed by a counter attack. The enemy suffered losses.

ROW IN THE 7TH; OFFICERS ANGRY AT REPRIMAND

Furlong and McGillen Resign; Capt. Morgan Smith Sent to His Quarters.

San Antonio, Tex., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Friction between Col. Daniel Moriarty and a multiplicity of assertive egoes in the Seventh Illinois infantry warmed up an explosion in the command yesterday resulting in the resignation of two officers and the confinement of a third to quarters.

Capt. Arthur H. Furlong and Second Lieut. John Joseph McGillen of Company I, are the officers who resigned. Capt. Morgan Smith of Company D, was ordered to his quarters by Col. Moriarty and tonight had not been restored to grace.

None of the disgruntled officers will discuss the situation. Privates and noncommissioned officers declare Col. Moriarty bawled the three officers out before the regiment, following a misunderstanding of orders concerning a kitchen detail.

Blamed Upon Flies.

One of the contributory causes of the row is said to have been the candidly expressed opinion of regular army sanitary officers that the Seventh regiment was not tidy. The commissary department was criticised especially regarding the swarms of flies infesting it and the presence of active fly larvæ.

It is asserted on good authority that orders were issued that the Seventh could not accompany the First brigade on the march to Landa's park tomorrow unless it brought its camp to the sanitation standard demanded by the army.

The camp tonight was as clean as the hound's tooth, but in passing the buck at random a good many feelings had been bruised. Col. Moriarty denied forcefully that the Seventh had been forced to clean house under threat of being left behind. Officers of the Seventh place the blame for its family squabble on temperament grounds.

Needs Good Battle to Heal.

There is no lack of confidence in the soundness of the regiment at heart and several regular army officers have said that with one good battle to anneal the command it would be one of the finest fighting outfits in the country.

The First brigade will leave Camp Wilson at 6 o'clock tomorrow morning for Selma, which will be the first camp on the hike to Landa's park. The brigade has pasesd through its early school days and looks hard, fit, and competent to go any reasonable distance.

Ordered to Springfield.

The following men have been ordered to report at Springfield as recruiting details. They will be sent to Chicago from Springfield:

First regiment—Sergt. Jacob John, Machine Gun company; Corporals Charles Dawson, B company, and R. H. Presnell, H company; Privates Harold Magner, C company, and William G. Schultz, H company.

Second regiment—First Lieut. William Johnson, Sergt. Stephen J. Pryor; Corporals Elner Iverson and Henry McLean, and Private Otto Ichener.

Seventh regiment—Capt. Thomas P. Octigan, First Lieut. Martin Downey, Sergt. Peter McCabe, Private Joseph P. Murray.

Advance Under Heavy Fire.

On the rivers Bystritza-Nadvornaskol and Bystritza-Solotvina the construction of bridges and the passage of our troops to the western banks is going on continuously. The enemy is firing from the western bank of the river Bystritza-Solotvina at our positions and our troops which are crossing.

During these operations one of our infantry regiments captured twelve officers and 1,000 men and seven machine guns and one trench gun.

To the south of Delatyn, in the wooded region of the Carpathians, our advance near Voroksta-Magura and Jablonitsa continues. Here we consolidated positions on several heights. Attempts by the enemy to resume the offensive were repelled everywhere.

Russ Take 84,000 Captives.

In view of the great military importance attached to the capture today, Aug. 13, of the final remaining positions on the enemy's winter line of fortifications, the several armies are endeavoring to give details of prisoners and booty taken in the recent operations.

One corps of Gen. Sakharoff's troops took between Aug. 4 and 11 a total of 307 officers and 16,594 of the rank and file and captured four guns, 47 machine guns and 16 bomb mortars.

The troops of Gen. Scherbatchoff have taken, from June 5 up to the present time, 1,263 officers and 55,158 of the rank and file, and have captured 55 cannon, 211 machine guns, 29 bomb mortars and mine throwers and 128 limbers.

The troops of Gen. Letchitzky took from Aug. 1 to 10 a total of 171 officers and 10,450 of the rank and file and captured 9 guns and 77 machine guns.

BRITISH SEIZE MORE TRENCHES NORTH OF SOMME

German Positions Nearly Mile in Length Captured Close to Pozieres.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A further important advance by the British troops is announced in the official statement issued by the war office tonight.

German trenches northwest of Pozieres were captured on a front of nearly a mile and to a depth of 300 to 400 yards. The British also gained ground on the Martinpuich plateau.

At the same time the French made progress to the southeast of Maurepas, where they captured positions on the important Hill 109. German attacks in the Verdun region were repulsed.

British Official Report.

Following is the text of tonight's statement by the war office:

On the plateau northwest of Bazentin-le-Petit we gained ground toward Martinpuich and captured enemy trenches. Northwest of Pozieres we made a further important advance of 300 to 400 yards over a front of nearly a mile. Our losses were light in spite of a heavy barrage by the enemy's artillery.

Last night we carried out three successful raids on trenches of the enemy; the first southwest of La Folie farm, on Vimy ridge; the second opposite Calonne, and the third east of Armentieres.

The enemy attempted a raid near the Hohenzollern redoubt, which was repulsed.

Ready for New Attack.

[BY CABLE TO THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.]

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Another terrific blow having driven the French steel wedge further into the German line between Combles and Peronne, Gen. Fayolle's picked regiments are resting while reinforcements are consolidating the newly won positions and gradually bombing and bayonetting all of the enemy out.

The deep gash in the Germant front permits the French to assist the British when the time comes to attack Combles and Guillemont. The French infantry and artillery have drilled a broad, steel lined avenue leading deep into the enemy's territory.

Through this funnel, it is possible for the allies to pour troops enough to "mushroom" inside the German lines and cause a general withdrawal of Gen. von Buelow's forces if not the capture of huge forces and the Germans are unable to prevent the allies from driving the wedge deeper with further blows.

French Official Report.

The official report issued by the ministry of war said:

Minor combats enabled us to progress on the slopes of Hill 109, southeast of Maurepas. Artillery fighting continues violently in the sectors of Barleux and Chaulnes.

A German attack from the direction of Combles against the church and cemetery at Maurepas was stopped by our machine gun fire.

On the right bank of the Meuse [Verdun front] we have progressed slightly to the southeast of Fleury.

On the left bank of the Meuse a strong German attack on our lines south of Avocourt wood was stopped by our barrage fire and grenades.

One of the enemy's long range guns fired four large caliber shells in the direction of Nancy.

Ground Is Taken Quickly.

"The capture of the third line of the German defense from Hardecourt to the Somme was preceded by a bombardment so intense that for a radius of many miles the ground seemed to be shaken by an uninterrupted earthquake," says La Liberte's corerspondent in the north of France.

"In the trenches the infantry watched the formidable artillery preparations," the correspondent adds, "waiting patiently for the moment to rush to the assault. Finally the batteries suddenly ceased fire. Several blows on the whistle were given, and orders were passed along. A few seconds more and there was a tumult of confused forces and a shout of 'Forward.'

"Human forms surged from the black holes, running forward. The positions that the French captured, which were exceedingly strong, comprised two or three lines of trenches, according to their locality, and even four lines at some points.

Armored Forts Captured.

"Numerous works and armored forts and fortified redoubts composed this powerful organization, and it fell into the French hands, from one end to the other, in exactly one hour and twenty minutes. The French losses were much smaller than had been expected. At Maurepas they did not have 300 men disabled, and it was at this point of the summit plateau that the combat was hottest. The Germans hung on, defending the ground inch by inch, trying to cope with the French and hurriedly bringing up reinforcements.

"Their resistance was vain, however. The French, after furious hand to hand fighting, pushed forward and entered the village, which had been completely destroyed by the French shells. The French are continuing their progress and their possession of the entire village seems probable."

German Official Report.

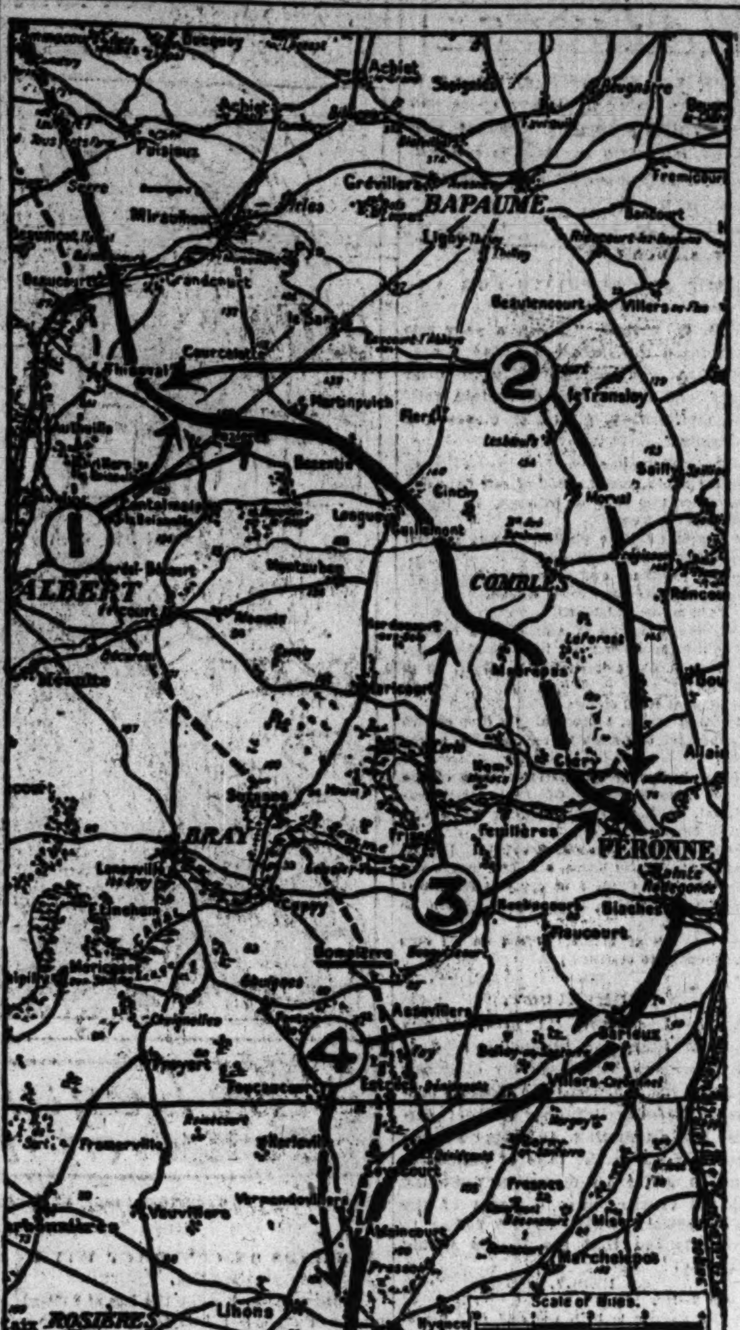
BERLIN, Aug. 13.—The official report issued by the general army headquarters today said:

Between Thiepval and the Somme our opponents combined their whole forces in the Ovillers-Pozieres sector in a united attack along the entire front. The attack between Thiepval and Guillemont broke down with the heaviest losses to the enemy. Further south, as far as the Somme, it came to heavy hand to hand fighting with French forces which attacked repeatedly. This fighting continued throughout the entire night, and near Maurepas and to the east of Hem it is still in progress.

Directly south of the Somme the French made an attack against Biaches, which broke down under our fire. On the remainder of the front there were no developments of importance.

North of Vermelles, near Combres and south of Lusse, our patrols took prisoners in the enemy's line.

THE BATTLE OF THE SOMME



1—London reports British gained ground toward Martinpuich, on plateau northwest of Bazentin-le-Petit, advancing their lines 300 to 400 yards on a front of nearly a mile northwest of Pozieres.

2—Berlin reports French and British hurled large masses of troops against line between Thiepval and the Somme north of the river. No gains or losses are reported.

3—Paris reported Saturday the French had taken by storm the German third line trenches north of the Somme, from Hardecourt to the river at Buscourt, a distance of three and three-quarters miles, for a depth of two-thirds of a mile. Village of Maurepas has been penetrated and 1,000 prisoners and thirty machine guns taken. Paris reported yesterday French made further progress southeast of Maurepas and counter attacks by Germans were repulsed.

4—Paris reports a violent artillery duel is proceeding in the Barleux-Chaulnes sector.

ITALIAN ARMY FORGING AHEAD ALONG ISONZO

Progresses Nearly a Mile Past the Vallone—Fierce Battle On Around Tolmein.

ROME, Aug. 13.—In the Monfalcone and Goritz sectors, the Italians, pressing their offensive, have driven the Austrians from fortified positions, says the official communication of today. More than 2,000 prisoners were taken.

Although public attention is centered in the fighting along this part of the Isonzo, important encounters are in progress elsewhere along the front. The Italians are meeting with fierce resistance, and in several sectors heavy Austrian attacks, presumably in an attempt to divert the efforts of the Italians from the Monfalcone and Goritz operations.

In the vicinity of Tolmein, twenty miles north of Goritz, the fighting is particularly severe. According to reports reaching Rome, the number of Austrian dead or wounded is said to be large. The Italians also have taken prisoners in this area.

Italian War Report.

The official statement issued tonight says:

Yesterday on the Lower Isonzo our troops met with further success. In the Monfalcone sector, after two days of severe fighting, they carried hill 121 and Debeli.

Further to the north they crossed the Vallone, and pushed forward one kilometer to the east of Oppacchiasella, on the northern edge of the Carso.

Infantry division No. 23 carried positions on Nadlogem (hill 212), which were defended strongly by the enemy. We took 1,565 prisoners, of whom fifty-seven were officers and also two medium caliber guns and some machine guns.

Foe Everywhere Repulsed.

In the hilly region east of Goritz hill 174, to the north of Tivoli, we captured 533 prisoners and some machine guns. On the remainder of the front there were the usual demonstrations by the enemy, which everywhere were disposed of.

Altogether, since Aug. 6, 15,393 prisoners have been counted, including 330 officers. In the same operations we have taken sixteen guns, a large number of machine guns, and war material of all kinds.

Enemy aircraft last night dropped a large number of bombs on Grado and Campalto, wounding three sailors. One of our small dirigibles was burned and some private houses were damaged.

MOSLEMS BEAT BRITISH TWICE

Inflict Heavy Losses East of Suez Canal and in Mesopotamia.

SLAVS ALSO WHIPPED.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Aug. 13.—Heavy fighting has been resumed between the British and Turks along the front east of the Suez canal, the war office announced today.

The Turks attacked the British on the flank and inflicted heavy losses on them, the statement says, compelling them to retreat.

In Mesopotamia, where there has been a long period of quiet, the British made an attack, but retreated after a battle of two hours, leaving dead or wounded behind them. Turkish successes in Persia, on the Caucasus front, also are reported.

Turkish War Report.

The statement follows:

A portion of a British force which attacked our volunteer detachments in the vicinity of Masairish, in the Euphrates sector, retreated after two hours of fighting, leaving behind a certain number of dead or wounded.

In Persia our detachments dislodged the Russians from positions west of Kankaver and drove them eastward. The enemy, pursued by us, retreated with the main force to Essadodabad, on the Hamadan road. Our advanced detachments reached Rahmedabad, northwest of Kankaver, and Husseinabad, east of Kankaver.

Our troops which on Aug. 5 dislodged the enemy from Songur ejected him also from the Exinis pass, east of Songur, and occupied the pass. Prisoners state that in the latter engagement one howitzer, one machine gun, and four field guns were disabled by our fire.

Drive Russ from Lake Van.

Caucausus front.—Our troops south of Fatuan, by a surprise attack drove to the north the Russians still remaining on the western bank of Lake Van.

The territory extending to the Muhad river, north of Mush, was cleared of the enemy. In the sector of Ognott and west of Kighi the enemy troops continue to retreat in various directions.

In the center and on the left wing the pressure of our troops is hindering the enemy in his attempt to dig intrenchments in certain sectors.

On Aug. 10 eighteen men of war of various classes, in several groups shelled Marmeris, Fethie, Fernik, and Mersina (on the Mediterranean coast of Asia Minor) for ninety minutes and then retired. They merely damaged some buildings at Mersina.

Defeat for the British.

Egyptian front.—On Aug. 9 the British, with cavalry and infantry, reinforced by artillery and machine guns, attacked our positions in the environs of Katia.

The engagement lasted for thirteen hours and resulted in our favor. As a result of violent attacks, we made on both the enemy's flanks, he sustained enormous losses and retreated in the direction of Romani.

Russian War Report.

PETROGRAD, Aug. 13.—The war office tonight gave out the following report on Caucasus operations:

On the western bank of Lake Van, in the region of Tadval we launched a counter attack against the Turks, who were driven to the south.

ROUNDING UP THE GERMANS IN EAST AFRICA WAR ZONE.

Advance of a Wide Encircling Movement by the British and Belgian Forces Reported.

LONDON, Aug. 13.—The advance of a wide encircling movement by the British and Belgian forces in German East Africa is reported in a war office statement issued today. The statement reads:

On Aug. 9 stubborn actions developed at Mhonda and Matamonda in the valley, lasting until Aug. 11, when the enemy's resistance was broken at Matamonda and pursuit started down the valley.

Further west Lieut. Col. Vandeventer, after occupying Kilinatinde, Dodoma and Kikombo, on the central railway, pushed eastward through Kwanyangalo on the main road to Mpwapwa and at nightfall on Aug. 11 encountered the enemy in a strong position on a road defile at Tschungo, ten miles west of Mpwapwa. The enemy was defeated and pursued by us. In all these engagements the enemy's losses were relatively severe.

In the south our columns, after inflicting severe losses on the enemy at Malangali, now are approaching Iringa. On Lake Tanganyika we occupied Kirando island, also Kate.

On the road from Bismarckburg, parallel to the eastern shore of the lake, the Belgians occupied Karema, fifty miles north of Kirando. South of Lake Victoria Nyanza, the British and Belgian columns are closely pressing the enemy on the roads to Tabora.

"Our Country! In her intercourse with foreign nations may she always be in the right; but our country, right or wrong."
—Stephen Decatur.

PRESIDENT WILSON IN WAR AND PEACE.

The complete record of the Wilson administration in war and peace is written in the resignations of Bryan and Garrison. Bryan went hastily from the Wilson cabinet because the president was provoking war. Garrison went angrily because the president, provoking war, was not preparing for it.

Mr. Bryan was the altruist in the Wilson cabinet, a hopeful, foolish man who thought he could use a fountain pen for the reformation of humanity. He was foolish in his hopes, but he has a Nebraska common sense which taught him to recognize a danger signal when he saw it. He saw not only one but a number of them, and as a pacific man he got out of an administration which was doing everything it could to provoke a war.

We do not ask any voter to accept THE TRIBUNE'S statement of the difficulties which Mr. Wilson made for peace to surmount. Mr. Bryan more than any one, other than Roger C. Sullivan, made Mr. Wilson president, and Mr. Wilson, as president, out of proper gratitude, made Mr. Bryan secretary of state, in which position he floundered around like an eel in a dry clayhole.

Mr. Bryan, being an egotist like Henry Ford, thought he could make the human race over by talking to it, and Bryan began acting the way Wilson talks. Bryan had that advantage over Wilson. He actually tried to put what he thought into acts. Mr. Wilson never tries to do that. Mr. Wilson chooses to think and talk in one fashion and act in another.

Mr. Bryan resigned when he saw where he was being dragged by the president's marvelous illogicality. Mr. Bryan said that Mr. Wilson was dragging us into war as rapidly as he could. That was a true statement. It is not ours. It is the statement of the great pacifist, Mr. Bryan.

Mr. Garrison, the exact opposite of Mr. Bryan, was not interested in peace treaties. Mr. Garrison, secretary of war, was interested only in seeing that the nation should be prepared to stand the shock of any emergency its fate or its diplomacy got it into. Mr. Garrison resigned because Mr. Wilson was intellectually indifferent to any reasonable program of defense.

These critics of Mr. Wilson were not men in the opposing party who might be expected to hunt for flaws in his reasoning and in his acts. They were men of his own party, so well esteemed by him that he had given one the post of secretary of state, in which post a man is expected to keep the nation out of war, and the other the post of secretary of war, in which post a man is expected to see that the nation is prepared for war.

It is the complete criticism of Mr. Wilson that the two men he had selected for these positions resigned in dismay and disgust. Mr. Bryan quit because Mr. Wilson was urging us toward war. Mr. Garrison quit because Mr. Wilson was not allowing us to get prepared for war.

What can a Republican add to this criticism of the Wilson administration by the men who were in touch with its motives and purposes? What could a partisan opposed to Wilson say that would be more damaging? Republicans need go no further than the correspondence between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Bryan, pacifist and desirous of keeping peace, and that between Mr. Wilson and Mr. Garrison, a practical man desirous of being prepared for war.

Both, seeing intimately how Mr. Wilson acted, resigned to escape responsibility for Mr. Wilson's acts. What more need be said? He chose these men. They saw him work. They got out from under.

A PREPAREDNESS ADVOCATE'S VICTORY.

It is significant that the representative of the largest congressional district in the country, the Thirty-seventh Texas, defeated the incumbent on the issue of adequate preparedness. It was not even a fight between a champion of preparedness and an opponent of defense, but one between a vigorous defense advocate and a lukewarm one.

The successful contender, Marvin Jones, a young lawyer, made a stirring campaign for better defense and defeated Congressman Stephens, for eighteen years representative of the district, who made his campaign on his record and took an unsatisfactory stand on defense.

The Thirty-seventh district is in northwestern Texas, in the Panhandle, not on the border, and the election reflects not a panic judgment caused by raids but an aroused sense of our humiliating and dangerous inadequacies in defense. The south and the west were supposed to be pacifist, or at any rate indifferent or even hostile to a larger army and navy. But that notion is fading away as the temper of the people has been revealing itself in recent months. The world war began the awakening, Mexican anarchy brought the lesson home, the mobilization of the guard has developed it. What we need now is an honest facing of the fact that we shall not have a fair or adequate defense till we follow the example of other democracies, get rid of the unjust and delusive volunteer system, and adopt the democratic system of universal military training and service.

DAYLIGHT SAVING.

Although the progress of daylight saving has not as yet been considerable, the discussion of the subject both in Europe and our own country has had the effect of educating the public in the matter and many of the objections to the plan have been satisfactorily explained away. Certain exceptions will have to be allowed in different parts of the world, of course. The English summer time act had to be amended to exempt navigation and astronomy from its workings. Tidal action, as the French Astronomical society pointed out in its discussion of the plan, would have to be exempted, or there would be great loss to shipping. Meteorological reports also must be taken into consideration.

In the United States a few cities and those near the time divisional lines have changed their clocks. The vastness of our latitude and consequent diversity of time gives great scope for putting the plan into operation. At the same time the farming districts complain that it will not be practicable for them to comply with the proposed change, for, while the city worker can just as easily perform the same task by getting to work an hour earlier and quitting an hour ahead of his old schedule, some of the labors of agriculture cannot be accomplished within the city hours.

There are no doubt some obstacles to setting the clocks of the nation ahead, but perhaps none which a few concessions will not overcome. In the American cities which have adopted the new timekeeping it is not recorded that anything but satisfaction has resulted from the plan, and the change was accomplished with practically no confusion to business or social life. In truth, the object of the change was almost purely social, and the results have been of great benefit in the matters of recreation and health.

In Germany the saving in artificial lights alone is estimated at 660,000,000 marks annually. In England it is said that certain electric lighting concerns are recouping their loss by an advance in their charges. Here, where the price usually is fixed by the franchise of the corporation, they might have some difficulty in raising the rates. In the principal European countries daylight saving is being tried out, and the objections raised to it are largely local and technical. The results have already been so beneficial that these objections undoubtedly will be overcome, and it is hoped that the problems raised by the proposal in our country will also disappear.

ARBITRATION.

"When a dispute goes to arbitration," says the head of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, "the men never get as much as they start out after." Hence he intimates they ought not to consent to arbitration, but in case of the refusal of the railroads to grant all that the men "start out to get" resort to the strike.

The result of following such a principle would be the perpetual demoralization of the transportation system of the country and results which would destroy national prosperity and the welfare of the men themselves.

But the whole nature of right adjudication of differences in railroad affairs is involved in Mr. Stone's theory. The reason that the men never get all that they go out to get, if that is strictly true, is that quite naturally they go out to get all they can get and do not consider any conflicting claims. But a board of arbitration is in duty bound to consider these conflicting claims and therefore must usually in some degree disappoint the extreme claims of both sides.

Mr. Stone's objection to arbitration is not an objection; it is an indorsement of arbitration in the mind of any one who realizes that there are at least two sides to every controversy. Union leaders are of a necessity politicians, and they say many things for effect, like other politicians, but fair minded men, including wage earners themselves, do not believe that union claims are always right and wholly right. They are made up from one point of view, and that is fair, and they are made up for trading, and that is fair; and therefore if boards of arbitration always or usually granted them in full that would prove not that arbitration was right but that arbitration was wrong.

The implication of extreme labor leaders as to arbitration is that it is impossible to get fair arbitrators. This is an indictment either of the intelligence of the labor leaders themselves, who pass on the arbitrators, or it is an indictment of the honesty of the whole nation. No sane man will believe that it is not possible to get a board of honest and competent men to pass on any normal labor controversy. If labor leaders really believed this they would be unfit for participation in American life.

THE TRIBUNE believes there is a good deal of justice in the unions' demands in this case, and it also believes there is justice in the claims of the railroad managers. THE TRIBUNE also believes there are important rights of the public which will be disregarded in either a strike or a two sided arbitration, and it asserts that there is but one way to deal wisely and fairly with the conflicting claims of all, and that is by a resort to some tribunal capable of weighing all sides and protecting all interests. That tribunal, THE TRIBUNE believes, is the interstate commerce commission. But if there is any good reason why it should be avoided the controversy should be referred to some special body whose duty should be made clear to consider not only the rights of the men and the rights of the companies but the rights of the community from which the wage earner draws his pay and the investor his dividends.

Not only the railroads but their employés are quasi public agents and should be required to consider the public as a necessary factor in any controversy between them. One of the leaders has declared that compulsory arbitration is only a bugaboo. It will be a reality before long if the country has to suffer a disastrous paralysis of commerce because either railroad employés or managers refuse to recognize the rights of the public to a peaceful adjudication of differences.

Editorial of the Day.

BRITISH BLACKLIST.

[From the Ottawa, Canada, Citizen.]

The Montreal Gazette remarks that the British blacklist of American firms alleged to be trading with enemies of the allies is not a thing that can be cheered for. The Gazette is right. The blacklist is, to our mind, policy of a particularly poor sort and a measure that nullifies much that has been put forward in support of the British blockade.

The situation would become particularly complicated for the United States if Germany were to blacklist firms dealing with the allies and if she were in a position to enforce such a measure. Yet we have always asserted that the United States was not favoring our cause by selling us supplies—that she was at liberty to sell the same supplies to Germany if Germany would take the risk of delivery.

That has been the strongest argument of friends of the allies in the United States and a complete reply to those German-Americans who alleged that the American people were not neutral in the sense that neutrality is understood between belligerent nations.

Now we demonstrate that this argument is not sound by blacklisting firms suspected of selling to enemy nations. We, as a matter of fact, interfere in American business and attempt to dictate to American firms regarding their customers.

It is, we think, an unwise step, particularly as the amount of business done by American firms with German houses must in the circumstances be of little or no importance. If it is of considerable volume then our blacklist is an admission of the failure of our blockade.

Moreover, the blacklist will likely be used to the advantage of Germany after the war. The Teutons need not worry to any very great extent over the entente understanding to boycott German trade if they can be assured of the vast markets of the United States and through that country of the markets of South America. Viewed from all angles the blacklist looks like poor business, and poor business is a grave mistake under existing circumstances.

Yawno, Grawnday, Tex., Aug. 8.—The animal known as the armadillo amuses me. Being thoroughly armored, he presents an idea that something so perfectly armored must be worth fighting. Alas! After his armor is removed there isn't a dam thing left to consider. Why such jesting on the part of nature? Why arm the armadillo? Were he extinct, due to improper protective covering, we should be none the worse off except that fewer armadillo baskets, made from his armored portions, would be expressed back east at high cost. But the armadillo belongs here. Practically every insect, even of amoebic proportions, maintains at his personal expense a saber and scabbard, plus a sac of irritating poison to squirt. Where all are armed there continues much fighting and the quickest one wins. There is the centipede. Equipped with twenty legs on each of his two sides, he hasn't the least notion of going anywhere because nobody welcomes him. The tarantula has a devil of a lot of fur about his body—and this is one of the hottest places in the country.

SOME HOT WEATHER QUESTIONS.

AT 1 o'clock today the temperature in a certain room registered 97; that of a shaded porch, 100. An electric fan was turned on. I felt much cooler, but when two hours later I looked at the thermometer in the room the temperature was 98. Then I went to the porch and that thermometer registered 96.

If a fan increases one's comfort on a hot day why did the thermometer in the room go up one degree while the outside thermometer was falling four?

Answer—The fan actually increased the temperature a fraction by the friction of the moving air. However, that was not the most important factor. The fan was in a warm part of the room. It drove the warmer air against the cooler inside wall where the thermometer was placed. But you say if this is the true explanation why did the fan increase your comfort?

The air next your body was both hot and wet. It was about 98 in temperature and 100, or almost about that, in humidity. The fan blew the wet and hot air away from your body, increased the evaporation from your skin, and thereby added to your comfort.

Question 2—Why do baseball players wear woolen shirts on very hot days?

Answer—They work in the sun. The temperature of the air in the sunlight is a good deal hotter than that of the body. When one works in the sunlight on a hot day he can shield himself from some of the heat by covering his body with a nonconductor. A flannel shirt is a poor conductor of heat. If you ask a ball player why he wears a flannel shirt he will probably tell you that it picks up the sweat and holds some of it, thus preventing rapid evaporation and chilling. Chilling makes the muscles stiff. There is a lot in this point. A cotton garment on a ball player would become wet as a dish rag in a few minutes. When drenched with water but little air could pass through it. Wool absorbs moisture more slowly and holds it better. A person who wears woolens is not so liable to chill.

Question 3—What is the best way for a man who does clerical work in a hot office to dress on a hot day?

Wear just as few clothes as the rules of the office will allow. Since the local irritation from a stiff collar will add to the amount of heat produced go without collars and cuffs. Even the lightest coat serves to hold in some of the heat from your body. The shirt should have a soft bosom and be made of cotton or linen. Silk is warmer than cotton. The underwear should be of the lightest weight possible. An open weave is best. A close weave is liable to become saturated with sweat and, therefore, quite impervious to air. The trousers should be light in weight and open in texture. The socks should be of cotton or some combination consisting largely of cotton, light in weight, and rather open in weave.

FIRST AID SUPPLIES FOR AN OUTING BAG.

E. D. B. writes: "About a year ago you printed the inclosure. May I suggest that you reprint it with brief suggestions for the use of certain articles mentioned—e. g.: oil of cloves and laudanum."

1—Absorbent cotton.
2—Roll of old muslin. Roll of soft flannel.
3—One or two rolls of bandage, 2½ inches wide, 6 yards long.
4—Rubber adhesive plaster. Court plaster.
5—One pair sharp scissors.
6—Pins [ordinary and safety].
7—Needles and some stout thread.
8—Vaseline or cosmoline.
9—Aromatic spirits of ammonia, 2 ounces. [To be used as a stimulant in place of whisky. Fainting, shock, griping pains. Dose, 15 to 60 drops.]
10—Castor oil, 2 ounces.
11—Oil of cloves, 1 drachm. [A drop or two on a pledget of cotton to be used for toothache.]
12—Laudanum or paregoric. [Dose of the former, 15 to 20 drops. Of the latter, 1 teaspoonful. For diarrhoea, griping pains and pain in general.]
13—Bicarbonate of soda, 2 ounces. [To be supplied locally for burns, sunburn, stings and bites. Used in solution or dry.] Used internally for indigestion, if necessary. Dose, 20 to 30 grains.
14—Tincture of iodine. [Used on all cuts and wounds, to sterilize.]

PHRENOLOGY.

R. L. M. writes: "1. Is there any scientific basis for phrenology? 2. Is there any scientific basis for diagnosis from the iris? 3. Does the medical profession consider it proper to treat disease by attempting to suppress the symptoms—as in the case of inflammation? 4. After an operation removing diseased tonsils, what becomes of the bodily poisons which nature seems to have intended that the tonsils should eliminate?"

REPLY.

1 and 2—No.

3—The answer is both yes and no. Sometimes both yes, sometimes, no. Some medical practitioners more, yes, and less, no. In other words it is a matter concerning which it is impossible to generalize.

4—The tonsils are not organs of elimination.

NEEDS EXPERT HANDLING.

Y. T. writes: "A short while ago I read in your column about thyroid tablets for making one grow. I am 20 years of age and am only 5 feet 3 inches in height. I feel that it is an awful handicap to be so short, as my brother is a six footer. Kindly advise me if pituitin or thyroid tablets are good stimulants for growth, and, if so, how should I take either?"

REPLY.

It is probable that you inherited your stockiness from some ancestor just as your brother inherited his height from some other ancestor. It is not probable that the use of any ductless gland would stimulate you to grow to be six feet or anywhere nearer. However, if you want to try it put yourself in the hands of a competent physician. Preparations of ductless glands are too powerful for both good and harm to be taken except under medical direction.

LA MARQUISE DE FONTENOY

[Copyright: 1916: By the Brentwood Co.]

RUSSIA has just opened for navigation the port of Nikolayevsk, at the mouth of the Amur river, in eastern Siberia, where for some years, and especially during the last eighteen months, she has been engaged in constructing an extensive system of docks, wharves, etc., for the purpose of developing the place from a mere fortress commanding the mouth of the Amur river into a great commercial seaport. It has been constructed with special regard to the United States and for the purpose of providing a new channel for the importation of American goods into Siberia and from Siberia into Russia.

It is anticipated that much of the American trade which has until now entered Siberia by way of Vladivostok, which is suffering from the most appalling species of congestion of traffic, will henceforth reach Siberia by way of Nikolayevsk, where it will be conveyed up the splendidly navigable river Amur to join the transsiberian railroad at Stretinsk, thus avoiding Harbin and all that difficult stretch of railroad through Manchuria. I understand that an immense amount of freight is already on its way from this country to Nikolayevsk.

Col. the Hon. Aubrey Herbert, whose speech the other day in the house of commons on the subject of the military operations of Great Britain in Mesopotamia stirred the emotions of all present by its eloquence and by the directness of its information, spoke from experience. For he is just back from Mesopotamia, where, by reason of his remarkable knowledge of Turkish, he was sent up immediately after the surrender of Kut to negotiate, in the name of Gen. Sir Percy Lake, commanding the British forces in Mesopotamia, with the Turkish commander, Halil Pasha, about all sorts of questions connected with the fate of Gen. Townshend and all the troops under him that had been taken prisoner.

It was Col. Aubrey Herbert who arranged for the exchange of a number of the prisoners and for the liberation of all the badly wounded British soldiers, to enable their return for medical care in India. While engaged in this work Herbert spent two days and two nights in the Turkish camp as the guest of Halil Pasha, who was an old friend of his and whom he had known intimately when he was an attaché of the English embassy at Constantinople.

Aubrey Herbert is the half-brother of the present Earl of Carnarvon and second heir to the family honors and estates, between which and himself there is but one life—namely: that of Lord Carnarvon's only son, Lord Porchester. Aubrey Herbert was formerly an officer of the Irish guards and put in several years of diplomatic service at Tokio and at Stamboul, abandoning both diplomacy and the army for politics on his election to parliament for one of the divisions of his own county of Somersetshire on the Unionist ticket in 1910.

On the outbreak of the war he rejoined the army and the Irish guards and took part in the retreat from Mons, where he received a bullet in his thigh. On his recovery he was sent out to Egypt to help the staff there with his knowledge of Turkish and Arabic, was attached to the first landing forces at Anzac cove, was present throughout the entire campaign on the peninsula of Gallipoli until its evacuation, and was then sent off to serve on the staff of Gen. Sir Percy Lake in Mesopotamia.

He is possessed of a marvelous gift for languages, his mastery thereof comprising not only modern European languages, as well as Turkish and Arabic, but also Japanese, Chinese, and Sanscrit. He has traveled everywhere and makes friends on all sides. Thus he has traversed the entire Balkans at various times and Asia Minor on horseback and alone. Usually the inhabitants take pot shots at the wandering stranger. But Herbert was welcomed everywhere, never had any trouble, even the very brigands appearing to regard him as a sort of "blood brother." Isa Boletinas, the celebrated Albanian bandit and patriot, was one of his intimates, and when he came to London in behalf of his fellow countrymen he was there as Herbert's guest, creating a great sensation by his brigandlike appearance in his picuresque Albanian costume. The lord only knows how many homicides he has to his credit, and he has fought on everybody's side in turn in the southeast of Europe.

And yet Herbert does not look the sort of man who would appeal to such a character as this Albanian brigand. For he is tall, thin, with the slight stoop of the student, a monocle in his eye, and that sort of ineffable touch of superiority and assurance that is known amongst university men in England and in politics generally as the Balliol manner. All those who have ever met and spoken to Lord Curzon will know quite well what I mean.

Gen. the Hon. Charles Sackville-West, who was badly wounded last week at the front in France, is the next heir to his brother's barony of Sackville and to the entailed estates, which comprise the so historic Knole park in Kent. The general has taken part in numerous campaigns as an officer of the King's Royal rifle corps, is married to the daughter and heiress of the late Matthew Bell, and makes his home at Bourne park, a beautiful place near Canterbury, which she inherited from her father.

The present Lord Sackville, it may be recalled, has no son, but only a daughter, now the Hon. Mrs. Harold Nicolson, by his marriage with his cousin, Victoria Sackville-West, who spent so many years at Washington when her father, the late Lord Sackville, was British envoy there. She is now enormously rich, having inherited from her friend and admirer, the late Sir John Murray Scott, the immense fortune which the fourth Marquis of Hertford had alienated from the Seymour family, of which he was the chief, in order to bestow it upon his illegitimate half-brother, Sir Richard Wallace, who in turn left it to his widow after disinheriting his only son. She in turn leaving it to her private secretary instead of to her son's children.

Lady Sackville was not confirmed in her possession of this fortune until she had had a fight in court for it with Sir John Murray Scott's brothers and sisters, proceedings during the course of which much unpleasant family linen was laundered in public. This fortune, which has been the source of so much litigation, injustice, misery, and heartburn, will go at Lady Sackville's death to her only child, Mrs. Nicolson, the daughter of Lord Cardock.

DEPENDS ON CONTRACT WITH BANK.

Chicago, Aug. 6.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—I bought a New York real estate bond three years ago and in February the bank loaned me $50 on it. Since then the real estate company went into receivership, and the bank threatens to sue me, although they have the bond, which is worth about $85. Kindly inform me if they can do anything, as no one expected this to happen and I am unable to pay at present. H. P. L.

Depends on your contract with the bank. If you signed notes which are now due, they can sue you. They are not compelled to look first to the security.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

MAY SUE IN FOREIGN STATE.

Chicago, Aug. 5.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—A lawyer told me I could not arrest and throw my husband in jail until he paid his back alimony in another state outside of Illinois, as the divorce was granted in Illinois. He is in another state and owes me $500, which he can afford to pay, if forced to. Can't I extradite him or force him back to the state of Illinois for nonpayment of alimony, or is he free entirely of any responsibility? Can't I bring suit against him while he is in another state? M. H.

You cannot arrest him in another state for his failure to pay the Illinois alimony. You can sue him in the foreign state and get a judgment.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

FILING OF BOND BY TRUSTEE.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—Kindly advise me if the statutes of either New York or Pennsylvania provide for the filing of a bond by a trustee acting under a deed of trust, estate consisting entirely of personalty. It is my belief that administrators and executors have to file bonds unless specifically exempted, and I would think the same thing would hold good in connection with a trusteeship, especially where the trust lasts for ten years and the average administration can be closed up in a year's time. T. D. M.

The ordinary trustee does not have to file a bond, since he does not come under court control, unless a breach of trust is threatened. If you feel unsafe you might file a bill asking the court to require that he file a bond.

NEED NOT LOCATE HEIRS.

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 7.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—1. In case a wife dies intestate, with no living children, what is her husband's share in her personal property and real estate? 2. Must other unknown heirs of deceased assert and maintain rights, or must he make an effort to locate them? If the latter, when does the obligation terminate? 3. Under what circumstances may he lease or sell the coal right? A. L. B.

1. The husband takes one-half of the realty, with a life interest in one-third of the remaining one-half and all the personalty. We cannot say whether the coal rights are realty or personalty without knowing how they are held. 2. You are under no obligation to hunt up the other heirs. 3. If there are other heirs he will probably have difficulty in satisfying a purchaser with his title.

WIDOW'S SHARE IN ESTATE.

Chicago, Aug. 7.—[To the Legal Friend of the People.]—An unmarried man dies, leaving an estate, but no will, to be settled between several brothers and sisters, and before the said estate is settled a married brother dies, leaving a wife but no children. Does the Illinois law provide that the widow receives her husband's share in the estate left by this brother, who was long a resident of this state? M. L. K.

The fact that the first estate had not been settled makes no difference. The widow takes all the personalty and one-half the realty, with a life interest in one-third of the remaining one-half.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE.

THE LOST DAUPHIN.

Appleton, Wis., Aug. 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In connection with the story of the lost Dauphin, Eleazar Williams, I recall several incidents told me by my father, the late D. W. King of Green Bay, Wis., who settled there in 1836. He knew Eleazar Williams very well, as he lived at that time in the small town now called Depere. Mr. Williams was an Episcopal missionary and a frequent visitor at my father's house—a tall, fine, handsome man of courtly bearing. My mother often said he had a perfect Bourbon head, his profile like the coin of that period.

He had quite a fine collection of French books, mostly theological, and when he was hard up, as he often was, my father used to assist him. On one occasion he advanced him quite a sum of money on his books. My father said to keep the books, but he would not. He used to often afterwards come to our house, saying: "Mme. King, I must borrow a book to complete my sermon." My mother would say: "Certainly, Monsieur le Curé; help yourself." He never returned them, and in time received almost his entire library. He would sometimes say, "Ah, I must bring you back your books," but somehow always forgot.

Before the visit of the Prince de Joinville in 1841 he commenced behaving in a most unaccountable and mysterious manner.

He came one day into my father's drug store and talked for some time in a most obscure and incomprehensible fashion. Finally, raising his hair from his brow, he exclaimed, in a dramatic manner: "Dr. King, do you see this scar? You will hear from this some day." He also pulled up the leg of his trousers and showed the marks of smallpox. He then uttered these cryptic words: "Look well at these scars. They will some day astonish the world." My father said, "Explain yourself, Williams." But he would not at that time. Later he made his claim through an article published in Putnam's Magazine, entitled "Have We a Bourbon Among Us?" which created a sensation.

It was a well known fact that the little prince in the temple was the victim of a virulent attack of smallpox, and the scars on the legs of Eleazar Williams, as well as the scar on his head, were curious coincidents, if not proof that he and the Dauphin were one.

THE FRYATT EXECUTION.

Schumm, O., Aug. 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Monday's edition of THE TRIBUNE brought a short article under the caption, "Capt. Fryatt." The second sentence of this editorial tells us why it is a failure. This sentence reads: "It is hardly worth while to consider the allegations and arguments in the case." None are so deaf as they that will not hear, none so blind as they that will not see.

The language and logic of this editorial reveal a lack of thought and fairness. Since when is it fair and just to condemn one without giving him a hearing? If the law and practice of nations in the past were right and human then the decision of the German naval court condemning Fryatt to be shot cannot be called a crime. Fryatt was a franctireur and suffered the just penalty for his crime. Omit the gush and give us sound reason and fair play in your editorials. GEO. J. MEYER.

OUR NATIONAL VICE.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—Having traveled in Mexico, and knowing that American jingoism, self-sufficiency or "non-adaptability" is indeed the chief cause for Mexico's dislike of us, I wish to congratulate you on your article, "Gringo Maldito," in THE TRIBUNE. POLISH RELIEF.

Fort Wayne, Ind., Aug. 11.—[Editor of The Tribune.]—In your article on Polish relief you seem to imply that Great Britain has gone as far in her concessions as one could reasonably expect.

In this you have overlooked an important point: Great Britain is asking Germany to accept conditions which are due to an "illegal, ineffective and indefensible" blockade. England's blockade has no standing in international law until Holland, Denmark, Sweden, and Norway have been cut off from intercourse with Germany.

Germany is perfectly within her rights if she tells Wilson that she knows of no reason why we have not sent food into Poland long ago. The fact is that most of the suffering of civilians in Europe, and even the prolongation of the war, is due to Wilson's peculiar ideas as to neutral rights and duties. JOHN McNOLAN.

PINCHOT CALLS LANE ENEMY OF CONSERVATION

Accuses Secretary of Backing Destruction of the Navy's Oil Land Reserve.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Gifford Pinchot, former chief of the Forest service, today sent to Secretary Lane of the interior department an open letter declaring the secretary had abandoned the conservation policies and, despite a recent denial, is exercising his influence in favor of the pending Phelan oil land amendment which would open up the western oil reserves set aside for the navy.

"If this legislation is enacted," wrote Mr. Pinchot, "the oil land reserves set aside for the navy will be destroyed. The mere threat of its passage has caused the navy department to seriously consider the advisability of abandoning the policy of construction of oil burning ships. Without them no navy can even be second class."

Scores Other Lane Acts.

The letter cites also the following acts of the secretary to show that he has not been a champion of conservation:

"Your silent submission to the vicious Shields water power bill, passed by the senate on March 8, 1916, and now in grave danger of becoming law. It is in direct opposition to conservation principles you once approved.

"Your neglect to support with vigor in the senate the Ferris water power bill, which you had already supported in the house, and your recent acquiescence in the vicious Myers substitute measure now before the senate, which should have had your unreserved opposition.

Assails Alaska Bill.

"Your plan to turn the natural resources of Alaska over to a bi-partisan political commission, embodied in the Pittman bill now before congress, which all you have been diligently trying to get passed. If passed it would open the way for the destruction of our whole system of national conservation."

The letter concludes: "When you were appointed secretary of the interior, I welcomed your appointment, and came and told you so. At that time I held the belief which you have since forced me to give up, that you would stand and continue to stand for the rights of all the people in all the natural resources of our country."

Thomas Kane Celebrates Fifty-sixth Wedding Anniversary and Tells How to Live Long.

"Pure food, pure water, and pure air—that's my recipe for health and longevity. Only one person in a thousand drinks enough water or takes as much air into his lungs as he ought to."

This was the little health hint dropped yesterday by Thomas Kane on the fifty-sixth anniversary of his wedding. Mr. Kane, who is president of the American Spiral Pipe works, is 79, and his wife, Mrs. Adeline Bickle Kane, is a few years younger. They celebrated their anniversary quietly at the residence of their only daughter, Mrs. Merle F. Eshbaugh of 1251 Asbury avenue, Evanston, where they make their home.

Mr. Kane was a lifelong friend of James Whitcomb Reilly.

Mr. Kane is a member of the board of the Presbyterian hospital, a trustee of the McCormick Theological seminary, vice president of the Lewis institute, and a member of the First Presbyterian church of Evanston.

FOES OF DEFENSE IN DE KALB LOSE JOBS FOR VIEWS

Baptist Minister and High School Teacher Reported Dismissed.

The question of preparedness has divided the town of De Kalb, Ill. It has become an issue with the school board, a matter for serious discussion in the churches, and a cause for discharge of about a half dozen employés of various concerns.

One minister, it is said, has been asked to resign because of his anti-preparedness views, a teacher in the high school has lost his position, and others are said to be slated for dismissal.

Held Parade in Town.

The agitation was started at the time the preparedness parade was held in Chicago. De Kalb had a parade of several thousand the same day. Prior to the parade E. P. Collett, teacher of biology in the high school, is said to have urged his pupils not to march. The sentiment in the school became divided and the management of the parade changed its name from a "preparedness" parade to a "patriotic" parade. The children marched in a body.

Following the parade the Rev. D. A. McGregor, pastor of the First Baptist church, was one of a half dozen speakers who denounced preparedness to the crowds in the streets.

"War is caused by trade and not by kings," he said. "The moneyed interests are behind it. Real preparedness is the kind that makes for better living conditions."

Unprotected Isle of Guam.

"How can you sleep when you know that the island of Guam is unprotected?" a preparedness advocate is said to have asked.

"How can you sleep when you know that children are working in the cotton fields and glass factories?" the minister retorted. "I love the flag for what it might stand for—for justice and freedom—not for what it has been dragged down to for preparedness."

The same evening an anti-preparedness parade was held, and the minister again spoke from a street corner. A man connected with the American Steel and Wire company is said to have reported the matter to the church board. Judge H. W. McCuen, Lot Jenkins, and Ernest Carter, members of the board, called a meeting and the pastor was summoned. According to Mrs. McGregor her husband was told that the church did not like to have its pastor speak on the streets.

Opposes His Socialism.

The minister replied that the other preachers and priests of the town spoke on the streets. He was then told the board did not like his stand against preparedness and did not approve of his associating with persons of radical Socialistic views. If he continued, they said, his resignation would be asked for.

Mrs. McGregor declared her husband then told them he would resign in the fall.

A few days afterward Mr. Collett, the teacher, was haled before the school board and informed that he was teaching sociology to his classes instead of biology. His place was filled by another a few days later.

Another Socialist Goes.

Max Seiler, secretary of the Socialist party in De Kalb, an employé of the Creamery Package company, was discharged a month ago. His radical stand against preparedness was said to be the cause.

Pressure is said to have been brought to bring about the discharge of a printer because he had preached socialistic doctrines on the streets, but the management of the local paper refused to fire him.

The Rev. Mr. McGregor, who is visiting friends in Kewanee, refused to discuss the matter. When asked if he would resign he said:

"I do not know yet."

Mr. and Mrs. McGregor were missionaries in India. The minister attended the divinity school at the University of Chicago a few years ago and afterward conducted a basement mission on the west side.

Mr. Collett, who was clerk of the church board, is now living in Chicago. He is said to have obtained a position as teacher in the Lake View High school.

Judge Outlines View.

Neither the members of the church board nor the business men of the town would discuss the question. Former Judge A. G. Kennedy was the only member of the board who would have anything to say.

"De Kalb has been visited recently by agitators and radical speakers who are trying to arouse a spirit of unrest among the workers," he said. "We never have had any labor troubles here and we don't want things stirred up.

UNDERTOW PERILS TWO MEN

HORSE CURE IN WHISKY CALLED CAUSE OF DEATHS.

Police Think Two Men Drank from Bottle Which Had Contained Considerable Amount of Strychnine.

"They probably drank the whisky out of a bottle which had contained horse medicine and which had not been cleaned."

This was the verdict yesterday of Sergeant William Driver of the Irving Park station at the end of a thirty hours' investigation into the deaths of Herman Toeleg of 4137 North Central Park avenue, and Anthony Schrack of 4158 North Central Park avenue.

The men died yesterday morning shortly after drinking 15 cents' worth of whisky in a barn at the rear of Schrack's home. Physicians summoned declared that they believed both men had died of strychnine poisoning.

The owner of the saloon in which the ment had purchased the liquor gave Sergt. Driver the name of another man whom he had served from the same bottle. Sergt. Driver visited the home of this man and found that he had used some of the liquor in a hot toddy for his wife and himself but that neither had become ill.

Have You Had a Picnic This Summer?

A PICNIC is great fun for the whole family—whether it be one of those all-day, big-basket affairs for holidays, or a Saturday afternoon picnic with a smaller basket, or an evening supper in the park.

Some families have picnic suppers several times a week in the nearest park and keep it up all summer. Others go less frequently, but all who go get solid enjoyment out of it.

Have you given your family this treat this summer? If not, plan to do so this week and as often as you can. Food seems to taste better out under the trees near the shores of the lake, the pond or the lagoon.

Chicago has been generous to her citizens in picnic opportunities. Even the new Municipal Pier, with its great promenades and playground spaces swept by the cool lake breeze, contains a large public dining room where families can serve their own meals.

Following are directions for reaching the best picnic places in Chicago, from downtown:

MUNICIPAL PIER: From the Loop district take Through Route No. 1 car in Wabash Avenue, State Street car in State Street, Broadway car in Dearborn or Randolph Street, Clark Street car or Through Route No. 22 car in Clark Street, or Lincoln Avenue car in La Salle Street—ride north to Grand Avenue and transfer east to the pier. From the West, Northwest or North Sides take any line crossing Grand Avenue and transfer east to the pier.

DOUGLAS PARK: Take 12th Street car in Dearborn or Adams Street, or Ogden Avenue car in State or Randolph Street, ride west to park at 12th Street and California Avenue.

GARFIELD PARK: Take Madison Street car in Madison to park entrance at Central Park Avenue.

HUMBOLDT PARK: Take Division Street car in State or Washington Street, and ride west to park at terminus of line.

JACKSON PARK: Take Jackson Park car or Stony-Island-93rd car in Wabash Avenue to "Midway" at 59th Street.

LINCOLN PARK: Take Through Route No. 1 car in Wabash Avenue, Clark Street or Through Route No. 22 car in Clark Street, Broadway car in Dearborn Street or Lincoln Avenue car in La Salle Street, ride north to main entrance of park at Center Street.

MARQUETTE PARK: Take Madison, Van Buren or Twelfth Street car west to Kedzie Avenue and transfer south to the park at 67th Street.

WASHINGTON PARK: Take Through Route No. 3 car in Wabash and ride South to terminus at park, or take Cottage Grove car in Wabash avenue and ride south to 55th Street entrance.

RIVERVIEW PARK: Take Riverview-Larrabee car in Dearborn Street and ride north to park at terminus of this line, or take Through Route No. 2 car in Clark Street or Clybourn Avenue car in Fifth Avenue, ride north to terminus at Belmont Avenue and walk north two blocks to gate.

TOMORROW MAY BE TOO LATE—A $1550 CHALMERS SIX-53—NOW $1195

If you aren't one of the Chicago motorists who have purchased a $1550 Chalmers Six-53 at $1195, you are missing the biggest bargain ever offered in an automobile.

Saturday and Sunday buyers filled our salesroom.

They were men who have owned one or more cars—men well experienced in motor values.

They saw these beautiful, roomy seven-passenger cars — they watched them perform. They tested their easy riding comfort—and then they bought.

And no wonder they bought. It's so easy to see the remarkable value in the wonderful $1550 Chalmers Six-53 at $1195.

Search the highways of motordom from end to end—you'll never find another such buy.

Remember—they are new cars—every one of them. But they are slightly warehouse worn.

Every car sold with the full Chalmers new car guarantee—and Harry Newman service intelligently rendered with great good will.

We fell heir to them on July 1st when we took over the distribution of Chalmers cars for the Chicago territory.

If we didn't need the room for the 3400 r. p. m. Chalmers we are receiving at the rate of 600 per month, we couldn't think of making such an offer.

A $1550 Chalmers Six-53 at $1195 is a bargain that will save you $355—wipe the slate clean of many months of upkeep—and give you a handsome seven-passenger touring car with a nation-wide reputation for beauty, comfort, performance and endurance.

These cars are moving faster at $1195 than I anticipated. They can't last long at this rate. The minute the last of the lot is sold the sale automatically closes.

My advice is—buy to-day.

Action now will save you $355 and give you the biggest automobile bargain ever offered in this country.

And remember—you are not buying this car sight unseen.

Come in to-day. Bring your family with you.

I want you to see the beautiful lines of this Chalmers Six-53—ride in it—feel its genuine comfort and watch its performance.

She's a real car—going at a shamefully low price—but it must be done.

NOW $1195.

FOR GOVERNOR

Senator Morton D. HULL—The Able Republican Statesman—Name Him for Governor Primary Day

Vote For Hull

And a New Illinois

Down the "Harmonized" Jackpot-Spoilsmen Crow

The state-wide primary—so close at hand—will decide the Crisis that Illinois has reached in the united drive of Progressive-Republicans to save the state from the Bi-partisan Pillagers within the party. The battle lines are sharply drawn. Good government—structive Republicanism—led by its ten-year cha Senator Morton D. Hull—is charging against "harmonized" bands of Spoilsmen.

Opposed to Hull's movement for a new Illinois are those who aided and profited in the shameful Allen Bill granting 50-year franchises to street railways, the "Jack-Pot" legislators, the "Bathroom" gang who "put over" Lorimer, the "Slush Fund" kings and others who have put a price on special privilege in the past and obstructed good government for the sake of graft.

Those ruinous influences have combined to nominate Lowden for governor. Not because he is corrupt—but because of his yielding character, his inexperience in state affairs, his ever readiness to supply them with campaign funds and his old-time Lorimer affiliations. All these make Lowden fit nicely into their plan to fasten their grasp upon the state institutions as the Thompson wing of this combine now grips Chicago's government. Dr. Theodore Sachs was a martyr to the plunderbund.

"Republican" legislators who bolted their party caucuses, who combined with the Democrats at Springfield and so elected a Bi-partisan speaker of the house—not once—but repeatedly—these Bi-partisan "Republicans" are now assailing Senator Hull, and their battle-cry is "Harmony!"

But don't be deceived! Their brand of "Harmony" means that Republicans and the people must be given sleeping powders so they may forget the past of those who are secretly working out the plans to be restored to place and power through the nomination of Lowden, who is their candidate but not their leader.

The task of good government is big and demands a big statesman as governor—it calls for the courage, honesty and ability that the Legislative Voters' League finds in Senator Hull. Of him this non-partisan league has said in its report Sept., 1910:

"A recognized leader of the progressive element of the House."

And again in Jan., 1912—"One of the prime movers of the Republican-Progressive organization. No gangster or reactionary has ever questioned his sincerity."

And in Oct., 1914—"He is second to none as an authority on legislative matters and should be elected."

But what about Lowden? C menting upon his avowed poli shirk leadership if nominated, Chicago Daily News in a recent torial says:

"If Mr. Lowden means that i he is chosen governor of Illinois he merely act upon whatever matters up to him, then he may rest ass that his policy will not work. The people of Illinois are entitled to have governor a man of initiative, who will labor aggressively for the betterment of conditions in the state. . . . .

"Morton Hull, ... seems to have a proper conception of the requirements of the situation. In one of his recent speeches he said: 'If nominated and elected governor, I will use the legitimate power of that office to aid in securing forward-looking legislation.'"

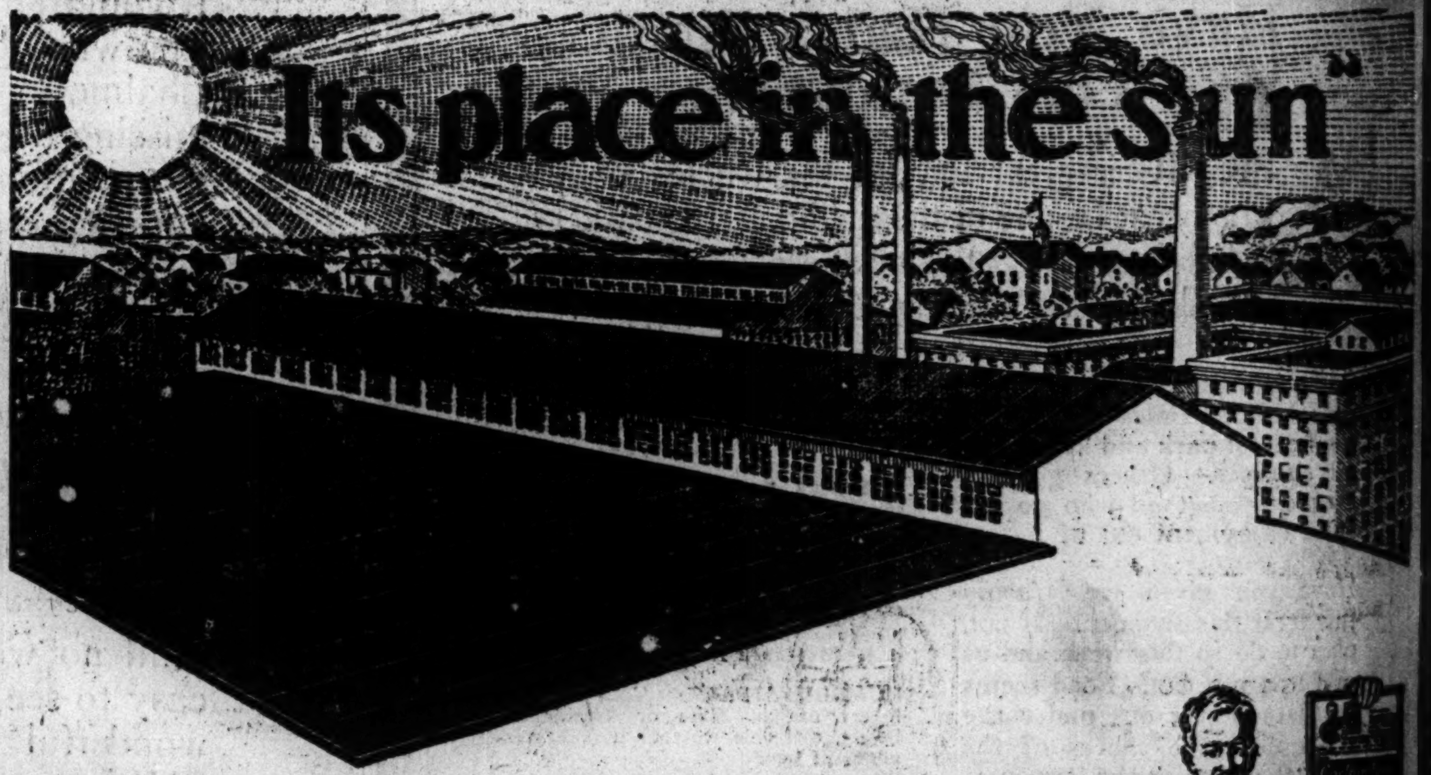
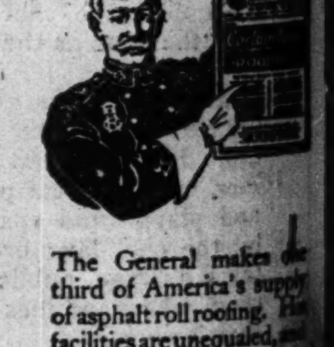
HULL CAMPAIGN COMMITT
LOGAN HAY, Sec. 124 E. Sixth St.,



"Its place in the sun"



To hold "its place in the sun," is the avowed purpose of a great nation's conflict. To hold "its place in the sun," is the object of every business in the great fight for industrial and commercial supremacy.

To be able to hold "its place in the sun," is the supreme test of an asphalt roof. It is the sun, not rain or snow, that plays havoc with a roof. If it can resist the drying out process of the sun beating down upon it, day after day, the rain or snow will not affect it except to wash it clean and keep it sanitary.

Certain-teed

takes "its place in the sun" and holds it longer than other similar roofing because it is made of the very best quality roofing felt, thoroughly saturated with the correct blend of soft asphalts, and coated with a blend of harder asphalts.

This outer coating keeps the inner saturation soft, and prevents the drying out process so destructive to the ordinary roof.

"The General's" blend of asphalts is the result of long experience. It produces a roofing more pliable than those which have less saturation, and which are, therefore, harder and drier.

At each of the General's big mills, expert chemists are constantly employed to refine, test and blend the asphalts used; also to experiment for possible improvements. Their constant endeavor is to make the best roofing still better.

The quality of CERTAIN-TEED is such that it is guaranteed for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to thickness (1, 2 or 3 ply). Experience proves that it lasts longer.

Behind this guarantee is the responsibility of the world's largest manufacturer of roofings and building papers.

The General makes one third of America's supply of asphalt roll roofing. His facilities are unequaled, and he is able to produce the highest quality roofing at the lowest manufacturing cost.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in [illegible] covered shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest sky-scraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

Peoria, Ill., which for many years has d more internal revenue taxes to the asury than any other city in the coun- y, gives way this year to New York y on account of the enormous income d corporation taxes paid in New York. Chicago, on account of the revenues ac- ing from the war revenue and corpo- ion and income taxes, presses Peoria ly for second place.

New York, Peoria, Chicago.

New York paid more than $69,000,000 to the treasury, while Peoria paid $28,- 37 and Chicago $27,280,779.

From incomes under $20,000 the treas- y netted from the entire country $23,-995,777. The larger incomes paid the balance of $67,945,594.

One-fifth of the super-tax collected was paid on net incomes of more than $500,000. The individual income receipts, according to classification, were as follows:

Exceeding $20,000 and not more than $50,000	$ 6,091,775

Internal Revenue by States.

In the total amount of internal revenue paid into the treasury New York is first with $104,910,489, Illinois second with $65,287,404, and Kentucky third with $37,242,180.

In individual income tax collections New York was far in the lead with more than $30,000,000. Pennsylvania paid in $6,313,191; Illinois, $5,106,689; Massachusetts, $4,193,828; New Jersey, $2,928,300; Ohio, $2,416,701.

In corporation income taxes New York paid $14,947,802; Pennsylvania, $6,789,242; Illinois, $5,579,151; Ohio, $3,627,218.

The commissioner's report shows an almost uniform increase in the production of taxable articles. The taxes on distilled spirits increased from $144,000,000 in 1915 to $158,000,000 in the last fiscal year.

More Cigarets Smoked.

Tobacco taxes increased by $8,000,000, more than half of which was due to the increased consumption of cigarets. The taxes on fermented liquors increased $9,000,000.

The same increases are reflected in the special taxes under the act of Oct. 22, 1914. The bankers' tax increased from $2,828,747 to $4,226,342; the tax on theaters from $789,997 to $1,014,911.

It appears from the report that the greater part of the individual income tax is paid upon fortunes yielding an income of more than $100,000 a year and a very substantial portion of it upon incomes exceeding more than half a million dollars.

THREE NEW CASES OF CHILD PLAGUE REPORTED.

Acting Commissioner of Health Sees No Cause for Alarm in Chicago Situation.

Three additional cases of infantile paralysis were reported yesterday, making a total of fifty-one cases in Chicago. No fatalities were reported, however, and Dr. Gottfried Koehler said the fact that three additional cases have been reported in the city should give no cause for alarm.

"We have the condition well in hand," said Dr. Koehler, "and the epidemic crisis has been passed."

Those taken to the county hospital with the disease yesterday were:

Jacob Kieffer, 2 years old, 1716 HUDSON AVENUE

Evelyn Billow, 3½ years old, 1317 HASTINGS STREET.

Thomas Fawcett, 6 years old, 225 EAST THIRTY-FIRST STREET.

Dr. Koehler is acting commissioner of health in Dr. Robertson's absence.

PIER OFFICIAL ASSUMES BLAME IN DEATH CASE

Gregg Declares Dr. McFarland Can't Be Censured for Hospital Conditions.

Assistant Superintendent E. W. Gregg of the municipal pier last night took all the blame for hospital conditions on the pier upon himself. This applied to charges made against Dr. W. A. MacFarlane and the two nurses in the Ray Laubinger case.

"I stand behind this doctor to the limit," said Mr. Gregg. "Of course he is well along in years, but any charge that he was sleeping while on duty is absurd. Nor is it true that he fails to report at the proper hours. His shift is from 3 p. m. to 11 or 12 midnight, and the time clock record shows that he has been here regularly at those hours. I consider him an efficient and capable man.

Screens Had Not Arrived.

"As to the charge that there were flies in the hospital when Life Guard Laubinger was brought in, perhaps it is true. Screens for the windows were ordered four weeks ago and had not arrived. It is correct also to say that there probably was only one nurse on hand when this accident happened. That is all there is supposed to be. We have had two nurses, and each of them, like the doctors, work an eight hour shift. The first shift comes at 9 a. m. and works to 5 p. m. and the second begins at 3 p. m. and stays to 11, and on Saturdays and Sundays until 12."

Dr. J. C. Ross, second of the physicians appointed by Health Commissioner Robertson and criticized in the report made by Public Works Commissioner Moorhouse yesterday, said last night that on the day Laubinger, the University of Illinois life guard, was fatally injured, he had turned over his work for an hour or two to a substitut. This substitute and the man who gave Laubinger first aid was Dr. Edmund Kietzer.

Relieved for an Hour.

"I had been relieved for an hour," said Dr. Ross, "with the permission of the superintendent. Dr. Kietzer took my place just before Laubinger was run over by the boat. The patient received every possible aid. There positively was no shortage of bandages or cotton on that day. There is no shortage now. It is true I had orders in for more supplies, but that is my habit."

GAIRDNER ON HIS WAY HOME

Indisposed Pastor to Be Received by Friends Without Criticism.

VESTRY MEETS TONIGHT

pected to attend the vestry meeting tomorrow night are A. J. C. Ledgerwood, Dr. James H. Ross, Ward B. Howland, and Mr. Hand.

A motive was revealed for the activity of Louis Schneider, the café and saloonkeeper who has bestowed daily attention upon the unfortunate rector, giving him auto rides and paying some of his bills. Mr. Schneider intends, he said, to use his deeds of beneficence as ammunition powder in the campaign for prohibition which soon is to be entered upon in Detroit and the state of Michigan.

"I'll make that pack of preachers howl when the prohibition campaign is on," he said. "Not one of them came to befriend an unfortunate brother when he was down and it was left to a saloonkeeper to lend him help.

Will Befriend Mrs. McCarthy.

Schneider stepped in today also as a friend of the accused Mrs. Anna McCarthy, who is still behind the prison bars waiting the further progress of her trial for stealing a silver mesh bag at the time it was claimed she first met Dr. Gairdner in Detroit, an incident which led to the damaging publicity which has since pursued the rector.

In an interview at the jail today Mrs. McCarthy said she cherished no ill will towards Dr. Gairdner, but did not feel he had treated her right by bringing up her past record.

VESTRYMEN TO MEET.

For the first time since the Gairdner episode began there will be a quorum of the vestrymen of St. Martin's church of Austin present today in that parish. Just where the meeting will be held all the vestrymen seen last night refused to say.

Dr. J. H. Ross of 316 North Austin avenue said, "It will not be a regular meeting. It will be, you may say, a Big Brother meeting, to hear the report that Herbert P. Hand of 32 North Pine avenue brings of his conversations with Dr. Gairdner. The minister will not be present. In no sense will it be a meeting to haul him over the coals."

While this meeting is not officially called, it is known that the senior warden, A. J. C. Ledgerman of 5835 Washington boulevard, will be given authority to give the public the position of the church in the affair.

There was a large congregation present at the morning services of St. Martin's church yesterday. Archdeacon Plummer of Evansville, Ind., the supply minister, preached. He made no direct reference to the Gairdner incident. His text was from Genesis, and he retold the story of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, where Jacob was not condemned by God for deceiving his father. The general theme seemed to be, "Judge not." After the services several members said they considered it a defense of Gairdner.

"TRIB" STARS GO EAST WITH SOX TONIGHT

Cunningham and Norman to Start Trips Won in Amateur Tourney.

BY OTTO A. ENGEL.

All aboard with the White Sox tonight! Shortstop Daniel Cunningham and Pitcher Andrew E. Norman Jr. will become regular big leaguers when they throw their suit cases on the Pullman which will bear them to Syracuse, N. Y., on the first leg of their eastern journey with Rowland's men. These youngsters are two of the five who, through their ability on the ball field, won prizes offered by THE TRIBUNE and President B. B. Johnson of the American league in the second annual amateur tournament.

Two other players, Pitcher John S. Simmons and First Baseman Al Hoffman, must wait a month before the Cubs make their final swing of the eastern cities. The fifth member of the fortunate quintet is Pitcher John Berry, who won for himself a trip to the world series, the prize offered by Mr. Johnson for the best player in the tournament under 18 years of age.

Boys May Play Tomorrow.

There is a possibility that Cunningham will be playing mate to Ellie Collins and that Norman will be hurling curves to Schalk tomorrow when the Sox tackle the New York State league team in Syracuse. And there is a remote chance that either youngster will get in a championship game, just as Pechous did with the Cubs and Heine Rasmussen with the Whales last season. It all depends upon the position of the Sox in the battle for the pennant.

Right now it doesn't look real bright for these players to break in with the White Sox. Rowland's men are battling for a championship, and the manager will not jeopardize his chances by putting inexperienced youngsters into the game. If disaster overcomes the Sox both boys may be fighting the opposition along near the close of the trip.

Cunningham and Simmons Star.

Dan Cunningham, playing his last semipro game, for a spell yesterday showed the stuff that won a TRIBUNE prize. As shortstop with the Ragens against the Normals in the City league he accepted four putouts and three assists without a miscue, while offensively he poled two hits, one a double, and stole a base. Pitcher Simmons also was a hero in a twelve inning game for the Vohaska Braves at Waukegan.

Following is a letter of appreciation received from Al Hoffman, one of the two boys picked to travel with the Cubs.

Harvey T. Wooffruff [Sporting Editor Chicago Tribune.]—Although somewhat belated, I wish to thank you and the advisory board of judges for having selected me as one of the successful candidates of this year's tryouts. I had intended to thank the officials involved in the tryouts in person at our meeting last Thursday, but the bustling activities of the occasion tended to deviate me from my original intention.

In this connection I wish to commend the judges for the precision and and courtesy they employed throughout the tournament. It was their seemingly confidential attitude, yet dignified appearance, that instilled confidence in the contestants. The honesty employed in their selections, I feel, will be evidenced by the worthiness of the candidates in question.

With the highest personal regard of you, Messrs. Eldridge, Reading, and Ryan, I am, sincerely yours, AL HOFFMAN.

SIMMONS VICTOR IN 12TH ROUND

John Simmons, THE TRIBUNE amateur who won a trip east with the Cubs in the tournament just closed, pitched probably the best game of his career at Waukegan yesterday and led the Vohaska Braves of Chicago to a 3 to 2 triumph in eleven innings. With Darling on third in the eleventh, a squeeze play was worked perfectly and the winning run counted when Carroll laid down the bunt.

Simmons allowed Waukegan only five hits. He fanned twelve and walked only three. Steger, another TRIBUNE finalist, featured at bat with two hits, one a triple, which was the deciding factor in the rally by which the Braves tied up the game in the sixth. Score:

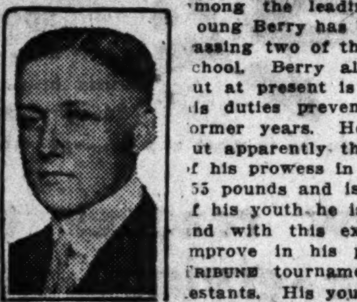
"DOPE" ON "TRIBUNE" AMATEUR WHO GOES TO WORLD'S SERIES

JOHN BERRY



John Berry, winner of the B. B. Johnson prize, a trip to the world's series, with all expenses paid, also is a pitcher. He was picked from among the leading players under 18 years of age. Young Berry has been playing ball for about four years, passing two of those years, 1914-15, at St. Philips High school. Berry also has played with the West Ends, but at present is not a member of any team, because his duties prevent him from playing as much as in former years. He is with the Western Electric firm, but apparently the Commercial leaguers haven't heard of his prowess in THE TRIBUNE contests. Barry weighs 155 pounds and is about 5 feet 8 inches tall. Because of his youth he is expected to add a few more pounds and with this extra avoirdupois is confident he will improve in his pitching ability. Berry entered THE TRIBUNE tournament before President Johnson offered [illegible] contestants. His youth counted against him in the battles [illegible] Sox or Cubs, but his determination and consistent efforts finally landed him the Johnson prize.

DAVIS WINS FEATURE AT CHICAGO GUN CLUB

Breaking 93 targets out of 100, W. A. Davis was high gun in the feature event of the weekly shoot at the Chicago Gun club yesterday. H. C. Snodgrass, who stood on the nineteen yard mark, and L. C. Huckins, who shot from twenty-one yards, tied for second place with totals of 92. O. W. Crocker and Dr. T. H. Lewis turned in scores of 91.

BURDICK VS. JERRY WEBER IN WESTERN FINAL TODAY.

The match between Heath Byford, the local expert, holder of the northwestern title, and Jerry Weber, also a local player, who is captain of the Yale university tennis team, will feature the matches to be played today in the twenty-ninth annual western tennis championships at the Onwentsia club in Lake Forest.

Byford and Weber have worked their way into the final match for the men's singles championship by the hardest kind of playing. Both have played matches in doubles and then have met much fresher opponents in singles. The winner of today's match will meet George M. Church, holder of the title, in the challenge round.

While Byford and Weber are engaged in their battle the women's doubles championship will be decided when Miss Mary K. Voorhees of Evanston and Miss Miriam Steever of Highland Park meet Miss Carrie B. Neely and Miss Dorothy Highbie of Chicago. This should be an interesting match, as all four women are playing perfect tennis and the team which wins will be entitled to not only the western women's doubles championship, but they will be rated high in the standing of women players at the end of the year.

SOCCER PRESIDENT INVESTIGATES HERE

John A. Fernley of Pawtucket, president of the United States Football association, who is making a swing around the western end of his circuit, will attend a meeting of the Chicago and District Association Football league at the Great Northern hotel tomorrow night. Apparently from an eastern viewpoint the Chicagoans are something in the nature of Villistas, always making trouble, and the president is coming to gather the facts.

The local men believe the trouble is at the other end, with Secretary Thomas Cahill, who is now in Sweden with the American soccer team, as the head of the opposition.

They claim they have met with persistent opposition from the secretary and a few of his henchmen. It took some hard fighting by the Chicago league to secure recognition from the U. S. F. A. as the governing body in this section in spite of the fact that thirty-one out of thirty-two clubs demanded it.

When the American team was picked to go to Sweden not a western man appeared in the original selection, but after Chicago had criticized this omission a place was made for Sheldon Govier of Pullman, and later M. B. Diederichsen of St. Louis was picked to fill a vacancy. Mr. Govier found the trip would entail great financial loss to him and so declined to go.

Before leaving for Sweden Secretary Cahill accused the Chicagoans of making a target of him by stating untruths, but the local men assert they have enough evidence to prove the boot is on the other leg. The Chicago men assert that if the U. S. F. A. hopes to solidify the game there must be less personal politics. If President Fernley does not understand the local situation now he will have ample opportunity of learning it tomorrow night.

DORELLA WINS YACHT RACE.

With Carl Teitgens at the stick the smart little yacht, Dorella, yesterday passed through the gap at the foot of Van Buren street the winner of the Hotel Stratford cup in the race from St. Joe, Mich., to Chicago. Intrepid, the winner of the annual race to Mackinac island, was second and Seminole was third. Because of the bad weather four other boats which represented the Jackson Park Yacht club did not start, but took shelter in the harbor of the Wolverine city. The three boats which started at midnight Saturday had a rough journey and all of them came across the lake under half canvas.

W. Kell, German-American A. C.	9
Vanderpelt, Belgian-American A. C.	4

Ernest Kockler of the Mystic Athletic club added to his cycling laurels last night by winning the five mile western championship at Riverview velodrome. The race was the final of the title series staged to pick two Chicago riders to compete in the national bike carnival at Newark. Kockler previously had corraled enough points to insure his making the trip east. By winning the five mile he left second honors to Daveni of the Italian-American club, who will be his partner on the eastern tour.

Third Honors to Kell.

W. Kell of the German-American Athletic club landed third honors in the title contests with nine points. Fourth place went to Vanderpelt of the Belgian-American Cycling club. Five races were held in the series, at one-third mile, one-half mile, one, two, and five miles. Kell finished second to Kockler in the five mile championship, with Guidotti of the Italian-American club third. The time was 11:15 3-5 Daveni started, but a punctured tire put him out of it.

The western champion made it Kockler night at the velodrome by winning two other events, a one-third mile point sprint and a two mile open contest. Chrostri of the Italian American club took the half mile handicap. A good sized crowd saw the pedallers perform.

WISHAAR WINS CYCLE RACE.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Ray Wishaar of Denver won the 100 mile national motorcycle championship after a pretty race with Red Parkhurst of Milwaukee this afternoon.

The race was a thriller throughout and the defeat of Parkhurst was a heartbreaker, for he led the field from the thirtieth mile to the ninety-fifth, when he was forced to make a stop for fuel. Wishaar, the winner, had been trailing a half lap behind at the time and shot into first place despite the fact that the Parkhurst pit crew made a remarkably fast job of filling his machine.

Lorenzo Bordo, Phœnix, Ariz., was third, and Verrill of Los Angeles fourth.

CHARLEY WHITE AND WELSH REACH DENVER FOR BATTLE.

Denver, Colo., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Freddie Welsh, lightweight champion of the world, and Charley White of Chicago arrived tonight. WHITE SOX TOSS GAME TO TIGERS, 9-4; REDS BEAT CUBS IN ELEVENTH, 4-3

Blunders on Bases and in Field Make Rowland's Men Look Bad.

25,000 SEE THE ROUT.

BY JAMES CRUSINBERRY.

Discarding all their big league manners, the White Sox made a sorry mess of their final game with Detroit yesterday at Comiskey park and almost destroyed the pennant hopes of more than 25,000 fans who looked on and knew that no team can play ball as the Sox played yesterday and win a flag. Detroit won the fight, 9 to 4, because the Sox had a half-hearted defense and a feeble attack marred by blunders.

The Tigers got away to a flying start with four runs in the third inning when they shouldn't have scored. Three balls were driven through the Chicago infield for base hits and every one of them should have been outs. After that affair the Sox staged a couple of rallies, gaining two well earned runs in the fourth and being helped to a couple in the sixth. This tied the count and put them back in the fight, but immediately they went all to smash again and tossed the game away with utmost recklessness.

Four Sox Doubled Up.

There has been bad base running many times on the south side this year, but yesterday the Sox bunched it. Three times during the game base runners were doubled by throws from the outfield, and once by infield plays. In the very first inning, with Weaver on first and one out, Eddie Collins drove a corking liner to center. Cobb caught it and pegged to first before Weaver could get back. In the fifth, with Terry on second and one out, John Collins drove a liner to center. Cobb jumped into the air, caught the ball and rolled it to second base for Terry was clear around third.

In the seventh, with Murphy on second and McMullin on first, one out and one run needed to tie the score, John Collins poled a beauty to deep left. Veach dashed back and made a sparkling catch, heaved the ball to third base, and Vitt relayed it to first base before McMullin could get back. The latter had rounded second, then seeing the ball was caught, started to cut across to first base. Then he remembered the rules of the game don't permit such things, so ran back and touched second and then made a race for first, but was too late.

Rowland Defense Also Weak.

The awful base running wasn't so surprising as the half-hearted fielding, for as a rule the Sox play a sturdy defensive game, and if they had done so yesterday they would have won handily in spite of their careless base running.

In the third inning, after one was out, Bill James poked a grounder down first base way. It looked like an easy out, but Ness didn't get near enough to the ball to tag it. It went for a single. Vitt followed with a smart smash down in the same direction, two feet inside first base, and though Ness was playing on the bag at the time to hold the runner there, the ball shot past him and hopped to the corner of right field for a triple, sending James in with the first run.

The next man was retired on a grounder to Weaver, then Cobb followed with a bounce right at Jim Scott's shoulder. Jim let it hop past him and out to center field for a single and Vitt scored. Following this mess Veach lofted a short fly close to the right field foul line just out of everyone's reach and made a double of it, Cobb going to third.

Williams Relieves Scott.

Although it wasn't entirely his fault, Scott was yanked from the slab at that point and Claude Williams sent in to stop the nonsense. Crawford connected with one of Williams' curves and bounded it down between Ness and E. Collins. It should have been easy for either of them. Ness made a bare handed stab at it, and deflected it out of Eddie Collins' reach, so it went for a single, letting both Cobb and Veach score. That made four runs, all of which went into the record as earned runs, but all of which would have been prevented with sharp fielding.

In the fourth the Sox opened a fierce attack on James. Eddie Collins tripled to left and Jackson doubled to right center, sending Eddie home. At this point Fournier replaced Ness and rolled out, Jackson moving to third, from where he scored on Felsch's out. In the sixth Weaver reached first because Burns dropped Bush's throw, then E. Collins singled to right, sending Weaver to third. Eddie stole second and Jackson walked.

Strike Out Helps to Two Runs.

In this pinch Fournier fanned, but as he took his third swing Weaver ran down the base line, drawing a throw to third, and it was a wild throw that let both Weaver and E. Collins score. Felsch then grounded to Vitt and was out and Jackson was doubled at the plate trying to score while the Tigers were rowing with the ump, claiming Jackson also should be out for running out of line.

In the seventh, with one out, Terry booted Cobb's roller, then Ty stole second and scored on Crawford's triple. In the eighth, with runners on first and second, Eddie Collins let an easy one go through him, and another run counted, and in the ninth two singles and a dropped fly ball by J. Collins let in the final cluster of three.

NEURITIS ATTACKS EVERS; OUT OF GAME INDEFINITELY.

Troy, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Capt. John J. Evers of the Boston Braves is at his home here suffering considerable pain in his left arm from a renewed neuritis attack. So far only temporary relief can be given, and Evers does not know when he will be able to play.

Union Giants, 2; Griswold, 1.

Atlantic, Ia., Aug. 13.—At Griswold today the home team lost to the Union Giants of Chicago before the largest crowd that ever saw a game there. Score:

Notes

The Sox will not play on the south side again until Sept 5, which may help some.

One hundred newsboys from Milwaukee attended the game yesterday as guests of Boss Comiskey and saw a lot of the same kind of stuff they have been seeing in Milwaukee.

An exhibition game is booked for the south siders today at McHenry, Ill., and if one was dissatisfied with what he saw yesterday, one may go to McHenry and look at 'em again.

The next championship battle will be in Boston on Wednesday. The Sox leave tonight for that border, stopping at Syracuse to put on an exhibition game tomorrow. Now that the pennant is clinched, the Sox can afford to spend their energy on exhibition games.

Andrew Norman and Dan Cunningham, two of the winners in THE TRIBUNE amateur tournament, will leave with the Sox tonight for the journey through the east. Andrew and Dan ought to have a lot of fun traveling with the Sox if they lose a few more games.

The crowd wondered why Young was called out in the ninth inning after apparently bunting in a runner from third and then racing clear to second while the Sox were wrangling. The reason was that he had been hit by his own batted ball on fair ground. Ump. Hildebrand, working behind the plate didn't see it and the decision was made by Ump. Owen.

Ed, alias "Hack," alias "Tub" Spencer, appeared in a big league unie yesterday as catcher for Detroit and worked in part of the game. It has been several summers since Ed wore the big league clothes, but they were quite becoming to him. Since he fell from the big show he has been starring and regaining his youthful poise and figure on the Pacific coast.

Notes

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Elliott will have to do all the catching for the Cubs now that Wilson and Archer are on the hospital list.

Manager Tinker is a wonder. He is the gamest loser the Cubs have ever had. He is trying his hardest to make them win.

Manager Mathewson of the Reds was presented with a birthday cake of considerable size before the game. Umpire Rigler made the presentation speech.

Heine Zimmerman was benched on account of his lame heel, but was forced back when Kelly was hurt. He did not drive a ball out of the infield.

Leslie Mann's catch off Heine Groh in the fifth cut off a run, for the speedy Red would have completed the circuit had it got away. Mann caught the ball with his back to the diamond.

Archer and Kelly were so seriously injured that Manager Tinker sent them to Chicago tonight. Archer's thumb was split and he will be out for a week or ten days. Kelly turned his right ankle and will be unable to play for a week.

Tinx Get Three in First, but Bum Throwing by Elliott Beats 'Em.

PRENDERGAST IS GOAT.

BY SAM WELLER.

Cincinnati, O., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Disappointment is striking the Cubs with persistent regularity. They came here this morning thinking they surely would shake loose their losing streak by beating the lowly Reds, but instead were set back another notch, losing, 4 to 3, in eleven innings.

It was a bitter pill to swallow for two reasons. One, because the Reds are the tailenders in the National league and ought to be beaten by most any team, and the second because the Cubs had a three run advantage, obtained in the first inning. That lead looked mountainous to the Cubs, and for a short time Manager Tinker lived in hopes of seeing his club win a game.

Cubs Throw Game Away.

But it appears the Cubs just cannot put across a victory. The Reds came back vigorously in the second and procured two runs, knocking Tom Seaton off the rubber. Mike Prendergast rescued him in commendable fashion and had the Reds baffled, but a wild, senseless heave by Rowdy Elliott permitted Mathewson's men to knot the count in the sixth, and another unnecessary throw let them win in the eleventh.

Opportunities were tossed to the winds by the Cubs. They collected thirteen hits off Mitchell, a southpaw, but had ten men left on the sacks. They had runners on the bases in every period except the fifth and eleventh, but did not have the required punch in their war clubs to bring home a solitary tally that would have given the club one victory in eight games.

Tinx Start and Finish Here.

There was a decided hush on Redland field when the Cubs were at bat in the first inning. Flack led with a double which Rousch lost in the sun and advanced to third on Mann's single through short. Saier cracked a one base drive to right, scoring Flack and sending Mann to third. After Knabe fouled to Wingo, Saier purloined the middle bag, whence he counted after Mann on Archer's single to left. Archer moved up on the throw, but remained at second while Groh threw out Kelly.

Archer, whose hit was responsible for the Cubs' decided advantage, did not finish the first inning, for he ripped the thumb of his throwing hand on a foul tip off Tom Griffith's bat. Rowdy Elliott caught the remaining innings and his work was not deserving of praise. Later in the game Joe Kelly turned his right ankle after nearly colliding with Knabe and was forced to retire from the battle.

Drive Seaton from Slab.

Seaton's duty on the rubber was short-lived. After he got through the first round successfully Chase started the second with a single and Wingo walked. Neale singled, filling the bases. Louden followed with a sharp hit over second and Chase and Wingo raced to the plate. Prendergast was hauled from the bullpen, and, with no one out, retired the side without another tally scoring.

The Reds gathered their first run off Prendergast in the sixth, when Griffith singled and made third on Chase's rap to right field. Chase started for second and as he did Elliott threw low to Wortman and Griffith romped home with the tying run.

From that inning until the eleventh the battle was brimful of action, Outfielders Mann, Kelly, Griffith, and Rousch making catches that sparkled with brilliancy. Each staved off a run by his catch. Mitchell and Prendergast both were effective, particularly in the pinches.

Defeat All but Averted.

Griffith led the Reds to victory in the eleventh when he trippled to the wall in right field. With only one run needed Tinker advised Prendergast to pass Chase and Wingo, filling the bases. Neale flied to Zeider, who went to left field after Kelly was hurt. Louden hit sharply to Wortman, who threw Griffith out at the plate. Elliott tried for a double play, but missed by a half step. Chase did not stop at third, but sprinted to the plate with the winning run when Mollwitz held the ball. Score:

HOMER BY ROTH BEATS BROWNS IN NINTH, 4 TO 3

Cleveland, O., Aug. 13.—A home run by Roth with one out in the ninth gave Cleveland victory over St. Louis, 4 to 3. Roth hit the ball to the score board in center field. The contest was a pitchers' battle, in which Lambeth and Davenport were effective with men on bases. The support accorded each pitcher was brilliant, Cleveland's double plays preventing runs. Roth drove in all of Cleveland's runs. Score:

CARDS WIN IN 11TH, 9 TO 8, THEN PIRATES COP, 9 TO 5.

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 13.—The St. Louis Cardinals mauled three Pittsburgh pitchers for twenty-three hits in the first game today, winning in eleven innings, 9 to 8. The second game, also a slugfest, was called on account of darkness at the end of five innings, Pittsburgh winning, 9 to 5.

Bescher's double in the eleventh of the opener scored Smith, who had walked, with the winning run.

After Pittsburgh had pounded Watson for eight runs the second game resolved itself into a farce. Catchers on both sides allowed players to run the bases wildly in an effort to get Umpire Quigley to call the game.

A BAD HABIT.

Wawasee, Ind., Aug. 13.

If my son Jim's affection for his father were sincere,
I think that he would drop that trick of walking off the pier.
I kind of feel that life would be a bit more pleasant here
If my son Jim would lose his knack of walking off the pier.

Normals and Rex Tigers were left in the tie for first place in the City league yesterday when they won their games, while South Chicago, which was in the running before, dropped a game. Normals found the Ragens hard picking, but came out on top, 4 to 1, at Normal park. Dave Wallace's single in the second, after Allen Black had doubled and Swanson had walked, scored two men. Maurice Schick got his fifth homer in four consecutive Sundays. Cy Young kept his six hits well scattered, while Dan Cunningham, one of the five winners in THE TRIBUNE tourney, also looked good in the field. Score:

Ideal Billiards handed the White Giants, champions of the City league, their second consecutive defeat, winning, 5 to 4, at the Giants' park. A wild peg by Vine Bullen to catch Smith taking an extra base on Butts' sacrifice let Smith in with the winning run. Nick Kearns worked a steady game for the winners, with only one bad inning, the third, when the Giants nicked him for three runs. Vic Novak starred in the field by accepting thirteen chances out of fourteen. Score:

AMATEUR GAMES

ROGERS PKS., 9; LOGAN SQS., 8.

Rogers Parks again triumphed over the Logan Squares at Sawyer and Milwaukee avenues, yesterday's decision being 9 to 8. Brown drew a thinking job in the eighth round, after a vicious attack by the home team, and Brown, his successor, was pounded hard in the ninth, three runs coming off him. The Logans bid for the game in the final inning, with the bases loaded, but a foul off Lindberg ended proceedings when it looked as though the visitors were ticketed to a defeat. Score:

RUN IN TWELFTH BEATS LINCOLNS FOR FOSTERS, 1-0

Pass Starts American Giants to Victory in Marathon Hurling Duel.

It took twelve rounds for the American Giants to win a 1 to 0 victory over the Lincolns of New York yesterday, the game proving the most sensational of the year at Schorling's park. Hill worked Sykes for a pass in the twelfth. Duncan sacrificed and Lloyd drew an intentional pass. Both runners moved up on Francis' out, then Grant's fourth hit, a sharp drive to short, let Hill score. The throw went wild, but one run was enough.

Sykes twirled magnificent ball and accepted ten fielding chances. Pete Hill pulled the most sensational play when he caught Parks' long fly and doubled Sykes at the plate in the eighth. Wickware pitched one of the best games of his career.

The second game billed was not started because it was so late when the first ended. The same teams play today. Score:

ARBA WATERMAN HAPPY OLD MAN DESPITE TRIALS

Former Judge Restored in Mind and Body by Careful Nursing.

The tribulations which former Judge Arba N. Waterman has undergone in the last few years at the hands of Carleton Hudson Betts, otherwise known as the "Count of Coxsackie," have told lightly upon him. At least that was the impression gathered by a TRIBUNE reporter who called upon the old man at his home, 649 Groveland park.

Six months of careful nursing in the quietude of his own home has done wonders in restoring the health and reason of this picturesque old gentleman.

"How is Judge Waterman?" The question was put to Attorney Edwin A. Munger, his lifelong friend, appointed his personal conservator by the federal court.

Attorney Makes Engagement.

"I'll call up the judge and tell him that you and I are coming out to his home to dinner to night, and then you can see for yourself," answered Mr. Munger.

It was 6 o'clock when Mr. Munger and the TRIBUNE reporter arrived at the Waterman home. The former judge was waiting on the doorstep with Dr. Leon F. Harris to greet his expected guests.

It seemed barely possible that this was the same man who six months ago, in his eightieth year, returned to his home in Chicago a colorless little old man with gaunt frame and thin face, after an enforced stay at a Massachusetts sanitarium.

During dinner the judge discussed many topics, telling his guests of his many trips abroad. He remembered details with wonderful accuracy. If his memory was failing him, the careful nursing of his faithful retainers has done much to restore it. Never once did he hesitate when recalling his trips with the late Mrs. Waterman to Japan and Alaska.

His trip to Japan is one of the judge's tenderest recollections.

Met Prominent Orientals.

"I will always remember it," said the judge. "During the World's Fair here both Mrs. Waterman and I met quite a number of prominent men from the orient. One day I asked Mrs. Waterman if she would care to make a trip to Japan.

"'We have met all these illustrious men from the east,' I told her, 'and now is the time for us to make the trip, if we are ever going to make it at all.'

"Mrs. Waterman was not a bit anxious to go and she did not hesitate in telling me, either.

"'If you want to go to Japan, then go ahead,' she said, 'but I am not going.'

"'Very well, then, my dear,' I answered, 'we will not go.'

"That afternoon I went downtown, and when I returned home Mrs. Waterman was upstairs in her bedroom. I went up to see her and found her packing her large steamer trunk.

"'What are you doing, Eloise?' I asked her.

"'Why, I am going to Japan with you, my dear,' she said. We left the following morning."

Escape from Drowning.

The judge also told of their narrow escape from drowning some twenty years ago while on a trip to Alaska.

"During the early hours of the morning while all the passengers were asleep," he said, "our boat crashed into a large rock on the way back from Alaska, but it did not waken either my wife or me. The first intimation we had that anything unforeseen had taken place was when the boat arrived in port. They carried out the bodies of seventeen passengers who had been either drowned or killed by the crash."

Doctor Always with Him.

Dr. Leon F. Harris is in constant attendance on Mr. Waterman and has mapped out a daily routine for his patient.

"The judge is in splendid health now," said Dr. Harris, "and he seems to enjoy every minute of the day. Strange to say, the heat of the last few weeks has not affected him at all. As a matter of fact, he stood it much better than any of us did.

"He rises every morning at 4 o'clock, and for two hours he will stroll around Woodland park. Then he has his breakfast and I read to him. After luncheon he insists on taking a long walk, and during the recent hot spell he picked out the very hottest part of the day for his walk.

"We have dinner at 6 o'clock, and nearly every evening he will listen to the wonderful organ which he had installed in his home at a cost of $10,000 for Mrs. Waterman."

Listening to Music.

Eight o'clock arrived. Dr. Harris was playing the overture from "William Tell." Judge Waterman was lying on a couch, drinking in every note from the instrument in which he takes so much pride. The music stopped. Mr. Munger noticed a little yawn.

"Bedtime, judge," he said.

"Yes; I guess I had better be turning in," answered Mr. Waterman. "And thank you, gentlemen, for your company. Come again soon, and please, Mr. Reporter, tell all my good friends in Chicago that Judge Waterman is feeling fine."

KIDNAPING YARN DRAMATIC, BUT VIOLA SPOILS IT ALL.

Child Says She Was Spanked, Then Took $6 and That's How She Got to Grandma.

One of these days a woman will step into the shoes of David Belasco, and her name will be Viola Nehle. It will be some time yet, for Viola is only 11 years old now, but her sense of dramatic fitness is developed to a point of wonderful realism.

On Saturday she was kidnaped from the home of her mother, 1648 Meyer street. It was a bold and knightly theft that bore Viola from her mother's fireside. It was an automobile—long, low, black, and forbidding—that slid into position before the house. It was a man—tall, dark, beetling, and handsome—that stood impatiently calling for her to hurry. It was a burst of twelve cylinder speed that marked her departure.

But no!

A row of asterisks and time elapsed. Yesterday Viola turned up in Omaha. And her grandmother, Mrs. Caroline Boysen, to whose Council Bluffs, Ia., residence Viola bent her steps, telegraphed to Viola's mother that the 11 year old Lady Belasco is safe and unkidnaped.

"She spanked me," said Viola calmly, referring to her mother, "and I took $6 out of her dresser drawer. There wasn't any black automobile. There wasn't any dark man. I just bought a ticket for Omaha and came to visit my grandmother. Now I suppose I shall be spanked again."

Ah, well, Viola probably is right. She will be home today.

Dies of Car Injury.

John Clancy, 55 years old, of 703 East Forty-fifth street, died yesterday at St. Bernard's hospital as a result of injuries incurred when he was struck by a State street car on Friday night.

DIVERSEY BEACH GRAFT CHARGE TO BE SOUNDED.

Officer of Lincoln Park Merit Board Will Investigate Accusations of Former Guards.

Charges that tips amounting to $3,000 or more have been collected at Diversey beach and "split" with Manager Frank Ucziwek will be investigated today by John C. Cannon, secretary of the Lincoln park civil service board.

The graft accusations were made last week by Thomas Craddock, Russell Evans, and James Lyons, former life guards, who were discharged recently from the park service. The beach manager denies the collection of money and declares the charges to have been made out of spite.

According to the three former employés, beach attendants canvassed the lines of waiting bathers on crowded days and arranged, for sums ranging from 25 cents to $1, to admit to the lockers those who paid in advance of those who did not. The favored ones, they declared, were smuggled through the office or the guards' lockers.

LONELY WOMAN FOUND DEAD

Miss Bridget Mary Owens' Body in Apartment at 5519 Kenwood Avenue.

Mrs. Bridget Mary Owens, who lived alone in the Monroe apartment building at 5519 Kenwood avenue, was found dead on the couch in her room yesterday by the Hyde Park police. The neighbors notified H. C. Chapman, the agent of the building, of their suspicion the woman was dead.

He found the door was locked. The police believe she has been dead for several weeks.

FREIGHTER REACHES PORT IN A SINKING CONDITION.

Steamship T. J. Hutchinson, Driven Ashore by Storm, Is Towed to South Chicago.

High seas and strong wind caused the freighter T. J. Hutchinson of the Hutchinson Freight line to run on shoals as it was leaving Indiana Harbor yesterday. The ship, which is 380 feet long, was helpless, and the tugs William A. Field and Mercereau towed the vessel into South Chicago harbor. The T. J. Hutchinson reached shelter in a sinking condition, the heavy seas having opened up its plates.

WILMETTE GETS A THRILL.

Suburb Turns Out to See Wholesale Bathing Arrests and Finds Them a Fake.

Wilmette was excited. It looked as if the entire town was due to be arrested.

"A policeman at the Wilmette Country club is arresting people by the dozen."

The report was passed from mouth to mouth. It swept from one end of town to the other. Hundreds of people hastened to the Country club bent upon investigation. They recalled that the park board recently had posted an order forbidding any one in bathing costume from crossing the city parks.

The excited villagers found Park Policeman Miller making one arrest after another. But strangely enough, his prisoners were released as soon as captured. There was a reason.

A camera was snapping the proceedings from a nearby point of vantage. Mr. Miller was posing, and the arrests were merely pictures.

A Wonderful Collection of Chinese Rugs

The lustrous, glowing beauty and depth of color which characterize the true Oriental—the strange symbolism that forms the basis of every pattern—the age-long wisdom which directs the preparation of each dye—these have given the Chinese Rug a charm that is as enduring as it is merited.

This collection, which is unusually comprehensive, contains the finest obtainable specimens—both antique and modern—of Chinese rug-weaving. The modern examples included were woven—under the supervision of our representatives—in Inner Mongolia and China, of live, tough wool from the spring clip.

Many are reproductions of ancient masterpieces. Chinese blue, old rose, gold, tans of various tones, ivory shades and the imperial yellow are the shades included. Practically all the designs are hand-carved, to raise the pattern into greater prominence.

MINISTERS GIVE MURPHY PRAISE; THRONG AT HOME

PRAYERS FOR THE FAMILY.

All Chicago yesterday mourned the death of Dr. John B. Murphy.

Prayers were offered for him and his family in nearly every church in the city, and many ministers eulogized him in their sermons. Special prayers were offered by Father Dunne, pastor of St. James Roman Catholic church at Wabash avenue and Twenty-ninth street, where the funeral services will be held this morning at 11 o'clock.

All da, long a stream of friends of the family, physicians, and those whom Dr. Murphy had helped in his lifetime passed through the doors and up the stairs to the second floor of the Murphy residence at 3305 South Michigan avenue, where the body lay.

Lies in State Today.

It was Mrs. Murphy's express wish that the body be not brought to the first floor until this morning. There it will lie in state and the public will be admitted until shortly before time comes for the procession to move to the church.

Twenty-five policemen under the direction of First Deputy Superintendent of Police Schuettler will be stationed in the vicinity of the residence and at the church to handle the large crowds which are expected.

The services probably will be the most The service probably will be one of the most impressive ever accorded a private citizen in Chicago. According to Father Dunne more than fifty, and possibly a hundred, priests will take part in the ceremony. Father Dunne himself will officiate and the sermon will be preached by Bishop Muldoon of Rockford. Bishop Dunne of Peoria also will attend.

Elaborate Musical Program.

An elaborate musical program will be given by Organist Middleschulte and a quartet consisting of Messrs. Burroughs, Burton, and Gannon, and Theresa Manning.

The active pallbearers will be Dr. Murphy's personal assistants, as follows:

Dr. John F. Golden.
Dr. Philip H. Kreuscher.
Dr. George W. Hochrein.
Dr. James A. Johnson.
Dr. Louis J. Mitchell.
Dr. C. B. Luginbuhl.

Joseph W. Cremin and Dr. Richard J. Tivnen will be masters of ceremony.

The ushers will be John Corboy, Frank Graham, B. H. Sullivan, Paul Nelson, Howard Keefe, Roy Carney, J. Ward Amberg, William Corboy, E. A. Cudahy, T. E. Coughlan, Dr. Hugh McKenna, and Raymond Hurley.

300 Honorary Pallbearers.

Nearly three hundred prominent citizens, physicians, public officials and friends of the noted surgeon have been named honorary pallbearers, and will accompany the body to its resting place in Calvary cemetery.

The line of march of the funeral cortege will be as follows:

From the church at East Twenty-ninth street and South Wabash avenue, over Twenty-ninth street to Michigan avenue, Michigan avenue north to Rush street, thence north to Ohio street, east on Ohio to Lake Shore drive, north to North avenue, through Lincoln park, by the east inner driveway to Sheridan road, north to Devon avenue, west on Devon to Sheridan road, thence north to Calvary. Enter by east entrance.

Members of the family talked over the telephone during the day with Archbishop Mundelein, who is in Maine, regarding the service. He expressed great regret that he was unable to reach the city in time to attend the funeral.

Call Memorial Meeting.

Five personal friends of the late surgeon held an informal meeting during the day in the office of Dr. W. A. Evans at the summons of Dr. A. Augustus O'Neill, president of the Chicago Medical society, at which it was decided to call a meeting within a few days to make definite plans for erecting a fitting "John B. Murphy memorial."

"The meeting was wholly informal," said Dr. Evans. "Those present asked that their names be not given out, as John B. Murphy's memorial is something that every one of us will have a part in and not just those present this afternoon."

The tentative plan is to form a medical center in Chicago that will unite all the medical organizations, not only of this city but also possibly of the middle west. As the idea is developing the organization will be housed in one large building or group of buildings. This medical center will contain facilities for the latest research and scientific investigation. It will be equipped with the best laboratories and the most complete libraries. It will have assembly rooms and halls for holding all the meetings of medical men and scientists. One principal feature will be a division devoted to scientific discovery.

Plan County Hospital Wing.

Plans for a Murphy memorial building in connection with the county hospital will be discussed today at the meeting of the county board. Dr. R. T. Vaughan, night warden at the hospital, and Dr. [illegible] Meyer, assistant day warden, suggested the project to President Peter Reinberg last night and he announced he would lay it before the meeting today.

Only $100,000 of the board's appropriations for hospital purposes will be left after bids are received today for the erection of a new power plant, but Mr. Reinberg said he believed sufficient funds for the memorial wing can be raised by public subscription.

Commissioners Thomas Kasperski, [illegible] O'Malley, and Daniel Ryan, announced they would approve the proposi-

REPORT 60 BARS DEFY 'LID' ORDER

Police Find Revoking Licenses Fails to Halt Sunday Violations.

Notwithstanding the action of Mayor Thompson in revoking thirteen saloon licenses last week for violations of the Sunday closing law, sixty saloonkeepers violated the law yesterday, according to reports forwarded to the office of First Deputy Superintendent of Police Herman F. Schuettler last night. Sixty-six violations were reported a week ago.

First Deputy Schuettler was in charge of the department in the absence of Chief Healey, who is out of the city. Because of the edict of Mayor Thompson that he would hold captains responsible for violations in their districts many of them went to their headquarter stations and took personal charge of ferreting out violators.

Motorcycle Sleuths on Job.

For the first time since the law was ordered enforced by the mayor motorcycle men sped through various sections of the city in search of violators.

Something unusual happened "back of the yards." Acting Capt. Charles Atkinson of the new city and stock yards stations, became a regular "gum shoe" prowler. He took three detectives out with him and personally found three violations. Not only that, but he actually took the "evidence," beer and whisky to the new city station, he said.

He Gets the Evidence.

The first saloon that caught the captain's eye was that of B. Barnoski and Gus Grimm, 5512 Archer avenue. he and the three detectives, they report, were served with bottled beer at 3 o'clock in the afternoon.

Next came the saloon of Frank Zielasny, West Fifty-third street and Archer avenue. They say they were served with bottled beer and one "booze." Atkinson says he took "booze, glass, and all" to the station.

Finally they entered Joseph Freund's saloon at 5223 South Cicero avenue, and, they assert, were served with four bottles of beer, which were confiscated.

"I wanted to nail a few violators myself," was Acting Capt. Atkinson's explanation.

CHICAGO WHEAT "GAMBLE" STIRS LONDON PAPER'S IRE.

American Business Men "Actuated Solely by Greed for Gold" "Bodes Ill for Future," It Says.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—The Chicago wheat pit is the object again today of a violent attack in the daily Express.

"Undeterred by the world war the wheat gamblers of Chicago are sending skyward the prices of grain from which mankind derives its daily bread, amassing their gains with as little compunction as the Bourbons used to gather taxes," it declares.

"Once again the provision pits present a discreditable spectacle of frenzied speculation, fleecing those whom they facetiously style their lambs, while in the British house of commons the premier is being urged to take what steps he can to arrest the rise in the price of a loaf.

"That a nation which has been described by its president as too proud to fight in the cause of liberty should comprise a body of so called business men willing to add to the sum of human suffering in this day of Armageddon, actuated solely by greed for gold, bodes ill for the verdict of the future."

FORMER SENATOR HALE AT POINT OF DEATH.

Maine Statesman Who Retired from Congress in 1911 Critically Ill at His Home.

Portland, Me., Aug. 13.—Former Senator Eugene Hale, who on his retirement from congress in 1911 had served longer than any other member then in either house, is near death at his home at Ellsworth. His son, Col. Frederick Hale, has been summoned to the bedside from his home in this city. Senator Hale, who is in his 80th year, was for many years chairman of the naval affairs committee of the senate.

WAVES PERIL THREE IN BOAT.

Three persons were at the mercy of the lake for more than two hours yesterday.

The boat belongs to Walter Brutos of 2026 West Coulter street, who was taking two of his friend, Miss Lois Charlton of 1920 West Twenty-second street and Charles Shea of 2243 North Robey street, for a ride.

When a mile and a half off North avenue the engine stopped.

C. Cook, in his launch Special Call, noticed their signals of distress and towed them to the shore.

DOCTORS MAY TESTIFY ON ALLEGED DIPLOMA MILL.

Trial of Suit Against Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery Will Be Begun Today.

Many Chicago physicians may be hit by the evidence to be heard in a suit in Judge Walker's court today alleging that the Chicago College of Medicine and Surgery is conducting a diploma mill. The suit was filed several weeks ago by Attorney George L. Schein for W. J. Pellett, a medical student.

Pellett started mandamus proceedings to compel the school to give him a diploma after he had taken a course in medicine. According to the bill it is alleged that the school has given for various sums of money diplomas to men and women who are now practicing medicine.

It is also charged that many students obtained a diploma before taking the prescribed course. Attorney Schein declares he will offer evidence to show that twenty-five students were given diplomas on May 25 "under suspicious" circumstances after they had been flatly refused by the faculty.

Attorney Schein also will present the names of almost fifty men now practicing medicine, who, he alleges, did not obtain their diplomas in a "manner that will bear light." He will ask the court to subpœna these men.

Snatches Purse from Woman.

Mrs. Ella White of 352 West Twentieth place reported to the police last night that her purse was snatched from her as she was walking west in Thirty-first street, between La Salle street and Wentworth avenue.

TRILLER TRIPS ON LIQUID NOTE

In Which a "Cop" Wrings the "Mon" Out of Tell Taylor's Harmony.

Being prominent is relative. A dab of crimson on the nose may be eminently distinguishing, but on the side of a barn becomes almost insignificant. A husband may be a tower of supremacy in the home, but he dwindles to a bobtail flush in the haunts of men. List to the tale told of Tell Taylor, the tinkling tune maker.

He sat in the Lambs' café, and lo, there were men servants who brought him brewage. And at 3 o' th' morn he strode forth and hailed a Yellow cab. He ordered the driver to be off south, where he bade two women to ride north again. Presently they arrived at the Hotel Sherman. Taylor and the women stepped out and started away.

Chauffeur Bids Him Tarry.

The chauffeur bade him stay and reckon with him.

"That's all right," called out the tuneful Taylor merrily. "I'm Tell Taylor. I'll settle later."

"Well, it ain't all right," returned the chauffeur. "I'm Bill Howe and you'll settle now."

And so, without more ado, the chauffeur drove to Central station and told his grief to the desk sergeant. Again the Tyrolean Taylor raised his voice and explained all about how prominent he was. Also he thrust forth a card signed by Chief Healey, which said:

"Please extend courtesy to the bearer."

That Magical Effect.

This instantly had its effect on the desk sergeant, who said he would try to be as decent to Taylor as he would to any other human being.

"You don't seem to know who I am," said the maker of music haughtily. "I wrote, 'Down By the Old Mill Stream.'"

"You should have stayed there," said the sergeant mildly, "water never hurt no one."

At this juncture Taylor threw back his head to prove his contention that he wrote the song mentioned. With right good will he sang a verse.

"He's gittin' hisself in worse every minute," observed a policeman.

And He "Lissened."

"Now lissen, Andrew Carnegie," said the sergeant softly, "you pay this here bill or I'll have to lock you up."

The sight of the barred doors worked wonders with the merry troller of staves, and he hurried to the Hotel Sherman, where he obtained the cash. Even then Taylor wanted to argue some more, but there was a dearth of interest and the chauffeur drove away.

MRS. VANDERBILT WANTED TO DON NURSE'S UNIFORM.

Thought It Only Way to Gain Entrance to Station Where Wounded Came from Front.

PARIS, Aug. 13.—Mrs. William K. Vanderbilt, chief donor and sponsor of the American ambulance at Neuilly, nearly had to don a Red Cross nurse uniform to gain entrance to the Gare la Chapelle—chief railroad station where wounded arrive from the front.

Mrs. Vanderbilt desired to see the actual work of the ambulance department, and when advised that a trainload of wounded from the Somme sector would arrive at midnight, she motored to La Chapelle station, driven by a nonuniformed chauffeur. The guards at the station, which now is used exclusively for the wounded, stopped Mrs. Vanderbilt's automobile. She explained that she was interested in the American ambulance, but the sentry was obdurate. An American ambulance chauffeur, a Yale student, recognizing Mrs. Vanderbilt, attempted to persuade the sentry, but the guardian was firm.

Next day Mrs. Vanderbilt explained her predicament to the board of directors, and it was decided she should wear the uniform of an American nurse that night. But before midnight a special pass permitting her to enter La Chapelle station was obtained.

CALHOUN MUCH IMPROVED.

Attorney W. J. Calhoun, former minister to China who recently was stricken with paralysis, was reported much improved at the Presbyterian hospital last night.

WIFE SEES HER HUSBAND SLAIN

Christopher Deubler Is Stabbed to Death in Room Above His Saloon.

Christopher Deubler, owner of a saloon at 918 West Randolph street, was stabbed ten times with a butcher knife and instantly killed last night by Andrew Bepper, in a quarrel in the victim's rooming house above the saloon. Bepper was arrested and confessed He said he killed Deubler in self-defense.

Deubler, who was 56 years old, was a brother of Charles Deubler, well known as proprietor of Old Quincy No. 9, a saloon and restaurant at 150-152 West Randolph street.

Mrs. Catherine Deubler, the slain man's widow, saw her husband fall mortally wounded and saw Bepper hurry away with a knife in his hand. She became hysterical.

Claims Self-Defense.

"I killed him—he got what he deserved—he'd have 'croaked' me if I hadn't got him," Bepper said when Lieut. William Fitzgerald of the Desplaines street station arrested him.

The killing was the outgrowth of trouble between Deubler and Bepper last Thursday, police said. Bepper roomed above the saloon. Deubler and his wife have made their home in the rooming house.

He Renews the Quarrel.

Last Thursday Bepper entered the saloon and is said to have abused one of Deubler's patrons. Deubler ejected him.

Bepper returned to the rooming house about 7:30 o'clock last night. He had been drinking, the police say, and the quarrel was renewed when he met Deubler on the second floor. Mrs. Deubler heard shouts and, rushing out into the hall, saw her husband stagger and fall and saw Bepper hurry away. Hans Hauk, 525 Wells street, and Herman Teshe, the latter a roomer, saw the affair and called the police.

CLYNE TO QUIZ WHEAT DEALERS ON PRICE RISE

Big Operators of Country Must Tell Whether Market Is Being Manipulated.

HURLEY TO AID QUESTIONING.

Dealers in wheat—principally those suspected of knowing whether the market is being manipulated—will be asked to appear in the United States district attorney's office to answer questions tomorrow morning.

The identities of the men who will be asked to visit the district attorney are being kept secret by District Attorney C. F. Clyne. His list contains the names of a dozen or more of the biggest wheat speculators in the country. With Mr. Clyne at the time the speculators are expected to appear will be Edward N. Hurley, chairman of the federal trade commission.

Must Answer These.

Following is the list of questions Mr. Clyne and Mr. Hurley have prepared to present, and convincing proof of the answers will be demanded:

Is the sudden jump in the price of wheat justified?

Did the speculators secure advance information on the report of wheat conditions before it was given out by the federal government?

Will the speculators allow an inspection voluntarily of their books and records of their transactions by the district attorney?

Do the speculators intend controlling the wheat output until Europe is forced to pay a higher price than America can possibly offer?

Will an embargo on wheat be opposed by the men in control of the wheat market?

Did the speculators know that the big bakers were short on flour?

Bar Future Manipulation.

Other questions will be asked, but those above are considered the most pertinent to the situation, and Mr. Clyne believes that if facts are offered as answers to them future manipulation will be prevented.

Proof that the wheat price boom makes the proposed increase in the cost of bread a necessity was offered to Mr. Hurley and District Attorney Clyne yesterday. Also to show that the cost must be increased either today or tomorrow, many of the big bakers proposed to offer their balance sheets and record books to the district attorney yesterday.

Only such things as crackers and cakes put up in packages which are advertised at one price extensively will be immune from a raise in price.

Cut Down the Weight.

Cakes, pies, bulk crackers, and rolls will be cut down in size during the week. This is a necessity, according to the bakers, to allow them to operate their plants without a loss.

Then every one will be eliminated from the list of losers except the consumer.

To prevent the price of bread from advancing District Attorney Clyne today will ask the bakers to delay raising the price for several days.

He will make his request for information on the market today for the purpose of determining whether a federal investigation will reveal a conspiracy between milling interesst and speculators to boom the price of wheat. In the event such a conspiracy is discovered, and evidence enough is obtained to indict, action can immediately be taken that will send the price of wheat down, he believes.

Harm in Hasty Action.

Hasty action, according to a statement by the district attorney, might result in a serious situation if taken before definite facts are procured that the jump in price is due to unnatural causes. Mr. Clyne does not anticipate any objection from the men, with whom he intends to talk over the situation.

Only those whose dealings will not bear the light can object to give aid in establishing the cause of the rise in wheat, in his opinion. One of the means by which the district attorney hopes to get at the bottom of the situation is the willingness of several former wheat brokers to talk.

According to an attaché of Mr. Clyne's office investigators have discovered five former wheat brokers who "went broke" on the last wheat corner, and who are now working in the offices of several big speculators.

Know the Wheat "Game."

These men, it is said, because of their knowledge of the wheat "game," are doing much of the "confidential" work for the big speculators. Whether statements had been obtained from the "five" was not revealed by Mr. Clyne when the matter was broached to him.

Mr. Hurley, who is working with Mr. Clyne gathering data on the activities of the alleged market manipulators, believes a sweeping investigation by the government and an embargo on wheat is the only means to prevent the "gouging of the consumer."

"All that the trade commission can do," he said, "is to coöperate with the district attorney's office in gathering data. We can only turn our findings and reports over to him. I believe Mr. Clyne will get at the bottom of the whole thing."

Schulze Urges Embargo.

Paul Schulze, president of the Schulze Baking company, who is coöperating with District Attorney Clyne in the government's investigation, declared that an embargo on wheat is necessary to prevent the price going above $2 per bushel.

"An embargo will prevent the wheat dealers from shipping it out of our own country to Europe," he said. "It is a shame that some action is not taken to protect our own people at home from a possible bread famine."

SOCIETY and Entertainments

New Red Cross Shop Opens Today

THE ways of war seem to have found their way into north shore society this week. Work for the Red Cross has been going on all summer with a zest which has taken precedence over the frivolities of the summer time, and as a result tomorrow the new Red Cross shop here in town on East Washington street will be opened.

While busy fingers are making Red Cross supplies, youthful feet will be tramp-tramp tramping when the girls are marching in the National Service school at Lake Geneva which also opens tomorrow. The entire younger set at Lake Forest has joined the camp and many of them are full fledged officers. The stars and stripes are certainly the coat of arms of society this week.

Mrs. Lawrence M. Viles of Lake Forest is busy choosing the furnishings for the house on North State street which they bought and remodeled.

Count Bolognesi was unable to get the John Griffith house in Lake Forest as he had expected, and he and the countess, who was Miss Rosa Garibaldi, have the little house on Brushwood road which formerly was occupied by Mrs. Bryan. There is sure to be much entertaining in Lake Forest for this very popular bride and bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Black of 2258 Lincoln Park west leave today for a motor trip through the east. They will return Sept. 1. Miss Lydia Beckwith, Mrs. Black's daughter, will resume her studies at Rosemary Hall, Greenwich, Conn.

The work of remodeling and enlarging the Woman's Athletic club will begin today.

Miss Edna Dison will return to Oconomowoc early this week. She has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. John C. Pitcher of Lake Forest for several days.

Cards have been sent out by Mrs. Abby Farwell Ferry for a reception Thursday afternoon at Beach Brow, her Lake Forest estate. Her son and his bride, the Rev. Horace Farwell Ferry and Mrs. Ferry, will be the guests of honor.

H. F. Bar ranch will have an addition to its younger set. William, Russell and Phelps Kelley, sons of Mr. and Mrs. William V. Kelley of 1550 North State parkway, have gone there for the month of August.

Benjamin Carpenter Jr. has returned from the training course at Plattsburg. He will be with his parents in Lake Geneva the rest of the summer.

C. D. Comstock gave a dinner Saturday evening at the South Shore Country club for Miss Ellen Taylor, Miss Mary Bloomhoff and Melville Smith.

The latter part of this month Mrs. Robert A. Gardner, who was formerly Miss Katherine Keep, plans to visit her mother, Mrs. Chauncey Keep, in Camden, Me. According to present plans the marriage of Henry B. Keep and Miss Katherine LeGendre of New Orleans will take place in November.

Early in the fall Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Belknap of New York will return to Evanston to live.

Judge Merritt W. Pinckney and Mrs. Pinckney of 5626 Dorchester avenue are spending the summer in their summer place at Newaygo, Mich.

Mrs. Coonley Ward has a unique house party at her country place near Wyoming, N. Y. All the members of the organization of the Portmanteau theater of New York are staying with her for a month.

Mrs. William K. Hodgkins and her son, Press, of 5046 Greenwood avenue returned yesterday from California where they have been visiting Mrs. Hodgkins mother, Mrs. W. L. Press.

Beauty Hints

by Antoinette Donnelly

If you missed the Antoinette Donnelly series telling how she reduced Mrs. Lane thirty-six pounds in six weeks send her stamped addressed envelope and she will mail you complete exercise and diet instructions. Any other questions on obesity will be gladly answered by Miss Donnelly.

MIRA: IF THE HAIR IS WELL taken care of and the roots are properly stimulated, it is not so apt to turn gray. I suggest your taking a course of scalp treatments or learn to massage your scalp yourself. It requires no especial skill. Begin by placing the hands, with fingers spread out so as to cover as wide an area as possible, at each side of the forehead, just where the hair begins. The finger tips should touch in the center and cover almost the whole top of the head. Work them slowly forward in imaginary circles, first gently, then firmly, over the same part of the scalp, until the crown of the head is reached. Then begin with one hand above each ear and move upwards in the same way until the fingers meet at the crown of the head. The third and last movement is to work from the neck upwards to the same central point. In this way the whole scalp can be stimulated in a couple of minutes.

MISS G. M.: IN MY WORK OF MAKing Inez Hahn's sick hair well I had her massage her scalp twice daily. Her hair was excessively oily and she had a great deal of dandruff. In this way she worked out the diseased oil in the sebaceous glands and reduced the swollen condition of the glands, which is necessary to start a healthy circulation in the scalp. I shall be glad to send you the formula for tonic for dandruff which Miss Hahn used if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

MAUD: THE BICYCLE PEDALING exercise will reduce thighs, buttocks, and hips. With hands clasping knees, thighs flexed on abdomen, foot extended, and toes pointed outward, push legs forward alternately with resistance. This is one of the exercises I used in reducing Mrs. Eva Lane thirty-six pounds in six weeks. I shall be glad to send you all the articles in the series of reducing Mrs. Eva Lane if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

TILLIE: HOT WATER DOES NOT cause facial wrinkles. Lack of proper nourishment, loss of sleep, and a rundown system all play their part. There is no harm in using powder on your face if you use a good grade of rice powder. It is best to apply a good cold cream before putting on the powder. My formula for cold cream and instructions far facial massage are much too lengthy to print, but I shall be glad to mail them to you if you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope.

Harold often gets out of patience with his little sister because she always follows him every place she can. One day he came in and said: "Mamma, it just looks like I was Mary and sister the little lamb." MRS. D. J. L.

Late one day my little daughter Madge heard her mamma say, "Guess we'll have to go to bed in the dark tonight, for we haven't a drop of oil for the lamps." That evening about dark Madge was going with me to shut up the chickens, when a lightning bug flew up a short way ahead of us. She started after it, saying: "Papa, come, catch a lamp." T. J. H.

One day Jesse started to a distant part of the field with his father. After walking half way across he became tired; his father told him to lie down beside a straw stack and rest until his return. On coming back to the house his mother said: "Are you not tired, Jesse?"

"O, no, mamma," he replied; "I laid down on the straw and slept with the other little pigs while papa was gone." S. H.

My little boy had been playing with a little fellow across the street, whose house is built on the rear of the lot, and when he came in he said: "Mamma, isn't it funny Willie's back yard is in the front." A. O. N.

Veterans of Foreign Wars Meet.

Several hundred delegates arrived in Chicago last night to attend the annual encampment of the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, which opens at the Hotel Sherman today. A special train over the Lake Shore, bearing Vice Commander-in-Chief Thomas S. Crago, Adj. Gen. Robert G. Woodside, and delegates from eastern states arrived at 9 o'clock, almost at the same minute as Commander-in-Chief Gus Hartung of Denver and delegations from the west pulled in over the Northwestern.

More than 1,500 veterans were expected to attend, but owing to the fact that a large number are seeing service on the border now it is not likely that more than 1,000 will come.

The encampment usually starts on Aug. 13, the anniversary of the capture of Manila, but owing to the fact that this date fell on Sunday this year Aug. 14 was chosen instead. The final session will be held on Thursday.

FASHION'S BLUE BOOK

Early Autumn Costume of Velvet and Chiffon.

BY JEAN SEIVWRIGHT.

AS the seasons change, many changes appear in the fabrics with which a woman clothes herself. Summer taffetas will soon be replaced by satins and velours, and nothing can equal the beauty and becomingness of rich dark velours. As they are to be much worn, we may expect new suppleness in some of the textures and many beautiful fantasies.

The model pictured, made up for between seasons wear, is originated in a soft tête de nègre velvet and chiffon of the same tone. Blue satin is chosen for the lining of the lower part of the bodice and the upper part of the skirt, and this shows agreeably through the chiffon. The buttons and loops are made of tiny bands of velvet and the vest is of white tulle beaded with blue. The tailored bow is also fashioned from blue satin.

The hat that completes this early autumn costume is of tête de nègre velvet with a touch of beaded color in blues, greens, and an odd ocher. Such a gown is a most useful accessory to the wardrobe, for it can be worn on many different occasions. When covered by a coat the skirt is quite simple and short, while the suggestion of décolleté lengthens its daytime usefulness into that of evening and the lightness of the entire chiffon bodice makes it comfortable for the theater.

One notes in this model that the waist is rather high—a style that is most youthful and attractive. Other indications in the world of dress seem to accentuate the return of empire modes, although this will be modified to meet the requirements of the present day.

Many of the handsome coats for fall and winter are designed with a rather high waistline, a broad belt in front, a loose back, and an upstanding fur collar.

POOR little dolls, they can't eat Kellogg's Toasted Corn Flakes, but real little children can and do. They know flavor and crispness, and they want Kellogg's—the nice golden flakes with the fresh-from-the-oven taste.

Imitations come and go! They change their name. They change their form. Some do both. Kellogg's—the Original Toasted Corn Flakes remain as original as ever—light, and dainty, appetizing in flavor with a melting crispness on the tongue.

Work Among the Roses.

COMPLAINTS come in from all over the country of failures with roses. They grow well—or seem to—set plenty of buds, but when these buds are nearly developed the outer petals dry up in such a manner as to prevent the flower from expanding. The query is—what's wrong? And what can be done to remedy the condition which seems so prevalent?

It is impossible to say just what the cause of trouble is, but I am inclined to attribute it to a weakness of the plant, resulting from improper treatment. It is possible that not enough nutriment has been given to fully supply the plant with the food which it requires, in order to perform its work satisfactorily, and because of this it is lacking in vitality. Failure to perfect its blossoms is one of the results of insufficient nutriment, in all probability.

It is now too late in the season to begin a regenerative treatment, as much of the annual growth of the plant has been completed and the application of strong food would result in a late growth which might not be fully ripened when winter sets in. But early in spring I would advise making a liberal application of fertilizer to each plant, working it in well about its roots.

The best of all fertilizers for this plant is, as I have repeatedly said in this department, old, thoroughly rotted manure from the cow yard. Use it generously, as the rose is a great eater of rich food when given a chance to get it and will never do itself justice if it is withheld. Just how much to apply to each plant it is not easy to say, as soils differ so greatly in natural fertility that one cannot give a hard and fast rule as to quantity, but there is little danger of using too much.

The object is to so feed the plant that it will develop all the strength possible and store up such an amount of vitality as will enable it to do its work in the best possible manner. In order to do this it must be in perfect health, and perfect health is the result of high feeding in a large degree.

It is well to go over the bushes in spring and cut away all weak wood, and if the bush is thick to thin it in such a way that there will be a free circulation of air.

It is possible that wet weather, followed by heat, is responsible for many of the failures. Of course nothing can be done to control atmospheric conditions, but it is possible to so build up and strengthen the constitution of the plant that it may have a sufficient amount of vitality to overcome unfavorable conditions of this kind.

O. A. CHAPIN: Lily of the valley prefers shade to sunshine. Fertilize enough to keep the plants in a vigorous, healthy condition. Cut out pieces from the old bed, and let the plants that are left fill the vacant places. Set new ones same depth as old plants. Your snowball should have been sprayed early in the season with a nicotine infusion. Reset lily of the valley now. I would not advise the use of horse manure on any of the plants named in your list. I do not advise the use of ammonia. It may stimulate somewhat, but it does not contain any of the elements of plant food.

TRIBUNE READER: I think your grapes would have a better chance if they were planted where they could have a free circulation of air. However, I would not move them now. The top of asparagus plants should be cut off if they show signs of rust—not otherwise.

Real Love Stories

Father in the Way.

IT was twenty-five years ago that I loved a young man three years my senior, but my father was so bitter against my ever getting married that it was impossible for me to think seriously on the subject.

When I saw Harry it was when father was away from home; when we corresponded the letters were left under a little bridge close to our home. My father had been unkind to Harry so often that Harry finally told me I must either marry him or we must stop such a courtship. He begged me to marry him and live in another state. This I refused to do without father's consent, which I was never able to gain.

I traveled six years trying to forget Harry, but I never did, and when I heard ten years after that he had married one of my schoolmates I returned home to give up the battle.

My father has been dead sixteen years and I have lived alone except for the help I have had in the house. Harry is the father of a brown eyed boy whom I love dearly, and some day will come into all I possess.

As I write this I am sitting up in bed, my health has failed. I am only waiting the end. Perhaps it was best the way it happened, but I can't help but feel that I have lived a life misspent. E. B.

"Marriage is an eye opener—it enables husband and wife to see each other as others see them."

Two Jealous Boys.

"Dear Miss Blake: Would you please give me some advice about what to do? I have a boy friend and I love him dearly. There is also another boy who pays a great deal of attention to me, but I do not care as much for him. I went out with this boy one night and my friend got awfully jealous of this boy. Now, I do not know which one to pay any attention to, for if I pay more attention to one than the other the other one gets jealous. "P. E."

Drop them both, or else give each to understand definitely that you are not going to specialize yet a while. It is perfectly absurd for young boys and girls to try to restrict each other's company. When you are old enough to be engaged there is time enough then for this attitude. Perhaps if you added a number, three to your list of friends, it might solve the difficulty.

She Is Too Busy.

"Dear Miss Blake: Could you kindly advise me what to do? I am a boy of [illegible] and am desperately in love with a girl of 18 and I think she loves me, too, but one thing is that I asked her three times whether I can take her out and she refused me. Her answer was she is too busy. What can I do? L. T."

What makes you think she loves you? It doesn't sound to me as if you had a very strong "stand-in" with the young woman in question. Just try ignoring her for awhile and see if that doesn't bring better results. At least, let her think that you are much hurt at her treatment and do not intend to try again to make a date with her. Let me know the results.

Has a Questionable Mother.

"Dear Miss Blake: I'm a fellow aged 20, and go with a girl a year younger. She is considered bright and attractive and is liked by every one.

"Her father is also a mighty fine man, but her mother has a questionable reputation. For this reason my parents and family object to me going with her.

"Now do you think a girl should be blamed because of her mother's actions and should I stop going with her? "L. W."

I see I will be getting into a family discussion if I take sides in the matter. But if you are positive that you are right in your estimate of the girl and her father, then I think it's a pity to blame the girl for her mother's indiscretions. If the girl can maintain her balance and reputation under such circumstances, she deserves a great deal of credit and "a boost" rather than a push down. In my opinion, you are old enough to stand by her, if you are sure of your grounds.

SOME people pay 3 cents, 10 cents, 25 cents for a small cake of soap simply because it is called "toilet" soap.

Others pay 5 cents for a six-ounce cake of Ivory Soap because they know that better soap cannot be made.

Ivory Soap is pleasant to use. It does not harm the tenderest skin. It lathers freely. It rinses easily. It is made of the finest materials to be had. It floats.

No soap can do more no matter what its price.

CIRCUMSTANCES moved singularly to give "Pillars of Society" the appropriate privilege of inaugurating the Triangle régime at the Fine Arts theater. It was a picture made by Majestic before the era of Triangle, produced in those ambitious days when the Biograph chrysalis was beginning to give its butterfly wings the full sweep of testing powers.

"The Avenging Conscience" had shown the emotional possibilities of the film medium. "The Birth of a Nation" had been made, but not launched, and in the hiatus between the discovery of what might be done and the preparation for the display of the master work the fire of ambition was kept in a glow by work on multiple reelers, among them Ibsen's "Ghosts," which was released, and this "Pillars of Society," which was wisely held away till it could be launched under the sign of the Triangle.

Interesting it is to note that it is a photoplay of present day Fine Arts caliber, though made so long ago when the several reel pictures were the exceptions rather than the rule.

It is a picture of sterling quality from every angle. There is a great cast of "Birth of the Nation" people. Henry Walthall as Karsten Bernick reassures the observer that he is really an actor of parts. His earnest, meaningful work visualizes vividly the man putting his best foot foremost at the expense of all of his friends and then finding himself in a desperate tangle of his own making.

Josephine Crowell as the managing mother is a real Norwegian lady. Mary Alden dominates her scenes with the force of a fine character working on others. She is one of the screen's superior players. Her mature womanliness is instantly winning and the charm of her appeal is sustained by her simple natural playing. Lona is a characterization particularly suited to her mentality. I wish we might have her in more Lona types, for they are thoroughly wholesome.

Olga Grey, the adventurous person, in George Beranger, who is remembered most recently for his Dynamite Joe purging Douglas Fairbanks in that merry lark "Flirting with Fate," and Loretta Blake, who was a newcomer then, are others of the cast.

The same quality of quiet, dignified playing that we know now in good pictures prevails in this. There are moments of tense significance when there is very little movement on the screen, and those are the moments that stick in one's memory.

Some thrill has been provided, of the kind many minds require for pictorial entertainment—a ship burns in harbor—but the real thrill that has been put into the picture is the feeling stirred in the players by the catastrophe and their mental reaction to it.

The photoplay is strikingly mental in its effect. It brings Ibsen to a lot of people who would never meet him otherwise and in a manner that need not make the Norwegian playwright even shudder at his celluloid revival, wherein he has it over a great many of his writing colleagues, both ancient and contemporary, who have fallen onto the films, whether they would or not.

If there is anything in signs, which most of us secretly and way down deeply believe there is, it is a very good omen to have "Pillars of Society" introducing Triangle to its new home at the Fine Arts. I hope the at homes will be largely attended this week, for the sake of the program and of the public which will enjoy it.

Nance O'Neill a Bride.

New York, Aug. 13.—It was learned today that Miss Gertrude Lamson, who became the bride of Alfred Hickman, actor, on Saturday, was Nance O'Neill, the actress. That Miss O'Neill's name in private life was Gertrude Lamson had not been generally known, but a reporter learned from her that she and Hickman were in New Rochelle.

Broadway was not surprised. The couple met five years ago, when both were members of the all-star company which David Belasco presented in "The Lily." Lately they have been together much. Hickman has been Miss O'Neill's leading man in moving pictures.

Miss O'Neill was born in Oakland, Cal., on Oct. 8, 1874. Her greatest successes have been scored in emotional rôles. This is Hickman's third marriage. He married Blanche Walsh in 1896, but the wedding did not become known until seven years later, when Miss Walsh obtained a divorce. He is an Englishman.

Most Features Ought to Be That Length.

The tabloid photoplay, or about a quarter of a regular one, echoing back to the former popular split reel, is going to be established by Mutual in its "Reel Life" weekly. They will be complete stories told in 250 feet. The first one will be the "Ant and Grasshopper Fable."

Pay Tribute to Massacre Heroes

THE obscuring veil of a full century will lift for three heroes of the Fort Dearborn massacre tomorrow when the 104th anniversary of Chicago's first tragedy is commemorated at the massacre monument at Eighteenth street and Prairie avenue. Under the auspices of the Chicago Historical society, the Irish Fellowship club, the Palette and Chisel club, and the Spanish-American War Veterans the day will be observed with patriotic addresses by Lieut. Gov. O'Hara, Martin J. Walsh, Col. Gordon Strong, and Frederick J. Ireland and by the presentation of two large floral wreaths commemorative of the heroism of William Caldwell, Ensign George Ronan, and Sergt. Dennis Hayes, through whose efforts most of the women and children of old Fort Dearborn were saved from the general massacre.

About the three heroic figures centers a romantic story of chivalry and valor and to the members of the committee in charge of the event it seems incredible that the men should have been forgotten. At the suggestion of Thomas A. O'Shaughnessy, artist and historical painter, the question of naming a forest reserve after Ronan and Hayes will be considered on Monday by the county board, while Mrs. Florence Vosbrink of the board of education has signified her intention of asking that a school be named for William Caldwell and his fellow members of the heroic triumvirate. The movement has the backing of all the organizations interested in the commemoration of the massacre, and especially of Col. Gordon Strong, who was born on the site of the massacre.

The floral pieces are the gift of Peter Reinberg and will be placed on the monument by Miss Kathlyn McCarthy, attended by Errol and Anna Ireland, twin children of Mr. Ireland.

The Spanish-American War Veterans will be represented by Col. Gordon Strong, Lieut. Gov. O'Hara, and a firing squad which will accord a military salute to all the massacre victims. Col. Strong, himself, was born on the site of the massacre of pioneer parents and will deliver an address following Mr. O'Hara in support of the idea of educating Chicago school children in the colorful history of their native city.

Martin J. Walsh of the Irish Fellowship club, John E. Phillips of the Palette and Chisel club, and Mrs. Florence Vosbrink of the board of education also will deliver addresses advocating an organized effort to reawaken Chicagoans to patriotic observance of the anniversary.

THE TRIBUNE COOK BOOK

By JANE EDDINGTON

All recipes have been scientifically tested by Miss Eddington with current market materials and are indorsed by her.

When dyspepsia is written all over the face of a human being, as manifestly as measles fall out, he quite uniformly craves something for the food place that is not food.

Concerning Dill Pickles.

A PIECE of information that may be acceptable to some of my readers is that in the Country Gentleman for Aug. 5 there is an article of three columns with the title "Preserving Cucumber Pickles, Tested Recipes for Home and Commercial Use," by J. G. Boyle.

The subjects treated in this article are containers, types of cucumbers, picking and grading, salt or brine pickles, dill pickles, sour pickles, mustard pickles, sweet pickles.

Of course my advice is to let pickles alone. Heavily salted food is hard on the kidneys, heavy acids on the tissues. A fresh salad served with a carefully mixed French dressing, whipped till creamy, will satisfy most people instead of pickles after they once learn to eat it, and it takes no argument to convince anybody that fresh foods are better and more wholesome than preserved.

There are recipes in this article for both the commercial and the home made dill pickle. The latter reads: "For home use, when smaller amounts of dill pickles are to be made, the following method will give good results: For each gallon of pickles prepare three sticks of dill weed, a handful of cherry leaves, a handful of grape leaves, and a handful of peach leaves by washing them in water and mixing them together. Then place a layer of the leaves and dill on the bottom of the jar, then two layers of pickles followed by the leaves and dill until the jar is full. Sprinkle a handful of leaves over the top and pour in cold water until the jar is full. Place on a cover and weight it until the cucumbers are covered with the brine. Dills prepared in this manner will be ready to use in ten days if the weather is warm and in three weeks if cool. If the dills are not salty enough to suit the taste the cover can be removed and more salt sprinkled in."

MARION HARLAND'S HELPING HAND

By MARION HARLAND

Wrinkles in Taffeta.

"I PRESSED out the wrinkles from a silk taffeta skirt, laying a damp cloth over it to prevent scorching and change of color from the hot iron. When the cloth was lifted I found that the silk was stiff, almost brittle. What can be done with it? I fear it will crack. K. Y. Z."

The mistake was in dampening the cloth. A piece of soft, thin, dry muslin would have been better. Hang the skirt in the wind upon a dewy morning and let the slight moisture and wind take out the stiffness. Then leave it in a drying breeze. Hang it, finally, in a dry closet.

Filler for Floor Cracks.

"C. W. F. asked for a recipe for filling cracks in the wood floors. I send one which a painter gave me: Get the cheapest grade of cornstarch and mix it to a consistency of putty with boiled oil. Fill the cracks smooth, with a dull knife. My floors were done three years ago last spring and have not cracked yet. "JANE."

The request was, I think, for a formula the correspondent had seen somewhere for a crack filler made of ashes and salt, mixed soft with water. We know of none such, and are, therefore, most grateful to you for a well authenticated recipe which should do the work satisfactorily and without the use of ashes. Your attestation to the durability of the mixture is enough to insure it a place among the tried and true formulas treasured by readers.

Jefferson Davis' Romance.

"An old lady who recollects distinctly things that happened half a century ago and is a perfect mine of anecdote and historical gossip, told us the other day that Jefferson Davis married the daughter of Gen. Zackeray Taylor for his first wife and against the will of her father. Indeed, the opposition on the part of Gen. Taylor was so strong as to make a lasting breach in the family. This was not healed, the venerable narrator went on to say, until Davis' gallantry at the battle of Buena Vista won Gen. Taylor's approval. A reconciliation followed and the parties to the quarrel remained excellent friends to the day of Mrs. Davis' death. Can you tell me if there is any truth in the romance, or is it sheer fiction, like many another fable that has come to be received as history? M. F. G."

The tale was current and generally believed sixty-odd years ago. I, too, have heard it from those who were contemporary with the principal actors in the romance. Our readers may be able to testify to the truth of the main features of the aged gentlewoman's reminiscence. We await answers with lively interest.

Value of Canceled Stamps.

"Have 1 or 2 cent stamps any value after having been used? If so, where can they be taken? I have heard of several clubs and societies that have received money for them, and, as we are a growing club, we would like to make a little pin money for our treasury. "M. S. T."

I, too, have heard of places where canceled stamps are bought by the thousand, but my recollection is too hazy to be trusted. The query will be answered satisfactorily by readers. I register it and your address.

INSURANCE MEN URGED TO ADOPT NEW ARGUMENTS

Instructor in Agency Methods Wants Policy Outlined as Business Proposition.

BY C. M. CARTWRIGHT.

Life insurance men are interested in the position taken by Prof. S. S. Huebner, head of the insurance department in the Wharton school of finance, University of Pennsylvania, who recently published the well known text book, "Life Insurance." He has been making a special study of the subject for some time in order to write his book and also to give lectures.

Dr. Huebner says life insurance should be regarded as a simple, straightforward, necessary business proposition that is expected of every person who has any one depending on him. He says the family should be established and run on a sound business basis. It should be protected against needless bankruptcy. The death or disability of the head of the business should not involve its impairment or dissolution any more than the death of the head of a bank, railroad, or store.

Sees Family a Corporation.

He states that every corporation and firm represents capitalized earning capacity and good will. When men and women are about to organize the business called the family, Dr. Huebner says, there should be a capitalization in the form of a life insurance policy of the only real value and good will behind that business.

Dr. Huebner characterizes life insurance as decidedly creative. He says that it adds to the comfort and wealth of the insured and its purchase is, therefore, a wise act. The increase in the reserve value of the policies of a single American life insurance company last year almost equaled the combined increase in the savings deposits of all the savings banks in the United States. He says that life insurance, therefore, becomes one of the greatest avenues for savings in the country. About one dollar in every thirty-five of the nation's total wealth, real and personal, is now held in trust by life insurance companies.

Big Incentive to Saving.

Dr. Huebner says legal reserve life insurance policies cause people to stick more steadfastly to their resolution to save than do other agencies for the inculcation of thrift.

Dr. Huebner's main concern is insurance for wage earners. He says the aggregate amount of life insurance representing capitalized income, producing power as distinguished from burial insurance carried by the wage earning class, is pitiably small. He believes society should require a minimum of at least $2,000 of life insurance for all who have assumed family responsibilities or who have legal dependents. He thinks that this minimum should be required along the same general lines provided for under the leading workmen's compensation acts now in existence. Permission, he says, should be granted to take insurance either in a stock or mutual life insurance company, a state fund, or a benefit or fraternal society if operated on a sound basis.

New Chicago Concern Forming.

A new company is being organized in Chicago on the legal reserve basis, to be known as the Commonwealth Life. Its authorized capital is $200,000. W. R. Scudder, a life insurance broker, is the main factor back of the company. He recently took charge of the Commonwealth Life, an assessment association, and when the legal reserve company is organized the assessment company will be taken over. He will have charge of the underwriting of the legal reserve company.

The stockholders of the new Chicago company, the Hibernia Fire, will meet today in the Auditorium of the insurance exchange to elect officers. The Illinois department has licensed the company, and business will be commenced tomorrow. James I. Naghten, head of the John Naghten & Co. agency in Chicago, is slated to be president. The Naghten agency will be the general manager of the Hibernia. It has $100,000 stock and about $70,000 net surplus.

U. S.-Canada Fire Loss Rises.

The fire loss in the United States and Canada during the first seven months of the year amounts to $148,790,220, compared with $101,397,800 last year. The Black Tom island disaster in New York City is responsible for about half of the July loss, which was $23,013,800, while last year it was $9,006,800. The seven months' losses this year are just about the same as the record of 1914, when the insurance companies made no profits. In addition to the heavy fire loss, hail losses on growing grain have been extremely severe.

A. J. Dooley, one of the best known advertising men in Chicago, has gone into the life insurance business. He has formed a partnership with John R. McFee, under the name of McFee & Dooley. Mr. McFee is agency counselor of the Penn Mutual Life of Chicago, and the new firm becomes associate manager of the Chicago agency under C. J. McCary & Co., managers.

Star Agents Taking Vacations.

The Illinois Life Insurance Company of Chicago is providing unique entertainment for the members of its $100,000 club. It has arranged to take its men and their families to a camp at Tomahawk Lake, Wis., for three days. There will be a business meeting of the club in Chicago on one day, when various phases of life insurance will be discussed, and then a special train has been engaged to carry the party to Tomahawk Lake. Harold Dyrenforth of Chicago becomes president of the club by virtue of his producing the most business.

The $100,000 club of the Missouri State Life of St. Louis was in Chicago Saturday and in the evening took a boat for a lake trip to the Thousand islands. The $100,000 club of the National Life of Chicago will be held in its home city the latter part of the month. The $100,000 club of the Peoria Life of Peoria, Ill., is spending two weeks at Grand Island, Mich.

Captured as Auto Thief.

William Sharkey, of 2039 Austin avenue was arrested last night while trying to steal an automobile, it is charged, from the garage of Louis Malstir, 1212 North Mayer avenue.

WOMEN'S WEAR.

In the milliner and fabric lines quite a change has come in color styles for fall. Navy is no longer in first place. In fact, the retail demand for this shade is said to have taken quite a slump during the last two weeks. Purple seems to be the leader, though variations of plum are also popular. At a representative fashion show now going on the predominant color is somewhat on the geranium order. One of the large textile houses reports a growing call for terra cotta. Greens are also pronounced good, as are certain shades of brown. The last named color promises to be more popular than for some time.

The jump in cotton has done a lot to stimulate the demand for the finer grades of cotton cloths both in the gray and finished states. Jobbers have become apprehensive of paying higher prices for their spring wash and white goods, and in consequence they are ordering more freely of the lines they neglected when they were in the market. The increased call for the finished goods has been reflected in the demand for gray cloths, but even where this is not the case the converters are taking steps to protect themselves against being caught short with the market at top levels. As a result the call for voiles, lawns, organdies, marquisettes, gabardines, etc., has become very active. Prices have reached such a high point in some cases that the mills are said to be thinking seriously of putting wide looms at work on these cloths, a thing that would cause a nasty money loss if it were done when goods were more plentiful than they are now.

The shoe manufacturers appear to be afraid to stock any of the extreme fall styles at present, because it is too early to tell which of the many things shown will be "it." One large producer of the better grades of footwear has made up black kid vamp and heel foxed laced shoes, with white calf tops, but he is by no means sure of selling them at a profit. Anything on the brown order has been bought, and still is being bought, by dealers. The only difference is that some take calf and others take kid. Still others are buying brown vamps with lighter tops. On the whole, brown is most in demand, next to black.

MEN'S WEAR.

Lines of men's wear fancy worsted suitings are being opened in many quarters and others are due before the close of the week. Advances ranging from 35 to 50 cents a yard over a year ago are shown on standard fabrics at prices up to $2.20 a yard. It is difficult to make comparisons with last year owing to numerous changes in the character of the goods shown. Some of the goods offered appeared to be cheap compared with others, but buyers on examining these goods were quick to discover that they were made of single warp yarns and unusually light as to weight, so much so that it is open to question just what the wearing qualities will be.

Agents handling high grade worsteds have sold a considerable yardage of next season. Several important factors have their mills comfortably sold ahead, in a number of instances 60 to 70 per cent of the production being under contract for the new season.

Buyers have been considering prices named about a week ago on the early lines shown, and are placing contracts of fair size. While agents have been inclined to the belief that buyers objected to paying the prices mills named, this does not appear to be the reason. Hesitation over placing early contracts at opening prices named a week or ten days ago is due largely to a desire to become thoroughly posted before starting operations.

While prices on nearly all lightweight men's fabrics are higher, buyers have a wide range from which to make their selections. There is little doubt that much of the forward business is on low priced fabrics in both woolens and worsteds. Fancy worsteds for suitings and trouserings are being shown by the American Woolen company at prices ranging from $1.05 to $3.25 a yard while all wool fabrics from the Beoll mills are now on the market at $1.30 a yard up. Lines of fancy twist cassimeres are being offered by S. Slater & Sons, Inc., at $1 a yard up to $1.20, and appear to be attracting quite a little attention from buyers.

ATTRIBUTE LULL IN WALL STREET TO CROP LOSSES

Other Factors in Evidence, but Main Cause Is Waiting for Farm Reports.

New York, Aug. 13.—To the great astonishment of many people both in and out of Wall street, trading in stocks early last week fell off until only 120,000 shares changed hands for a full day's business, that is, five hours. Time and time again in the recent past the record of daily stock transactions, as shown by the tape, have exceeded 1,000,000 shares. On one occasion the million and a half mark was almost touched. For Saturday—that is, a two hour day—only 47,000 shares changed hands. Thus, with business in Wall street almost down to the vanishing point, on all sides early last week the question was asked, "What is the matter with the stock market?"

"Look at our foreign trade balance for the fiscal year just ended, two and one-quarter billion, an increase of more than 100 per cent over last year's new high record," the head of one large stock exchange house exclaimed aggressively.

Big Earnings; No Trade.

"Look at the Steel corporation earning eighty-one and one-quarter millions in three months, or as much as was earned during the whole of 1914, with the selling prices of many products up $2 a ton last week, and other advances of $2 this week. Despite that unprecedented situation, Steel common has not fluctuated a whole point in days. Look at your bank clearings, July, June, May, and every other month this year, showing new high records. First look at your record railway reports, now being published, and then look at the stocks of those companies. You can hardly see them move as they drift along. What is the matter with the stock market?"

As for Steel common, today the whole world is clamoring for steel in one form or another, and nowhere in the whole world, including England, France, and Germany, is there such a perfect steel producing machine as the United States Steel corporation. That situation, however, certainly is not being reflected in the market for Steel shares, the price for that stock with the extra dividend on being lower than back in 1909. The same is true for many other lines of industry, especially transportation.

Profits All Discounted.

One thing that has happened to the stock market is that the large steel earnings, the record breaking foreign trade balance, and the war order profits have all been discounted. Another is that the market has been loaded up by foreign liquidation. Another is that, much to the regret of professional speculators, the managers of highly prosperous industrial companies have wisely decided to husband their resources, or as James J. Hill suggested last January: "Treat the unusual earnings now being realized as the gift of a friend, something that will not be repeated."

But there was still something else the matter with the stock market. The real answer to that question came the middle of this week when the government published its crop report as of Aug. 1. That report showed that a great deal of damage had resulted during the heat and drought and floods in July to wheat and corn.

With favorable weather from now on some of the indicated loss will be made up. However, this week's government report made it quite plain that, even with ideal weather conditions from now on, the 1916 crops will be a great disappointment, compared with the expectations of a month ago.

Wait News of the Crops.

In brief, for the past two weeks or more Wall street has been marking time until definite information could be obtained as to the real extent of the crop damage. That information was in the government report handed down Tuesday. So far, however, the indicated loss of 278,000,000 bushels of corn and 358,000,000 bushels of wheat has been ignored by the stock market. In fact, Wall street has turned bullish.

HEARING DATES ARE SET FOR COMPILING FARM LOAN DATA.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—Dates and places were announced tonight for the first thirteen hearings to be held by the farm loan board for compiling information on which it will divide the country into twelve farm loan districts under the new rural credits law and determine the location of a federal loan bank in each.

The intinerary for the west, so far as worked out, with the dates of hearings follows:

Lansing, Mich., Aug. 25.
Madison, Wis., Aug. 26.
Des Moines, Ia., Aug. 28.
Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 30.
St. Paul, Minn., Aug. 31.
Fargo, N. D., Sept. 1.
Helena, Mont., Sept. 2.
Spokane, Wash., Sept. 4.

From Spokane the board will go to Oregon and California, and return across the central part of the continent. Later a trip will be taken through the south.

"The law requires the board to apportion the districts with due regard to the farm loan needs of the country," said a statement issued by the board. "There is a great necessity for the relief which the act contemplates, and the important problem before the board is the determination of the best means of placing all the advantages of the system at the disposal of the farmers. In this connection a close study of farming conditions and farm loan needs in each state will be made.

IMMIGRATION EBBS LOW.

Fewer Aliens Enter U. S. in Year Ending June 30 than in Any Other Since 1898.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 13.—[Special.]—Immigration to the United States during the fiscal year just ended again reached a phenomenally low mark, lower even than that of the first year of the European war. The cause of course, is the compulsory retention of citizens in most European countries.

Immigrant aliens, that is, those aliens who intend to remain in the United States, arriving here in the twelve-month ended June 30 numbered 298,826, comparing with 326,700 a year before, and establishing the lowest record since 1898.

Central Illinois Public Service.

N. A., Knoxville, Ill.—The Central Illinois Public Service company is the largest subsidiary of the Middle West Utilities. It serves communities having a total population of 275,000. Its plants have been brought to a high state of efficiency, current being produced cheaply at large stations and transmitted long distances. Gross and net earnings are increasing rapidly. In 1915 gross was $1,898,985; net, $707,788. Earnings in the current year are increasing at a rate to indicate a total of $2,159,752 gross and $910,752 net. Interest charges are at the rate of a little over $500,000 a year. This leaves double the surplus needed to cover the dividend on $3,225,000 of 6 per cent preferred stock. The latest balance sheet available is that of a year ago. There were outstanding then $826,000 underlying bonds, $4,648,000 of a first and refunding issue, $1,257,000 ten year debentures, and $3,000,000 three year notes. Recently $2,000,000 of these notes and debentures, which were held by the Middle West company, have been exchanged for common stock, par for par, thus putting the preferred stock in a much better position than before.

Stewart Warner.

S. K., Cleveland, O.—The Stewart Warner company recently issued a statement showing profits in the first six months of 1916 at the rate of over 24 per cent a year on $10,000,000 of common stock after allowing for the dividend on $724,000 of preferred stock. Since that statement was issued the preferred stock has been retired, 110 and accrued dividend being paid to the holders. The company has no bonded debt. The balance sheet of June 30 shows total assets of $14,425,908, of which $3,454,008 is working capital and $1,720,774 is real estate and machinery. Patents and good will are carried at $9,096,967, or almost two-thirds of the whole. This is the only weak point in the situation.

Illinois Central.

R. E. B.—The Illinois Central has paid 5 per cent dividends during the last years. In the year ended June 30, it earned 6¼ per cent. In the last year gross increased about 10 per cent, making the largest total ever reached. Net earnings from operation increased over cent and there probably has been crease in "other income," so that the report is issued it is expected between 9 and 10 per cent earned. The stock is now selling at the same Atchison common, which pays 6 per cent. If present large earnings on Illinois Central continue the dividend probably will be increased in 1917. A purchase of stock now would seem to be a speculation on the expected increase of dividend.

BOSTON COPPER NEWS.

Negotiations are said to be on between representatives of Great Britain and her allies and large American copper producers for the entire 1917 requirements of the allied armies.

The present negotiations were taken up subsequent to the refusal by the principal American copper producers to sell at 21c per pound.

In addition to foreign government demand, which now exceeds domestic inquiry, individual French consumers are asking for tenders on December copper. While improvement in foreign demand is a feature, domestic business also is increasing.

Small sales since the first of the month have so depleted supplies that some large sellers are refusing bids for deliveries before November. One agency adds that it will shortly be out of the market for any deliveries this side of December.

"The market is in excellent shape," says one large producer, "and developments over the next few days might surprise consumers who need 1916 copper.

"Negotiations covering huge foreign inquiries for copper are only in the preliminary stage, and it might take some time before actual sales are announced, if they are announced at all. It should be remembered that the big copper sellers of this country are practically sold out of metal to end of this year and naturally contracts for 1917 requirements are in order."

Copper metal for delivery before December is scarce. A big domestic manufacturer has just purchased something like 2,000,000 pounds. The sale to Russia of about 5,000 tons was simply a formal notice of a transaction which had been completed some time ago.

The properties owned outright by the Kennecott Copper corporation produced 96,000,000 lbs of copper in the seven months ended July 31, placing the company well up among the leaders in the copper industry of the United States. Kennecott has a 25 per cent interest in the Utah Copper company and through it a one-eighth ownership in Nevada Consolidated, and was therefore financially interested in the production of over 130,000,000 lbs of copper in the period mentioned, as per the following table:

AUGUST REPORT CONFIRMS LOSS TO WHEAT CROP

Big Advances Scored; Foreigners in Predicament; Supplies Will Be Light.

The government report on spring wheat confirming the radical claims of damage to the spring wheat crop of our northwest, together with substantiated claims of serious crop losses in the Canadian wheat belt, gave prices a sensational advance last week. From the top prices scored recessions were considerable, the market tone, however, being generally strong in view of the extensive realizing sales and rumors that the advance would be the subject of a federal investigation.

Crop losses have been sensational, the government report indicating a spring wheat crop of only 199,000,000 bu, a loss of 104,000,000 bu in a month, while the Canadian crop at present does not promise much better than half as much as last year.

Bullish Situation Shown.

This situation is regarded as extremely bullish. The attitude of the foreigner will be a big factor, but it is the general opinion European buyers lost their opportunity to buy wheat freely in this country when they neglected to buy in May and June, when old crop wheat was offered freely at low prices. Since the crop damage has been established there has been no hurry to sell old wheat.

Leaders in the cash trade are now of the opinion that there will be no surplus wheat this year outside of the big carryover of 18,000,000 bu. From this will have to be deducted stocks for the 1917 carryover. This will leave an extremely small amount for export compared to recent years, while Europe will have to draw more wheat than last year from other countries than Canada.

Tonnage Limits Competition.

As is well known, Argentina and Australia have liberal supplies to export, but it has been equally apparent that tonnage is scarce, with freights prohibitive. The recent advance has made it possible for owners in those countries to sell more profitably, but the scarcity of tonnage is not likely to be remedied immediately, although there were reports Saturday that British government agents were preparing to divert tonnage to other countries owing to high prices and light offerings here.

In spite of the advance in prices foreigners have followed the upturn and premiums also have advanced at the gulf, showing the acute demand for wheat. Canadian markets have advanced commensurately with our markets, and Liverpool spot prices have advanced to an extent that betrays the anxiety of foreign buyers.

Reserve Stocks Are Held.

The general impression is that the much talked of reserve stocks of the allies will not come in competition with current offerings in view of the changed conditions. Two months ago there was much talk to the effect that the British government would unload part of its reserve with the idea of replenishing from the new crop movement from this country.

Farmers are conservative in their selling of winter wheat and mills are paying stiff prices. Kansas and Nebraska have the bulk of our surplus wheat, and the government report cut down the Kansas estimate to 89,000,000 bu. Mills generally have only moderate stocks and the carryover stocks are pretty well distributed.

Bulls in Corn Aggressive.

Rains caused a reaction in corn, but after the selling on this account bulls took up the offerings and there was a further advance. The cash demand is good, with moderate pressure of old corn. Cash prices are strong, and foreigners continue to buy for export in fair sized lots, making a healthier situation. The government report showed a greater loss than expected, but deterioration in many sections was checked by timely rains. In the south and southwest there will be little surplus this year, while the northern sections promise a big yield. Argentine corn is being sold in a moderate way to come to this country.

Strong interests are long corn, and there has been excellent buying on the down turn, while most of the pressure has been from short sellers.

Oats Estimates Lowered.

Oats have reflected the action in other markets. The government report shaded the July estimate considerably, but receipts have been heavy and this has checked buying to some extent, while there was free profit taking by longs following the setback in wheat. Primary receipts for the week were 11,346,000 bu, against 7,453,000 bu last week, and 3,791,000 bu a year ago. Late advices indicated considerable damage in the northwest and in Canada, in the latter country from frosts.

Provisions were strong most of the week, with lard a speculative leader at times. From the top figures there was recessions, hog receipts increasing with the advance in prices. The cash trade is moderately active. Export buying was only of fair proportions. Western receipts of hogs for the week were 439,000, compared to 388,000 a year ago.
